GERMANS BUILT DEFENSE TUNNEL

WONDERFUL STRUCTURE IS DISCOVERED BY FRENCH NEAR CHILLY.

Expert Miners Had Been Brought From Germany And It Represented 6 Months' Work—Supplies and Munitions As Well as Men Had Passageway.

(By Henry Wood, United Press Correspondent.)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES BEFORE CHAULNES, Oct. 14.—(By Mail.)—The present encircling movement of the French armies about Chaulnes is similar to the ones so successfully employed in the capture of Comblies, Thiéval and other important centers at the northern extremity of the offensive.

The capture of Chilly, brought to light one of the most striking examples that has yet been found of the extremes of organization and effort to which the German general staff has gone in its effort to cling to the occupied soil of France.

Following the capture of Chilly, the French troops found at the depth of forty to sixty feet below the surface a tunnel more than half a mile in length constructed with the headquarters of the commanding officer in Chilly to the front line German trenches then well in advance of the village.

For the construction of this tunnel, expert miners had been brought from Germany and it represented not less than six months of their work. By its use the Germans were able to send not only their men into the front line trenches, but also all munitions and supplies, without exposing a single man to the constant French bombardment.

Although the Germans are now driven considerably beyond Chilly they are still near enough to keep up a terrible bombardment and struggle in a last desperate effort to win back the tunnel which is now serving the French fully as well as it formerly served the Germans.

I was enabled to enter the tunnel from one of the exits it had in the German first line positions and traverse its entire half-mile length to the village of Chilly in the rear, conditions of utter security from the German bombardment, which never ceased.

The descent into the tunnel was by

WOMAN A PHYSICAL WRECK

Tells in Following Letter How She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a physical wreck. I had been going to a doctor for several years but he did me no good. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I decided to give it a fair trial, and it gave me relief from bearing down pains which had been so bad that I would have to lie down. I also used the Sanative Wash and it has done me a great deal of good, and I am not troubled with a weakness any more."—Mrs. F. L. BRILL, 1299 Booth Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

The most successful remedy for woman's ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test for forty years, which would be impossible if it did not have genuine merit.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE TO HAIR.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll set a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome man and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

three successive flights of stairs, for the Germans naturally figuring that their first line positions would suffer the heaviest bombardment, had sunk the tunnel at that point to a depth of sixty feet. Here at the bottom of the stairway and at the end of the tunnel was grouped off half a dozen chambers with sleeping and eating facilities for the soldiers when off duty, when the trenches were being too violently bombed to remain above, and for the troops who might be called upon to defend the tunnel in case the trenches above should be taken.

These rooms were now occupied by the French "poules" who had converted all of the arrangements both for the comfort and defense of the original German owners to their own use.

Entering the tunnel proper, I found it entirely walled up with heavy timber, the ceiling high enough to permit the troops to pass without stooping down, and with a narrow gauge railway running the entire length for the hurrying of munition to the front line of trenches.

Pipes for mechanical ventilation as well as electric light wires ran the full length of the tunnel. The plants at forty feet below the surface earth, had been destroyed by the Germans at the moment of capture.

Groping on through the tunnel, through the foul air, and lighted only by candles and pocket flash lights, I found the floor was strewn with half eaten loaves of black bread which the Germans had evidently flung frantically down when the word was passed that the French had taken the position above.

Potatoes were strewn over the floor of the tunnel, as were also innumerable empty mineral water, wine and beer bottles with which the tunnel appeared to have been lavishly stocked.

From both sides of the tunnel sleeping rooms branched off, and the bunks in these contained still the shoes, coats, caps and other articles of clothing just as the Germans had left them at the moment of surprise.

A little farther on was a widened portion that had been the dressing room and surgical station for the wounded, Germans wounded in the French bombardment that preceded the infantry assault and even when the French had swept over the position, had apparently been hastily taken down into the tunnel and given first attention at this station. Blood stained bandages still lay scattered about the dressing tables and bunks as did also various surgical instruments and appliances.

In several places along the sides of the tunnel walls had been sunk so that in case of siege a supply of fresh water would be available.

The approach to the other end of the tunnel that comes out in Chilly was marked as at the end where I had entered by the groups of chambers.

The "piece de resistance" came at the end of the tunnel where it opened into the underground apartment of the German officer who had commanded the position. Although his apartment was forty feet below the surface of the earth all of the rooms were plastered in white, and perfect in all appointments even to a bath room and a well stocked wine cellar. Of the latter, only the empty bottles remained, but they were almost countless.

ELECTION BETTING IS HANDLED FOR HUGHES

Money is Spent in Lavish Manner to Bolster up Precarious Hopes of G. O. P.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Experienced observers are convinced that the election betting in all states is being manipulated in the interest of Hughes. The change from even money, the condition which prevailed a few days ago to ten to eight and even ten to seven in favor of Hughes has been too precipitate to admit of any other explanation. This theory is borne out by the lavish manner in which wealthy backers of Hughes are spending money to advance his cause, the most patent manifestation of which is furnished by the pages of advertising in newspapers throughout the country.

"Those who have had any experience at all with the betting market are convinced that it has been rigged," said the New York Globe, republican paper supporting Hughes, in its market review tonight. "It is indeed an open question whether speculative interests which a week ago wanted to get stocks down and the week have been anxious to get them up, have been manipulating the betting odds. There is no law against matched orders in the betting ring."

Every one who realizes what is at stake in this election knows that Wall street could well afford to spend $10,000,000 to return the republicans to power, in the confident expectation

TAKES FISHES, LEAVES BABIES

Husband's Absence Less Regretted Than Loss of Fluffy Pets.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—She came into the court of domestic relations today, a baby in her arms, another a little older tugging at her frayed skirt. A mother, sobbing.

"I didn't mind so much his abandonment of myself and the children as I did the theft of my goldfishes," she said between her tears. "He left his old clothes and took my goldfishes."

Now the police are looking for Albert Michonovitz.

MEXICO CITY MAN BOOSTS FOR WILSON

Americans in Carranza Capital Say President's Policy is Best Presented.

DENVER, Nov. 3.—That Woodrow Wilson's Mexican policy is regarded in Mexico City as a right good proposition, rather than the horrid thing which the republicans, Roosevelt et al., would paint, is proved in a letter received by John T. Barnett, democratic national committeeman for Colorado. Robert B. Murray is the writer and he announces the formation in the Mexican capital of a Woodrow Wilson club.

Men formerly identified with the democratic, republican and progressive parties in the United States are members. They cannot help in the election, but they have banded together, according to the Murray letter, to promote the interests of the Wilsonian brand of democracy wherever they may be.

The club, following its organization, sent this cablegram to President Wilson: "The Woodrow Wilson club of Mexico City, organized to keep alive and encourage under a friendly for-ign flag the principles of true democracy, Americanism and progressive popular government, respectfully salutes you and prophesies your merited and triumphant re-election."

The officers of the club are W. W. Blake, chairman; George R. Hackley, vice chairman; William P. Wood, chairman of the executive committee; William B. Stephens, treasurer, and Robert H. Murray, secretary. Permanent headquarters have been opened in Mexico City.
