

Do You Believe In Fairies?

Do you believe in fairies? Do you believe that you are guiding your own destiny through life or do you think that there are invisible little creatures who bend you to their wills as they flit mysteriously through the air?

These were some of the questions which an interviewer asked of dainty little Marguerite Clark as the smallest elf of screenland sat in the Famous Players studio waiting for her next scene in the Paramount Picture "Little Lady Eileen."

But why the reference to fairies? Because Miss Clark is appearing in this production in the role of a little Irish lassie who profoundly believes in fairies. She knows that they exist because she can see them—even though her lover cannot. And she knows that it is the fairies who are guiding her to her true love.

But does Miss Clark really believe in such things in this matter-of-fact day of ours? The little star's eyes open very wide and her tiny head is cocked at a very thoughtful angle for an instant and then she replies:

"Why—of course I do! What is all this mysterious substance which we so wisely call electricity? Do we really know what it is? Do you know that even such great experts as Steinmetz and Edison frankly confess that they do not actually know what electricity is, despite the fact that they have chained it and forced it to do their bidding and made it the slave of mankind?"

"But how do we know but what these wizards of our time are only crafty men who have discovered—not a lot of tremendous formulas—but the secret key to fairyland, and that they are simply forcing the fairies to obey them, like the conjurers of old? And when the secret is finally disclosed, are we not going to find that all the thousands of miles of wire were merely used to deceive us and that the thing which we have called Electricity is in reality the Queen of the Fairies who has been enslaved by these wizards?" The interviewer gasped—until he delected a mischievous twinkle in Clark's eye as she skipped lightly over to the setting at a sign from J. Searle Dawley, her remarkably clever director. Then he decided that somebody had been making game of his credulity!

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

C. M. Bishop of Pendleton, is registered at Hotel Portland, Portland, Oregon.

Hon. J. E. Cronin has been up from Portland during the past week. He was joined by Mrs. Cronan on Wednesday, who came up from Portland to meet her new daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank E. Cronan—Jone Itens.

The parent-teacher association of the high school will meet Monday evening at 7:30 at the high school. Discussion will center about the Boys Forum and high school amusements and there will be some entertainment provided.

An afternoon over the bridge tables was the enjoyable form of a diversion chosen by Mrs. Ed Williams, who entertained yesterday in honor of Mrs. E. E. Faine who is leaving soon to make her home in Wyoming. Two tables were in play, the honors for the highest score falling to Mrs. Herbert Greene. Those who participated in Mrs. Williams' hospitality were Mrs. N. D. Swarlinen, Mrs. T. D. Taylor, Mrs. Charles Bond, Mrs. Herbert Greene, Mrs. John Vaughan, Mrs. W. N. Matlock, Mrs. Stockes and the honor guest.

The Early Literature of Russia formed an interesting topic for discussion at the meeting of the Current Literature Club which was held yesterday in the club room of the county library. Mrs. H. E. Hingo and Mrs. L. U. Temple were the hostesses of the occasion and the following excellent program was presented:
 Paper: Folklore, Legends, Fairy Tales; Epic Cycles and Chronicle. (a) Cycle of Older Heroes; (b) Cycle of Younger Heroes; by Mrs. James Johns Jr.

Group of Folk Songs, including the Russian National hymn; Miss Echer

South, accompanied by Miss Olga Norgen.
 Oral Sketch: The Poet Rushkin. Reading from his poetry, by Mrs. C. S. Jerard.
 Paper: Early Literature to 1850, by Mrs. H. E. Beckers, and a Reading, From "The Great Coat," by Mrs. Norborne Berkeley.
 A particularly pleasant social hour followed the program, the tea table being presided over by Mrs. E. B. Aldrich and Mrs. James S. Johns, with Mrs. T. M. Henderson and Mrs. Roy Haley assisting the hostesses.

Miss Pauline Rice is spending the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Rice. Miss Rice is a student at Whitman college.

Mrs. R. Alexander is spending a few days in Hermiston with her daughter, Mrs. E. P. Dodd.

Mrs. Marion Jack has returned from The Dalles where she attended the Oregon Congress of Mothers.

Mrs. George H. Shanard and Mrs. James Johns Sr., are spending the day in Walla Walla where they are attending the Harvest Home Festival.

Mrs. A. J. McAllister is visiting with friends in Walla Walla.

W. H. McKinney and family of Healy are spending the winter in Kansas City.

John Bauer, Walla Walla lawyer has been here today on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Blakely, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Thompson and Miss Thelma Thompson motored over to Walla Walla this morning.

Mrs. J. C. Ghorst, Mattie Eyre and Dollie Gray of La Grande are registered at the St. George.

ADORABLE MARGUERITE CLARK AT THE ALTA

Famous Players Star Her in "Little Eileen."

"Come in, dear, and meet your future husband." If you were a little girl suddenly taken out of school and your father thus summoned you into his library, wouldn't your knees fairly creak with fright and wouldn't you feel like turning and running as fast as you could? And if the man to whom you were introduced as your future husband leered at you in a terrifying way wouldn't you wish that some good fairy would show you the way to escape from this man? See the picture at the Alta tomorrow.

Notice to Parents.

Dr. F. H. Sturdivant of Portland, a specialist in straightening children's teeth, will be in rooms 1 and 2, Judd building, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. He will see all old and new patients at that time.—Adv.
