ITCHING ECZEMA ON BOY'S NECK
In Small Water Blisters, Itching Became Burning Torturing Pain, Skin Cracking Open.
HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Eczema first appeared in small water blisters forming a crust on my boy's neck and around his left ear. The surrounding surface of the skin would be reddish, feverish looking spots and the itching was very evident. After a time the itching gave way to a burning, torturing pain and the skin was red, dry and hard, cracking open and causing frightful sore eruptions. He was treated but without any results and the rash spread to all parts of his body. Then we used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After a time good results were evident and after treating for about six months with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment he was healed." (Signed) Andrew B. Dickson, Cortina, Utah, Oct. 27, 1915.

Keep your face young by the daily use of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment.

CAPE ST. ELIAS LIGHT STATION IN ALASKA

New Guide for Mariners Is Characterized by a Double White Flash Every Twenty Seconds.

The Cape St. Elias Light Station, Alaska, was placed in commission on September 4, 1914 and the temporary light discontinued. This station is located on the south end of Alaskan Island, in a cove about 41 feet above sea level. The tower is square and supports a cast-iron watch room and second order lantern, whose focal plane is 44 feet above sea level. The tower rises above the roof of the fog-signal building from one of its ends. On a terrace east and north of this building are located the cooling tanks for the engines, the fuel-oil and kerosene-oil tanks, oil tanks, the dwelling with quarters for three keepers (mess only) and the boat and hoisting-engine house with an inclined railway to the sea level. There is a system of roads, trails, sewers, drains, etc., about the building which are of reinforced concrete and hollow terra-cotta tile where the latter is practicable. The illuminating apparatus consists of a three-month lamp in a third-order, double-flashing lens of 180,000 candlepower, and the range due to its elevation is 15 1/4 nautical miles. The metal superstructure of the tower, including the watch room, gallery, and helical staircase lantern, was an exhibition at the Panama-Pacific international exposition in San Francisco during 1915. The fog signal, which will be placed in commission at an early date, consists of a 4-inch automatic compressed air horn, in duplicate, each with a trumpet with a two-way wench. The machinery, including the necessary air tanks and pipes, was also exhibited at San Francisco. The characteristic of the light is a double white flash every 20 seconds. That of the fog signal will be a double white flash of a second each every minute.

This lighthouse will be one of the most important on the coast of Alaska, as it is the land's first light westward bound to Prince William Sound or Cook Inlet from either the Pacific coast of the United States or northwestern Alaska. It has been constructed by the lighthouse service directly, which has maintained a force during the past few seasons at a remote spot.

A gas whistling and submarine bell buoy was placed off this Cape on May 19, 1914, and an automatic gas light has also been maintained on an off-lying rock during the construction of the lighthouse.

FAIRBANKS WILL SPEAK IN PORTLAND ON OCT. 4

Henry D. Estabrook is Also Down on Campaigners List.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 27.—Chas. W. Fairbanks will speak in Portland October 4.

The republican candidate for vice president will arrive in this city at 1:30 p. m. from California and will leave for the north at 11:30 o'clock the next day. In the evening after conferring with the campaign managers he will deliver an address. Information that Fairbanks is coming to the Pacific coast was received here today from the speakers' bureau in Chicago by E. D. Baldwin, secretary of the state central committee. Judging from the response received, the Portland speech will be the only one that the former vice president will make in Oregon, as no other dates are mentioned. Henry D. Estabrook, who was a dark horse candidate for the republican nomination for president, is also to speak in Oregon, but no positive date has been set. Mr. Estabrook is considered one of the best orators in the country.

MAN SUDDENLY HIT BY FREAK MALADY

suffers Lapse of Discretion for Four Hours and Races Auto Up and Down Main Street of Haverhill.

HAVENHILL, Sept. 27.—Willie Nikola, 27 years old, a shoe factory employe of 11 Tremont street, suffered some peculiar but active malady for four hours today, during which he raced automobiles and horses through the streets. He "found himself" in the early afternoon, at the city infirmary and was at a loss to explain his singular experience. Dr. H. M. Crittenden, city physician, said he was unable to explain the case.

Nikola, without explaining his purpose, suddenly left his workshop at 10 o'clock this morning and rushed over Lincoln avenue to a spot near the high school playground, a distance of two miles. He then took off his coat and vest, and laying them on the sidewalk, walked into the street.

An automobile moved along the street and Nikola raced it up the thoroughfare. He raced autos and horses until the police were summoned, when he was taken to the city infirmary. About 2 o'clock this afternoon he got control of his faculties. He later went to his home, seeming to be in good mental condition.
