Ice, Snow and Hail in "The Combat"—Vivid glimpses of Northwoods in feature at the Pastime today.

While "The Combat," the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature starring Anita Stewart, which is the attraction at the Pastime theater on Sunday and Monday, would come under the class of a society drama it contains a number of flashes of the North Woods where dog teams, snow squalls and rough log cabins form the center of interest.

These scenes which are interrupted by flashes of milady's dainty bonnet and various well appointed drawing rooms come as a direct contrast in the life of the city man and the man of nature.

Aiming to have these scenes all that perfection means, Director Ince took his entire company up into the woods during the winter months and besides using the log cabins which they erected for the picture they used them for shelter during their two weeks stay.

One of the features of these scenes is the dog-teams which contain twenty valuable Malamute dogs who are really the species used for transportation in the northwest.

how to use snow shoes, for without this knowledge, living in the snow-covered woods could never have been accomplished.

Nevertheless, the scenes in the completed film more than repay the players for any inconvenience they might have suffered.

HELEN HOLMES IN "THE MANAGER OF THE B. & A."

Directed by McGowan; Pastime Tuesday and Wednesday.

Life on the rails, with a punchy, thrilling plot and tense suspense is presented in "The Manager of the B. & A." the newest of the big motion picture dramas featuring daring Helen Holmes.

This picture, from the studios of the Sinal Film Corporation, and presented by the Mutual Film Corporation, is typical of the strenuous works of the director, J. P. McGowan, known to world wide fame as the maker of thrill dramas.

In "The Manager of the B. & A." Miss Holmes has the attractive and interesting role of Constance Emory, the daughter of an aristocratic father who loses his position as manager of the "B. & A." because of his leisurely and aristocratic viewpoint in life, which leads him more regularly to the golf links than to the office.

The story has a timely element in it in view of its dealing with a rail strike in terms of vigorous visualization. Of course there is a strenuous rivalry over the beautiful girl, Constance Emory. There are newspaper complications, fights, explosions and deeds of daring and violence without end. Leo Maloney, who will be remembered for his virile work in "The Girl and the Game" and for his share in Helen Holmes features previously released, comes in for a good share of the glories of "The Manager of the B. & A." He enacts the role of Dan Oakley, a district superintendent who becomes manager of the road through an incident which gives him opportunity to prove his ability to think rapidly and to act with swift decision.

Paul C. Hurst, considerable success as a screen villain, has a role as Roger Oakley, father of Dan, which gives him rare opportunities for the depiction of heroism.

"The Manager of the B. & A." builds its climaxes rapidly and delivers its surprises with swift, sure effect.

Daniel Frohman presents "The Daughter of MacGregor," with Valentine Grant A Famous Players Production. Cast of characters: Jean MacGregor.....Valentine Grant Winston.....Sidney Mason Donald MacGregor.....Arda La Croix Miss McGrim.....Helen Lindreth Robert MacPherson.....Edwards Davis Bull Grogan.....Daniel Pennell Jean's Dog.....Lady

Synopsis—The fighting blood of the MacGregors was not excluded from the veins of the daughter of the house. So when old man MacGregor decided to take unto himself a second wife, and at the same time decree that young Winston must no longer come to the cottage to see Jean, there is small wonder that the girl rebelled, especially when Miss MacGrim, her new mother, began to show signs of becoming dictatorial even before the marriage. This is the opening situation in "The Daughter of MacGregor," Famous Players production for the Paramount Program, featuring Val.

"The Daughter of MacGregor"

A rare combination of laughs and thrills, with a touch of pathos

WITH VALENTINE GRANT

As the Clown says, here we are again. All that goes with a circus, animals, sawdust, a ring and clowns.

Bulgers and Mansfield ONE RING Animal Circus

All on a stage. Hurray for the circus. Chester, the dancing horse, and Thunder and Lightning, the two unrideable mules, he, haw but it's a scream. Ponies with a whirlwind Riding Dog Act, the Cosack Dogs. Billy goat comedies, and Big Dave, the riding ape. Real ring, real sawdust, real animals, real circus, even to a parade.

Distinguishing the Best from the Rest

"Threads Among the Gold" at the Temple theater tonight, is sufficient guarantee that his welcome will be most cordial and his reception commensurate with the characteristic warmth of local playgoers. The popularity of this world famous singer is too well known to necessitate restoration. Suffice to add, Richard Jose is acknowledged the peer of the world-singers and his melodious voice has thrilled the hearts of millions throughout the land.

The photoplay production is commended by critics to be a noteworthy production and in keeping with the dignity and distinction of the noted singer.

This big attraction is in addition to our regular Triangle program, making two great big attractions for this afternoon and tonight.
