THANKSGIVING.

A Prayer.
Though we be Blinded, still may we see Thy handiwork and know its worth;
Though we be Dumb, still may we speak Thy Word in thought and Deed; Though we be Deaf, still may we hear Thy Voice and do Thy Bidding; Though we be Halt, still may we walk Thy Way nor go astray;
And though we see and hear and speak and walk as men, Still may we know these things as but of earth; of only passing need;
And if these gifts be ours through Thee, It needs must be that we can wrong no man.
Almighty God, grant this be our Thanksgiving.
—George Martin.

TALLOW CANDLE HERO-ISM

BEHOLD what has happened to the courage squad!
Newspapers that a few weeks ago were talking grandly about national courage and the weakness of the Wilson administration for not getting into a war of some sort are now croaking that the Oregon boys on the border should be sent home poco pronto.

If that is the tory brand of heroism it is of the tallow candle variety and cannot stand much fire. The Oregon boys on the border, as well as others, are there because there is need for them. They are not down there to play golf but to guard the border while a sister country is yet in a troubled state. When the need for their presence is gone they will be sent home. Meanwhile their duty is where the government sends them.

That the soldier boys are satisfied that their treatment is just and fair is shown convincingly by the way they voted for president.

Meanwhile let us contemplate the calibre of a newspaper that during campaign times talked for "deeds" instead of "words" and a few weeks later whimpers that it is unjust to keep guardsmen on the border because it interferes with their business careers.

108 MILLION

IT is estimated by the census bureau that the population of the United States is now slightly under 108,000,000.
By 1920, when another federal census will be taken, it is estimated the country will have a population of 108,000,000.

Had it not been for the war the country's growth in population would be greater. But the gain being made is something vast when the early history of the nation is considered.
If the population increases as is expected during the next three years the growth itself will represent more people than the country had in 1776.
What of 1976?

STILL AN UNSOLVED PROBLEM

ALMOST at the same time the official vote upon the Pendleton normal bill was announced distribution was made of a report by the Monmouth Normal school regents and the following significant

THEDA BARA
DIRECTION WILLIAM FOX
PASTIME TODAY

paragraph is found on page 12 of the report:

The necessity for additional normal school facilities in Oregon is apparent. The attendance at the Monmouth Normal school for the summer of 1916 was over 800 students. This exceeded the accommodations for class work. It has been emphasized in this report that any normal school is limited by its practice work facilities. The number of teachers who should have training in Oregon cannot be accommodated in a school which has but 160 children available for practice work.

Such a statement by the board of regents controlling the Monmouth normal makes it very conclusive that the normal school question is not settled.
How long will our pessimistic-economy element keep the state from meeting its plain duty regarding this subject?

FOOD AND STUDY

CONFIRMATION of the theory that much of the difference in men's brains is in reality a question of the food on which men are —or are not—nourished is seen in the experience of pupils of the University Avenue school of Chicago, says a newspaper of that city. There the excellent habit of grinding and using whole wheat flour has called attention to the school's custom of providing penny lunches for the children. Before the young pupils were supplied with their low cost luncheons some of them became more or less recalcitrant and dull as the morning wore on. Miss Black, the principal, says:

"Formerly by 11 o'clock we found that many of our children began to 'fade' in their work. Discipline was not good. They were irritable.
Now the work after the luncheon period is taken up briskly and there is less trouble about discipline. We hope to give them, and through them the parents, an understanding of correct feeding."

In its social order the University Avenue school is in some degree a small edition of the world outside, where even grown people find it difficult to be either good or mentally alert when they are inadequately fed. The hand mill in which the children grind wheat and corn into whole grain flour

The Secret of Keeping Well
The road to health is so plain, that all may find it. Keeping well is simply a matter of constant attention to the great laws of health. Eat moderately, exercise regularly, work reasonably, and take the required amount of sleep. Then, and this is most important, see that the organs of elimination—the bowels, liver and kidneys—are kept active and regular. For this purpose, Beecham's Pills are of untold benefit. Their timely use will prevent biliousness, sick headache, constipation and other common ailments caused by impurities which are allowed to accumulate in the system. Beecham's Pills keep the stomach well, the digestion strong, the liver active and the bowels regular. A remedy that has helped men and women on the road to health, for over sixty years. Thousands have found that after obeying the laws of health, the great secret of keeping well and strong, cheerful and happy—
Is the Timely Use of that great family remedy—

BEECHAM'S PILLS
or meal for their own cheap and wholesome food has an immediate application to certain great problems of the present time. A good many private families are now buying hand mills and grinding grain for their own use, thus practicing intelligent self-help by reducing the cost of living and increasing the nourishing quality of their food.
WHEAT BARRED TO BREWERS.
British Beer Makers Must Not Use It in Place of Barley.
LONDON, Nov. 30.—An official announcement by the board of trade today says: "It has been reported to the board of trade that in consequence of the scarcity and high price of barley, purchases of wheat have recently been made by brewers for use in their business. The board of trade has accordingly made an order, the effect of which is to prohibit the use of wheat in the manufacture of beer and similar liquors. The order is effective next Monday."
"It may be recalled that the use of grain for the production of spirits, without authorization of the minister of munitions, was prohibited by the order of May 10, last."
