The French captured a trench on the west bank of the Struma. The allied left wing advanced near the river Broda.

The Serbians have reached the frontier of the mountain crest and there is heavy fighting north of Krasograd. The French seized houses on the outskirts of Peterak and progressed north of Florina. The Rumanians captured the strongly fortified hill nine sixteen.

On the Somme front there was violent artillery fire on both sides of the river. There was unimportant infantry fire. Northeast of Verdun the Germans attacked armored trenches east of Chapire woods but were easily checked.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Sir Douglas Haig reported the Germans continued powerfully counter attacking on the Somme last night. There was heavy artillery fire. The attack on east Courcellette was repulsed. North of Neuve Chapelle the British mined enemy trenches.

BUCHAREST, Sept. 25.—It is announced the Rumanians have captured sixty eight hundred prisoners north and northwest on the Transylvanian front. They progressed on the north and northwestern fronts along to Danube in Dobruja.

Russian detachments enabled the Rumanians to halt the Teuton invasion. Russians are reported as far west as Orsova. The Dobruja battle is diminishing. The allies were defeated east of Vardar in Macedonia. Both wings are pressing forward. The Serbians are attacking strong Bulgarian defensive systems south of Kenal near Monastir.

ROME, Sept. 25.—The Italians have cut the Trieste water supply. The war office did not reveal how the supply was cut but it appears probable that the Italian advance near Montefalcone thirteen miles north of Trieste accomplished the severance.

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—It is announced a Zeppelin again bombarded Bucharest. The Russo-Rumanian Teuton fighting is continuing at Dobruja. Line runs south of Coloschia to Topraisar. Rumanian attacks on the Volkan pass in Transylvania, failed.

NORMAL REGENTS CLAIM ANOTHER SCHOOL NEEDED

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 23.—The board of regents of the Oregon Normal schools filed its final draft of a survey made of public instruction Thursday afternoon and in the report appraised the normal school conditions to the state superintendent of which a paragraph in which the necessity of providing additional normal schools in the state is pointed out.

"It is apparent to anyone who has studied the situation that there is need for additional normal school facilities in Oregon," says the report. "The Monmouth school alone cannot care for the number of students who desire to be or who should be enrolled in normal schools within the next two or three years and it will be necessary to send Oregon students to Washington and California for training—a practice which is not only economically disadvantageous to the state but highly disadvantageous from the standpoint of professional and school spirit throughout the state."

HAPPY CANYON AGAIN MAKES BIG SUCCESS

Receipts for Last Three Evenings Will Go a Long Way Toward Paying for New Pavilion.

The third annual Happy Canyon was a big success, both as an entertainment for the Round-Up crowds during the evening and a self-supporting institution.

During the last three evenings the new pavilion was crowded to capacity and the receipts from seat and buck sales was very satisfactory. With surplus of the past two years, the income this year will go a long way toward paying for the new pavilion as well as the expenses of the entertainment. There will probably be a deficit of several thousand dollars but the directors believe this will be wiped out in another year.

The show from an entertainment standpoint made a big hit with home people and visitors and many hundreds were turned away during the last two nights. Considering the handicap the committee was under this year, their undertaking was a huge success.

The attendance Saturday night was the largest of the four nights and would have been much larger had there been more room for accommodation. And yet, so great was the crowd in town that the 5000 or 6000 at Happy Canyon was not missed from the streets. Other amusement places were crowded and still there was a surging crowd making its noisy way up and down the street until past midnight.

The special trains began leaving at 10:45 and by midnight several thousand had departed for their homes. The La Grande and Journal specials left at 11 o'clock with ringing cheers for Pendleton and the Round-Up and the Walla Walla people who left at 10:45 were hardly less enthusiastic.

ASHBAUGH CASE IS BEFORE THE JURY

When the circuit court reconvened this morning the case of L. B. Ashbaugh vs. the O-W, R. & N. Co., growing out of the death of Mrs. Ashbaugh in December, 1914, was brought up for a jury trial. Mr. Ashbaugh is suing for $7500 damages for the death of his wife which he alleges was caused by the negligence and carelessness of the company.

Mrs. Ashbaugh was run over by a train when she attempted to crawl under it. The train blocked Main street of Echo and she wished to get to the depot. The train started just as she was crawling under.

The selecting of the jury and the reading of the case took up the morning and this afternoon the taking of testimony began. Miss Eliza Thomson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ava B. Thomson, was one of the first witnesses and testified that she had crawled under the train before it ran over Mrs. Ashbaugh.

Judge James A. Fee and Col. J. H. Raley are attorneys for the plaintiff while C. E. Cochran of Portland and C. H. Carter of this city are representing the railroad.

CHAMPION HAS MADE LAST SAY

Jackson Sundown, new world's champion broncho buster, will quit riding bucking horses. He stated this morning that he will never enter another bucking contest.

Sundown, who is past fifty, is pretty sore today for the severe shaking Angel gave him and he is suffering from a cold. He figures he is too old to stay in the game but he intends to train other Indians for the contests. He has some bucking stock at his home in Mash and will teach some of the young Indians how to ride.

An interesting sidelight upon the Indian champion's character was furnished this morning when he went to Hamley & Co.'s store to claim the $250 prize saddle. When asked what inscription he wanted on the silver plate, he asked that his wife's name be engraved on it. It was explained that the name of the winner must be placed on it.

The Round-Up this afternoon had a picture taken of Sundown in his prize saddle and wearing the gold belt he won as all-around champion.

AUTO FATALITIES IN AMERICA IN ONE YEAR GREATER THAN TOTAL ZEPPELIN CASUALTIES

Despite Improved Traffic Laws, Appalling Accidents Are Increasing—More Draconic Legislation Urged in Some States—Complete Figures Not Available.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—United Press statistics showed that more people were killed and injured in American cities streets by automobiles this year than the total Zeppelin casualties. Chicago and New York lead with two hundred casualties each between January first and September first.

Other cities' fatalities were proportionately high, varying according to population. The figures show a constantly growing death list, despite improved traffic laws. More drastic legislation is urged in New York. A total of ten hundred and forty were killed and over eight thousand injured in the largest cities. The complete toll might show double that number.

CITY RESUMING NORMAL LIFE HOSTS OF VISITORS GO HOME ROUND-UP GETS NEW LAURELS

Pendleton is today the hub after the storm. The many thousands of visitors here for the seventh annual Round-Up have nearly all departed for their homes, only a few straggling cowboys are to be seen and the Indians have folded up their tents and returned to their reservations. The may decorations which carbed the city during the past week have all been taken down and only the litter left by celebrants and the never-ending discussion of the big show are left to remind Pendleton of the greatest Round-Up of her history.

It is too early yet for the Round-Up directors to give actual figures on the attendance and receipts. However, the attendance for the three days was close about the 20,000 mark. The receipts, it is believed, will be ample to cover the expenses of the exhibition and leave a balance for the preparation for the 1917 Round-Up.

There never was a better Round-Up performance than that of Saturday in the opinion of many who have seen every one of the 21 performances and it is certain that every man, woman and child of the thousands here left with enthusiasm at a high note.

More national publicity of the Round-Up than was ever received before is predicted as a result of the show of 1916. Not only were there several magazine writers present but there were many distinguished visitors, such as Louis Hill, president of the Great Northern, whose influence will be a big boost for the Pendleton frontier festival. The Round-Up directors, each and every one of them, are being treated in the highest terms for the results of their efforts and, while many of them wish to retire from the directorate they will undoubtedly meet with a universal demand for their continuance on the board.
