TAKE MOVE TO BLOCK OPPOSITION.

Another article sets forth that, if section 4549 of Lord's Oregon Laws under which the present library board now holds notwithstanding said repeal the members of the board of directors shall still be appointed by the mayor of Pendleton with the consent of the council.

The property of the corporation, as stated in the articles, consists of books and library equipment valued at $10,000, the income from the Sturges fund and certain money collected from a tax levy by the city.

Members of the other faction in the library controversy deny the right of members of the library board to incorporate without the formal sanction of the board or of the council and take possession of property belonging to the city of Pendleton.

ABANDONED TUNNEL A NATURAL WONDER

Ice Forms in It in Hottest Weather, and It Is Warm in Winter.

EDGEMONT, S. D., Dec. 25.—A natural wonder of the Black Hills in the form of an ice cave, is to be developed and made an attraction for tourists. The ice cave is situated at Englewood and is one of the few natural wonders of its kind in the world. As a unique feature among the natural attractions of the Black Hills it ranks with Wind Cave and with Crystal Cave, and in some respects is even more wonderful than either of these. The cave has developed peculiar features, which make it a most mystifying proposition. Some ten or eleven years ago, what now is the ice cave was run as a tunnel by the late Harvey Sheffer, and had been pushed about ninety feet into the hill when work was abandoned as no satisfactory mineral showing was encountered. The fact that it had the power of producing ice even during the hottest summer weather was not discovered until later. In the hottest months of the year ice forms in the tunnel, sometimes to a depth of three feet, and a remarkable feature is that during cold weather the ice disappears. On the surface
