INHERITS INCOME $1,000,000 YEARLY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—An agreement outside of court provided that Edwin Peble McLean will inherit the entire income of his father's great estate and be recognized as the sole head of the Washington Post and Cincinnati Enquirer. Attorney Lambert said the income would approximate a million annually. The older McLean, founder of the Washington Post, died recently.

DUSKY "KIPLING" PUTS BORDER WORK IN RHYME

COLUMBUS, N. Mex., Dec. 16.—Left with Pershing's expedition in Mexico is by no means a giddy whirl. Neither is it a vacation "far from the maddening crowd." Every officer, soldier and truck driver has tried to describe it. But it has remained for a dusky troubadour of the famous "Black Tooth" Cavalry to put the daily life of the soldier in verse. At once the song jumped into favor and the whole expedition from Palomas

TABLE SAVER:

We have been called upon to supply many homes with beautiful silver during the Fall season, and our patterns seem to be of unanimous choice.

In Sterling, the "Chatham" seems to be the favorite, but the "Queen Ann" and the "Princess" "Chic" are more popular than any patterns we have ever carried in plated ware.

As rendered by the "Twenty-fourth Machine Gun Company Quartet" it is: "Eust yo' take yo' rifle an' then yo' take yo' pack, An' yo' hike across de fields an' presume yo' comin' back, Skirmish to de left and skirmish to de right, An' mak' all de motions an' presume yo' goin to fight, Den yo' gits a shovel an' a big ole pick, An' spend de afternoon makin' 'dobe brick, Very nex mornin' it's de same ole thing, An' yo' got seven years to do it in."

SHIPBUILDERS GIVEN UNTIL FIRST OF YEAR TO AGREE
PORTLAND, Dec. 16.—The metal trades council executive committee announced it would give Portland shipbuilders until January first to sign the union's agreement providing a closed shop and a minimum wage. Officials of the Northwest steel company and other corporations affected, declared the eight hour day already operative here, the wages are fair and there is nothing to arbitrate.

FIGURES SHOW DRUNKENNESS ON DECLINE IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Dec. 16.—If any accurate estimate can be made while so many men are away at the fighting fronts, it would appear that drunkenness in England and Wales has decreased since the war began. A Blue Book has been issued purporting to show a decrease of 47,017 convictions for drunkenness during 1915.

The greatest decrease in the consumption of liquor appeared in agricultural countries on the east coast. In some of these convictions for drunkenness dropped 41.8 per cent. The "no treating" law undoubtedly has aided in reducing the consumption of intoxicants. During the last six months of 1915 there were only 42,342 convictions for violating the "no treat" law as compared to 48,750 during the first half of the year. Throughout the entire year of 1915 there were only 135,811 drunkards convicted, which is the lowest number recorded for nearly forty years and is 28 per cent below the total for 1913. Of those convicted in 1915, 33,211 were women.

pressing activity of England's enemies on United States soil.

The state department immediately sent notes to Great Britain and France asking a reconsideration of the refusal and pointing out that it was the inalienable right of sovereign nations to exchange ambassadors. Great care was taken to make plain that the United States was making its representations solely as a matter of international right and was not seeking a favor.

AUSTRIAN AMBASSADOR SAILS FOR U. S. TODAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Count Tarnowski, recently appointed Austrian ambassador to the United States to succeed Theodore Dumba, recalled at the request of the United States for undiplomatic activity, is due to sail for New York today from Rotterdam on the Dutch steamer Nieuwe Amsterdam. Immediately after Tarnowski's appointment Great Britain and France refused to grant him a safe conduct to the United States. It was generally believed this was a protest of Great Britain at what she considered the laxity of the United States in sup-

THE MOTOR
Is of the celebrated valve-in-head type. Is DIFFERENT from ordinary valve-in-head motors. It has a detachable head which contains all the valve mechanism that can be easily disconnected, permitting the grinding of valves and removal of carbon at the bench.

Is DIFFERENT from ordinary valve-in-head motors in design, balance, proportions and accuracy of timing, resulting in a motor which produces more power for its size and weight than any other motor in the world.

Is DIFFERENT from the ordinary valve-in-head motor in that it has a very much smaller cylinder bore; but with proper piston area, perfect vaporizing of fuel, and our peculiar method of vacuum exhaust, we obtain an average of better than twenty-five miles per gallon of gasoline.

Is DIFFERENT from the ordinary valve-in-head motor in that it has the utmost accessibility to all parts and is very simple.

BRAKES.
Your attention is called to the liberal construction of the brakes as used on the Model "FOUR-NINETY." (Patent pending.) No expense has been spared in this very necessary protection. Many higher priced cars do not have as large and generous braking surface; certainly none at this price.

AXLES.
The axle shafts are made of the best chrome nickel steel, properly heat-treated. The same can also be said of the bevel ring and pinion. We have allowed a very liberal margin of safety in these important items. Compare them with other cars selling at the same price, or higher.

BODY.
The body is of the streamline type with deep cowl, extra wide doors, flush sides, concealed hinges. Has wide seats and spacious leg room.

FENDERS.
Crown, fully enclosed at front and rear between wheels and body, joined by running board. Running board covered with linoleum and aluminum bound.

TRANSMISSION.
Is of the selective type, three speeds forward and reverse. Is practically noiseless.

All gears are made of nickel steel, heat-treated in oil. Shafts and bearings are very liberal, the shifting device positive, and easy to operate. The transmission is designed to handle the car with a liberal factor of safety. This type and grade of transmission is not usually found in this price car.

SPRINGS.
In addition to easy riding and comfort, proper spring suspension also means economy. If your car has proper spring suspension it is easy on tires and means that with care you will get the tire mileage you are entitled to. Our spring suspension does this; it has been designed to give comfort and to be easy on tires. Both front and back springs are of the semi-cantilever type, with extra wide main leaf, or driving plate, of chrome vanadium steel.

The spring suspension does away with the tendency to throw or swing the car when going over rough roads or around corners.
