

30,000 CROWD BREAKS ROUND-UP RECORDS

Even Famous 1912 Attendance Was Surpassed Today

ALLAN DRUMHELLER WINS WORLD CHAMPION RELAY

Frank McCarroll of Boise is New World Champion in Bulldogging Contest.

New champions of frontier sports are being made at Round-Up Park this afternoon as the best of the contestants of the first two days meet each other in the final test of supremacy. And the largest crowd that ever saw any Round-Up, that of 1912 not excepted, is gathered to watch the winning of the new championships.

Long before 1 o'clock the west bleacher was a solid mass of eager humanity and by 1:15 every seat in the east bleachers was taken. The grandstand, for which reserved seats were held, filled more slowly but when the first event took the track there was not a vacant seat in all the huge semi-circle of banked seats, and still there was a stream pouring through the gates. There is standing room only and very little of that. It is estimated that the crowd today will number 30,000.

Two Accidents.
There were two accidents at the show yesterday afternoon. In the steer bulldogging, Fred Spain, who made a spectacular fight in front of the judges stand, received a fractured rib, and in the cowgirls relay race, Bertha Blaneett was thrown and badly bruised. She was just rounding the west turn in the first lap when her saddle slipped and she fell. This of course put her out of the race. Mabel De Long won the event by almost a lap from Edith Irwin and Katie Wilkes finished third. Both of the latter girls had trouble with their horses.

In the pony express, Floyd Irwin sprang a surprise by taking the lead from Allan Drumheller at the start. At the last half of the second relay, Drumheller forced slightly ahead but was put in the rear again when one of his horses got away from his helpers. This made it necessary for him to ride one horse three quarters, and the distance was too much for the animal. Drumheller enters the race today with a handicap of two seconds.

The stagecoach race was again snarled by a mixup, this time to the credit of Curley Saunders. It was exciting enough at that. The Indian races were among the most popular of the day with the crowd which always picked a favorite and cheered him (or her) on.

The cowgirls' pony race was one of the most thrilling races ever pulled on the track. Down the final stretch Mabel De Long, Lola O'Neil and Josephine Robes came with their horses racing abreast and there was not two feet difference between the three when they finished.

CONVICT IS KILLED

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 22.—Penitentiary guards shot and killed convict Earl G. Love while he was attempting to escape this morning. Near the flax fields Love jumped from the prison motor truck and ran across a pasture. Guards Leland T. Murphy and P. G. Heath fired as Love climbed a fence. Both bullets were effective. He died an hour later. Love was serving a three to twenty years' term for assault in Malheur county. The prison authorities said Love tried to escape from the Vale county jail by throwing red pepper into the jailer's eyes. He was the alleged ringleader in a recent plot to stab a motor truck chauffeur and escape when the machine ran away on a downgrade. Love was under indictment in Baker on a charge of forgery.

has a trick rider such as Floyd Irwin been seen at the Round-Up. Both Thursday and yesterday he won many rounds by his agility in leaping over and around his racing horse. Sammy

NORMAL REGENTS CLAIM ANOTHER SCHOOL NEEDED

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 22.—The board of regents of the Oregon Normal schools filed its final draft of a survey made of public instruction Thursday afternoon and in the report to the state superintendent of the necessity of providing additional normal schools in the state is pointed out.

"It is apparent to anyone who has studied the situation that there is need for additional normal school facilities in Oregon," says the report. "The Monmouth school alone cannot care for the number of students who desire to be or who should be enrolled in normal schools within the next two or three years and it will be necessary to send Oregon students to Washington and California for training—a practice which is not only economically disadvantageous to the state but highly disadvantageous from the standpoint of professional and school spirit throughout the state."

WESTWARD HO! PARADE GIVES OLD TIME JOY

Rangeland Rides in Review Before Monster Crowd; Indians Gorgeous.

COLOR EFFECT WONDERFUL

Many Bands Put Life Into Showing That Amazes Eastern Visitors; Queen Muriel Presented Crown by Col. J. H. Raley; Ourselves Vie With Riders for Public Attention.

Another triumph of pageantry was achieved by the Round-Up this morning in the seventh annual Westward Ho parade which passed through the main street of the city between 10 and 11 this morning. It moved through a lane banked fifteen feet deep on each side with eager, admiring spectators. The old west was faithfully depicted as the parade passed by. Cowboys and cowgirls, many of them and all picturesque, hundreds of Indians from the Umatilla, Cayuse, Walla Walla and Nez Perce tribes and all painted, befeathered and bedecked in brilliant finery, stagecoaches, oldtime freighters, immigrant wagons, a train of pack mules and other features of the old west were in the line of march. There were six bands in the parade, too, the Round-Up mounted cowboy band, the La Grande Elks' band, the O-W, R. & N. employes band of Portland, the Weston, Athena and Milton bands. Four of the bands occupied floats.

Queen is Crowned.
Well toward the lead of the parade was the queen's float in the shape of a gigantic saddle in the same design as the Round-Up prize saddle. On this throne sat Miss Muriel Saling, the Queen of the Round-Up. As her float reached the corner of Main and Alta it stopped and, with the directors on horseback surrounding the big saddle, Col. J. H. Raley, representing them, placed upon Queen Muriel's head the Round-Up crown, a big sombrero hat. Moving picture machines ground away, cowboys tipped and the crowd cheered as Miss Saling accepted her fourth crown of the year. She had previously acted as queen of the Portland Rose Festival, of the Columbia Highway and of the Astoria Regatta.

Another new feature of the Westward Ho of this year were the school children in Indian and cowboy costume. They brought up the rear and under the direction of Adah Lash Rose and Walter Rose, they went through drill figures and sang the official Round-Up song.

The parade as usual was led by Jinks Taylor of Athena, bearing the American flag, and the Round-Up pennant bearers. Trumpeters announced the coming of the pageant. The directors rode in a body and on the foremost stagecoach were J. Roy Raley, first president of the Round-Up and F. C. Harley, chairman of the Astoria Regatta.

Outlaws Are Shown.
The best of the Round-Up bucking horses were in the parade with their names displayed on cardboard fastened in their manes. They were led by cowboys.

The parade was managed and directed by Claude Penland and maintained the high standard set by past Round-Up parades.

CONVENTION OF GROCERS OVER

The annual convention of the Oregon retail merchants' association was brought to a close today with the election of officers for the ensuing year. The convention voted to hold their next meeting at Salem in February during the session of the legislature.

The principal address of the meeting was given by R. B. Bain, sales manager of the Closes & Devers company of Portland, who spoke on "The Program of the Coffee Peddler." The officers of the organization are: U. S. G. Miller, Newberg, vice president; George Custer of Silverton, E. S. Larsen of Oregon City, and A. R. Harrison of St. Helens; treasurer, D. J. Van Syke of Portland; directors at large, John Laing of Pendleton, J. W. Saldwell of Portland, and E. M. Ebbey of Salem. The convention was largely attended and was one of the very most successful ever held.

CAPACITY CROWD ENJOYS HAPPY CANYON PROGRAM

A throng which taxed the seating and standing capacity of "the town" to the limit crowded into little old Happy Canyon last night to enjoy the third day of its existence. Between 4000 and 5000 paid admissions were received and there were more than 1000 in addition among the performers and assistants. As soon as the sands of people sandwiched themselves through the doors of the dancing hall.

The program last night was perfect in all respects. Thrill after thrill followed each other in rapid succession, and the large good natured crowd were thoroughly pleased with it all. Happy Canyon will close tonight in a gay whirl. The largest crowd ever is certain to be in attendance. The doors will be open at 7 o'clock. There will be a grand rush at the various gambling devices to spend all of their bucks before the reign of the wild town has been brought to a close for another year.

COWBOYS ARE RIDING TODAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF WORLD

Fourteen of the best riders in the west are this afternoon riding the worst horses in the Round-Up string for the title of champion of the world and for the $500 purse and $250 saddle that goes with the title. They were chosen last night from among the riders of the first two days. From the fourteen who ride in the semi-finals the judges will select three to ride for the three places. Lang Tom, Ansel, Speedball, Cuddeback and Wardaloo, champion buckers, are being reserved for the final tests. Three of the riders selected were from the Thursday contest, six from the contests of yesterday morning and five from yesterday afternoon. John
