ROUND-UP SOUVENIR EDITION

PENDLETON, OREGON, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1916

A Great
Horse,
But a Better
Cowboy.

Lee Caldwell Riding "Long Tom" For World Championship

To many people the bucking contest represents the cream of the Round-Up program. It portrays in spectacular fashion the struggle between man and horse and the struggle is real. Of all the Round-Up buckers about the hardest to ride is "Long Tom," a big outlaw that has caused many a stout buckaroo to hit the dust. "Long Tom" is not a fancy or showy buckner, but he is a heavy plunger and is generally ridden in the finals. In 1915 Lee Caldwell was given "Long Tom" to ride after he had already mastered several other hard buckers. Caldwell is the only man who ever spurred "Long Tom" without being thrown.
