ASPIRANTS FOR SPEAKERSHIP ARE COMING FORWARD

FORCES GATHERING FOR ORGANIZED BATTLE TO LEAD LEGISLATURE

Umatilla County Man Among Those Out to Gain Speakership of the House.

PORTLAND, Nov. 18.—With the election returns barely cold, members of the Oregon house and senate are plunging into the organization battle for the election of a president of the senate and speaker of the house.

The defeat of W. Lair Thompson, former president of the senate and who was an announced candidate for reelection as president in event of his return to the senate, has very materially switched the battle lines, since it has strengthened the geographical claims of up-state contenders for the speakership, two of whom began to wage their warfare long before their election, and therefore have some lead over other candidates who were not so forward in their claims for preferment.

Moser Has Hopes.

Thompson's defeat also has given added hope to Gus Moser of Multnomah, who, as a holdover senator announced his candidacy months ago, and who believes that the removal of Thompson from the field gives him a better opportunity, particularly since Stanford of Umatilla and Deane of Lane seem now to be the leading aspirants for the speakership.

Moser of Multnomah, C. L. Hawley of Polk, and B. L. Eddy, newly elected senator from Douglas were all outspoken in their efforts to land the presidency of the upper house, while Senator Wood of Washington, the dean of the senate in point of service; Conrad P. Olson of Multnomah and W. T. Vinton of Yamhill are probable candidates.

Possible Candidates Named.

Aside from Stanford and Deane, who are announced candidates for the speakership, A. C. Callan, John M. Mann and K. K. Kubli, all of Multnomah county, are being spoken of as possible candidates.

The Multnomah delegation, however, both in senate and house, is making haste slowly in taking sides in either contest. Some of the Multnomah senators are not warming up very rapidly to the campaign of Moser while house members say they prefer to wait until the situation has crystallized before expressing preference either for president or speaker.

A SIGHT WITH PIMPLES ON FACE

Burned and Itched. Scratching Made Them Sore as Boils. Could Not Sleep at Night.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My trouble began with small pimples and they gradually grew larger and inflamed. They broke out in blotches on my face and forehead and I looked a sight. I irritated them by scratching until they were as sore as boils, and they hurt as I cried. They burned and itched until I could not sleep at night.

"I used a great many ointments and pills, but they did me no good. This had been going on for about five months when I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed my face in hot water and Cuticura Soap, dried it and applied the Ointment, and then washed again with the Soap. In a short time the pimples were completely gone and my skin was pretty and clear." (Signed) Miss Verda Bramwell, 422 W. 10th St., Los Angeles, Cal., July 1, 1915.

Sample Each Free by Mail With 32-p. Skin Book on request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Sold throughout the world.

W. D. NEWLON, Lexington, Ore.

TO DELIVER MACEDONIA.

M. VENIZELAS ADDRESSES NEWLY FORMED REGIMENT.

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 18.—M. Venizelos bestowed the colors on Sunday on the newly formed Fourth Regiment of the Seres division of the National Defense Army, commanded by Colonel Christodoulos.

Addressing Colonel Christodoulos, M. Venizelos said, "The colors will remind you of the war of liberation in 1912 and the war against the Bulgarians undertaken with our Serbian allies. We must beat once for all the Bulgarians, who are the Prussians of the Balkans."

To the assembled troops, M. Venizelos said, "The eyes of all Hellenes are towards you who are going once more to deliver Macedonia."

Replying, Colonel Christodoulos

said his division would not halt at the frontiers of Macedonia but would march toward Sofia.

The Press Bureau reported on Saturday that, not content with advancing north of Katerini, the Athens troops were seeking to extend their occupation north of Grevena, about 90 miles southwest of Salonika. On Friday forenoon, 50 men of the infantry company from Grevena marched upon the important village of Oustana, where a small detachment of the national army was stationed. The village was surrounded and then taken.

Regarding this Press Bureau communication, it is stated, the royal troops are garrisoning villages north of Katerini, requisitioning cereals, and in general acting provocatively contrary to the agreement arrived at between the senate and the Athens government.

A Greek officer now at Salonika, declares that in August, 1915, on orders of M. Venizelos he investigated the question of German submarine bases on the Greek coast. He discovered that during the Goutaris ministry German submarines had been supplied with oil and other necessities near Evralos Island, the oil having been sent by railroad addressed to the director of the Ithamus of Corinth. It was loaded on a sailing vessel under the supervision of the controller of the custom house. He further ascertained that the depot of petroleum near Nauplia was used for supplying submarines, while another re-educating base was found near Phalera on the Hode, close to the sea, belonging to the deputy, M. Schlemain, while still another base was at Aropo, under officers of the Greek navy.

HUNGRY WOLVES STALK LOST MAN IN NORTH HILLS

ELY, Minn., Nov. 18.—Lost in the Minnesota woods for five days, during which he was stalked continuously by wolves, compelled to keep moving during a two-day blizzard, Horace E. Jackson, wealthy Chicago board of trade broker, is recovering today following his rescue late last night.

A small point of flame marked the fire which he had built in his slightly defense against wolves, led a handful of the hundreds of rescuers who had been searching for three days to the place where Jackson, half unconscious from fatigue, hunger and exposure was lying in the snow. Shifting of the needle of his compass, affected perhaps by large deposits of iron ore in the mountain range, threw Jackson off his course, as yet and when night came, he was miles from his camp. Wandering by day and keeping watch beside his fire by night his sufferings were excruciating. He will rest several days before returning home.

OREGON CONVICTS ASK BOARD OF CONTROL TO VISIT THEM AND THE PEN

SALEM, Nov. 17.—The Oregon penitentiary convicts committee sent a letter to the state board of control inviting the members to visit the prison, before selecting a new warden to talk to the prisoners and discuss the future conduct of the institution, together with modern penology, "with a view to bringing about more satisfactory conditions for officers and inmates." The invitation is unaccepted.
