BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lary feeling come from constipation and disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "foggy" and heavy. Note how they "clear" clouded rain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

WHO WANTS US?

MARGARET WALSH

ANNA NOVACK

Does anyone want these little waifs? If they do they need only apply to the Children's Society, New York City, establish their good character, and they may take either or both of them into their homes. Both youngsters were deserted by their fathers. Margaret's mother is dead. No one knows what happened to Anna. Both are four years old. Unless some one is kind hearted enough to adopt them they will be sent to public institutions. In the meantime the police department is making an effort to locate their delinquent fathers. Margaret and Anna are unusually charming kiddies. Their temperaments, as the photograph shows, are widely different, however. Margaret thinks that having her picture made is the greatest of fun. Anna, more serious minded, doesn't care for it at all.

which a children's aid society in Pittsburgh says could be adopted by well-to-do and childless families of the steel city, can't easily be filled.

New York institutions today reported a great demand here for blue-eyed babies, especially girl babies, and a serious scarcity of this same choice article offered for adoption.

And true charity grasps the hand without a thought of the glove.

What the press agents say about Pendleton's present and coming attractions.

Henry W. Savage, Noted Producer, Offers "Everywoman."

The name of Henry W. Savage will loom prominently when the dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman" is offered at the Oregon Theatre.

Though Mr. Savage's name appears so often in print in connection with his various theatrical and musical enterprises, though he has given more than any other individual to the furtherance of good music in America through his productions in England of "Parsifal" and other Wagnerian operas, though his name has become a hall-mark as to quality when it is announced as the sponsor of a theatrical or musical attraction, the majority of people who have found pleasure in his productions know nothing of the man himself, for Mr. Savage is a man who avoids publicity. Never with his consent has his picture appeared in a magazine or newspaper, and reporters declare that he is one of the hardest men to interview. He prefers that his work should speak for him.

Mr. Savage is a New Englander of culture and education. He is a graduate of Harvard University where he was a classmate of Col. Theodore Roosevelt. He is a linguist, a traveler, and a man of catholic tastes. He has studied the theatre in many lands and considers it one of the greatest forces of civilization. An accident caused him to become a musical producer and a passion for the theatre led him to present drama.

George Marion, the general stage-director for Mr. Savage, has charge of the production of "Everywoman." He is considered the master of his craft and "Everywoman" is his master work. It represents months of patient and painstaking labor. The scenery was painted by Walter Burridge and the costumes were made from designs by Hy Mayer, the famous cartoonist and magazine illustrator.

Skovgaard at Presbyterian Church. This eminent artist needs no introduction to the American public. His name is as well known today as Ole Bull's and Remenyi's. In the past nine years he has filled more than one thousand, one hundred and fifty engagements from coast to coast with unparalleled success.

At the age of fourteen, with the recognition of real talent, Joseph Joachim, the king of violinists, took him as a pupil and he definitely entered on his career as a violin virtuoso. In 1894 he played before the late King Christian of Denmark; at another time before the late King Oscar of Sweden and again for Haakan, the present king of Norway. He also won the attention of Emperor Wilhelm of Germany in 1902, when he appeared as soloist at the opening of the Royal Berlin Academy of Music, with the result that twice the emperor, through Joseph Joachim, had him invited to play at private concerts in the Royal Palace in Berlin. Skovgaard plays with brain and will and brings emotional intensity under their full control. As a result his work grows and lasts. It appeals to the real artist as well as to the public.

You Need This For Lame Back

Foley Kidney Pills Simply Drive The Cause of it Out of Your System

Lame back, stiff, swollen, aching joints, and rheumatic pains are the result of weak, sluggish, inactive kidneys. In this condition, they cannot keep the blood that feeds your body free of the impurities that poison you and cause these painful symptoms.

Foley Kidney Pills are so strongly advised and recommended for these troubles because of their direct and beneficial effect on the kidneys, bladder and urinary system; and acting through these important organs, on the health of the entire body. Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak and sluggish kidney action, ease a painful and irritable bladder, stop rising at night, remove the cause of backache, lame back, stiff joints and rheumatism, due to imperfect kidney and bladder action.

Pills. Mrs. Wood writes: "Foley Kidney Pills helped me so much, I found relief as soon as I began taking them. My husband is also much benefited, and feels so much better since taking Foley Kidney Pills. He was so lame he could not sleep, had to get down on his knees to pick up anything, so lame he was in his back and hips. I remain always your well wisher."
Mrs. Frank P. Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wood of Merrill, Maine, Box 18, R.F.D. 2, were both rescued from the onset of weak, sluggish, imperfect kidney and bladder action by the use of Foley Kidney Pills.

DIRECT ROAD FROM RITTER TO HEPPNER

After Several Years of Agitation and Hard Consistent Work Fine Route Is Opened Up.

HEPPNER, Dec. 2.—There is now direct road connection between Heppner and Ritter. After several years of agitation and after more recent hard, consistent work, the greater part of which was donated by public spirited citizens of the Ritter community, the road has become a reality.

The north fork of the John Day river has been bridged and Ritter is now 35 miles closer to market than ever before. The road is a most natural one, being on a water grade the entire distance. Leaving Heppner, the highway goes up Willow creek, across the summit and down Ditch creek to the John Day river. In the entire distance there are only two steep pulls, one is out of the Willow creek basin and the other is up over the hill out of the North Fork into Ritter.

The road opens up a rich territory to Heppner and the substantial donations made by Heppner business men show they have not been slow in realizing the value of the road. Local men have subscribed nearly one thousand dollars toward the completion of the Ritter road. The last donation was completed this week, when a committee from the Heppner Commercial club raised $284 as Heppner part toward the building of the North Fork bridge.

MACHINE GUN CORPS READY FOR ACTION

BRITISH MACHINE GUN CORPS.

Motor-cycle machine gun corps are being used more and more by allies in their various offensives in France. The rapidity with which large numbers of these guns may be transferred from point to point make them extremely valuable. The photograph shows a machine gun company about to leave to take part in an attack.

JONES sometimes wakes up feeling cross and in consequence the family know it without his telling them in so many words.

Mrs. Jones attributes it to biliousness and if it doesn't wear off during the day she gives him a dose of liver medicine at night. The next morning he feels better and she gives him coffee for breakfast,—and the next morning,—and the next morning. And in a few days Jones has another spell.

Dear Mrs. Jones means all right, but she doesn't seem to realize that if she didn't give Jones his morning coffee she wouldn't have to give him the liver medicine and Jones would feel all right without both.

Housewives everywhere have found out that Instant Postum takes the place of breakfast coffee perfectly. And that is only one of the reasons why Instant Postum has wholly supplanted the use of coffee on thousands upon thousands of American breakfast tables.
