wooly west to line up votes for Hughes have designs on more than the feminine political contingent out this way. A press dispatch telling of the departure from Gotham reveals the fact that a famous actress, Marie Dressler, led the cheering on the train and danced a war dance from the rear platform as the train pulled out for the "hinterland."
That there should be a cheer leader accompanying the train is reasonable enough. There may be times at some of the Hughes meetings when a little professional pep making will come in handy. But why the need of a dancing comedienne if as announced the New York ladies are journeying forth for the purpose of rounding up the country women vote. Are they also bringing some cigars along for our wives, sweethearts and mothers?

A PRODUCER
TO have carried off first honors in turkey raising for two successive years at the state fair is the record of Carmine Jones of McKay creek. It is a record to be proud of. At an age when most girls are qualifying in the art of spending money young Miss Jones is making good in a line of production that means financial profits as well as better Thanksgiving Day dinners and therefore happier homes throughout the land. She is in a worthy line of endeavor and no doubt finds much pleasure in her work. Happiness is a state of mind and is more likely to be acquired by giving that by getting.

DON'T FORGET TO REGISTER
THERE are such vital issues involved in the coming election that no one should fail to register and vote.

THE INHERITED MEXICAN PROBLEM
THE republican campaigners, from the fault-finding Hughes down to the humblest cross-roads statesman, have nothing to say of the Mexican problem save during Wilson's administration. They carefully ignore everything before March 4, 1913, and one short, non-committal sentence covers all they dare say of the future if Hughes is elected.
They never mention the "humiliating" incident of the American citizen taking out a certificate of registration from the British Consulate at the City of Mexico to secure protection to his property. But this happened when Roosevelt, the Dougherty, was president in 1908.
They never refer to the letter President Taft in 1911 wrote the governor of Arizona, who had telegraphed him that unless the American government acted, the people of Douglas, Ariz., would have to vacate the town: "I cannot order the troops to cross the border, but must ask you and the local authorities, in case of danger occurs again, to direct the people of Douglas to place themselves where bullets cannot reach them."

If one finds cowardice in dealing patiently with Mexico, can he find anything more cowardly than this?
It was Senator Stone, democratic, of Missouri, who first insisted that President Taft be authorized to employ force to restore order in Mexico, and it was Senator Root, republican, of New York, the ablest champion of Hughes and a bitter critic of Wilson, who said then that even a threat of force would be "to reverse the policy of the United States and take a step backward in the path of civilization." And Senator Lodge, republican, of Massachusetts, backed him up.
The Mexican problem has been a national, not a party problem, ever since the passing of Diaz. Able and honest men of both parties have agreed and disagreed over it—have agreed and disagreed with their own party heads over it. It should be dealt with by the people as it has been dealt with by our president—thoughtfully, conscientiously, justly.

A GAME PARSON
ALL true sports will regret that the betting bout between Mayor Beall and Parson Kenny of Alton has been called off. It looked for a while as if the mayor and the preacher were going to have a fight to the finish with $100 bills, which would have been a sight worth going all the way to Alton to see.
Betting parsons are so rare that many of our best people have never seen one. And parsons who bet a hundred at a throw are as infrequent as the visits of the famous Piasa Bird. Preacher Kenney is the hundred-at-a-throw kind. When he feels like betting he says, "Betcha hundred," and the short sports have to say "good evening" and go home.
The preacher discovered the other day that there was a difference between him and the mayor as to whether ten saloons had been open in Alton

LEADING A BLIND SOLDIER TO PADDLE

Visitors at one of the homes in England for blind soldiers lead them out on the beach to paddle. This photograph shows a little girl who is acting as the guide for one of the men who lost his sight in the trenches on a certain Sunday. The preacher asserted that the ten were open. The mayor said they were shut and the preacher didn't know what he was talking about and the truth was not in him.

The preacher said he had a hundred to say that the ten were open and invited the mayor to match him, the loser's hundred to go to charity. The mayor wrote a piece for the Alton paper which was filled with beautiful thoughts and intimated that he was going to cover the preacher's hundred but next day, when the preacher wanted to meet him and his backers and fix up the articles of agreement the mayor and his hundred did not show up. So charity loses a hundred and all true sports miss the betting match of the mayor and the preached.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin EFFECTIVE AS A REMEDY FOR CONSTIPATION.
Among older people the various organs of the body have a tendency to slow up and weaken, and this is usually first manifest in a pronounced inactivity of the bowels.
Good health is dependent on regularity in this important function; whenever there is the slightest indication of constipation a mild laxative should be taken to relieve the congestion and dispose of the accumulated waste. Cathartics or purgatives should not be employed, however; these are too violent in action and their effect is only temporary.
A mild laxative such as the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the ideal remedy. It is gentle in its action, bringing relief in an easy, natural manner, without griping or other pain or discomfort, is pleasant to the taste, and can be obtained in any drug store.

DOES NOT RECOMMEND ANY MAKE OF TRACTOR
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—There have come to the attention of the United States Department of Agriculture items appearing in the press which are so framed as to give readers the impression that the department in its publications has praised or recommended a farm tractor of a particular make.
As the department has not done this and, in fact, systematically refrains from recommending any particular make of tractor or other machine, the public is warned to regard as false any statement asserting or insinuating such recommendation by the department.

Detectives are working on the theory that Ritzler was ambushed as the result of a quarrel which he had with an unidentified man last Friday night.
Across the street from the Ritzler home are city dumps which are deserted at night. Ritzler was talking to his child when the shot came. Police searched the vacant lot within a few minutes, but found no one.
