A LIFETIME PRESENT FOR YOUR HOME

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

A charmingly appointed affair in every detail was the dinner presided over by Mrs. F. E. Judd and Mrs. J. F. Robinson last evening in the dining room of the high school. Various tones of yellow provided the color motif, the central attractions of the tables being huge baskets of golden chrysanthemums. A unique feature in connection with the dinner was the fact it was cooked and served entirely by the girls of the domestic science class under the supervision of Miss Alice Butler. During its course a stringed orchestra played delightfully.

At the conclusion of the affair the guests adjourned to the home of Mrs. Judd where bridge was enjoyed for several hours. Dr. F. E. Boyden and Mrs. J. R. Raley were the successful contestants. The guests included members of the Evening Bridge Club and several others.

STANFIELD NOW HAS 35 PLEDGED VOTES

Applicant for Speakership Returns from Trip to Portland and Declares There is No Doubt of Election.

Returning from Portland this morning, Representative R. N. Stanfield declared there is now no possible doubt of his election as speaker of the next house when the legislature convenes. He declares he has in his possession signed letters or telegrams from 35 different representatives pledging their vote to him and authorizing the publication of their names if he desires. This is more than enough to insure his election and he declares that he will receive at least five other votes.

Representative Stanfield denies that he has injected the question of sectionalism into the fight. He admits that eastern Oregon representatives are standing solidly behind his candidacy but points also to the fact that the majority of the Multnomah county delegation and not a few of the Willamette valley and southern Oregon representatives are standing by him. He feels certain that L. E. Bean of Eugene, his principal rival, has but nine votes pledged to him.

traffic, in the belief of Dr. H. M. Rowe of Baltimore, president of the American Automobile association, speaking at the second annual convention of the Safety First Federation of America, in session here. If pedestrians, he said, were confined to the sidewalks in their movements and were not permitted to cross the streets anywhere except at properly designated crossings, the cause of most of the accidents and fatalities that happen would be eliminated at one stroke. Vehicles, Dr. Rowe declared, were so well covered by regulations that further attempts in that line could not bring results.

CUT IN UMATILLA PROJECT IS MADE

CONSIDERABLY LESS WILL BE EXPENDED THIS YEAR IN IRRIGATION.

Principal Decreases in Appropriation Made in Wages, Cement and Forage.

Estimates for the reclamation service for the next fiscal year show a decrease in the sum asked for the Umatilla project in Oregon of $78,000 from the appropriation of the present year, and an increase for the Klamath project of $59,000, says a Washington dispatch.

These estimates are made up on the basis of what the project managers are expected to be able to use to the best advantage in the year ending June 30, 1918. The sums estimated for various projects often substantially vary from year to year, due to the character of work under way.

The estimate for the Umatilla project for the next year is $157,000, against $235,000 appropriated for the present year. In the year ending June 30, 1916, there was actually expended on this project $275,305. The principal decreases in the itemized estimates are $77,000 less for wages, $16,000 less for cement and $15,000 less for forage.

For the Klamath project the estimate is $239,000 for the next fiscal year, against $180,000 appropriate for this year and $141,119 actually spent during the year ending June 30, 1916. On the Klamath work there will be a slight increase in wages, $10,000 increase in salaries, $81,759 increase in contract payments, and $6900 decrease in equipment.

The Safe Side

"Those of us who are wise," says a well-known doctor, "will keep on the safe side by using only those foods that contain everything Nature puts into them."

A bit of good advice, that. Many foods, as usually prepared, especially cereals, are lacking in the vital mineral elements—phosphate of potash, etc., which the body must have for perfect balance and health.

There is one food,

Grape-Nuts

which is rich in these elements, containing, as it does, all the nutriment of whole wheat and barley. It is a delicious food, affording the sweetness of dextrinized wheat and the distinctive flavor of malted barley.

Every table should have its daily ration of Grape-Nuts.
