"THE LADIES' STORE"

Friend:

Another year has gone by, and you and I have been doing our best to advance the interests of ourselves and those with whom we are engaged.

At this season, many forms or greetings are indulged in between friends and business acquaintances, and of course, a great many of these are going to find their way to you, but for my part, I thought possibly my best wishes for Your Happiness—Your Prosperity—and Your Unqualified Success throughout the coming year,—could best be expressed through this personal message.

I have received many courtesies, and have had many kind things done to make the year a pleasant one, and as I look back upon it, not the least of its pleasures has been my relations with you.

My kindest for 1917.

Royal M. Sawtelle

NEWS OF PENDLETON

Moorhouse Pictures Shown. The New Year's edition of the Portland Oregonian contains a full page of pictures taken by Major Lee Moorhouse.

Turkey Shoot at Helix. Dr. J. E. Snyder and Ray Snyder went to Helix today to participate in a turkey shoot at a farm near that place.

Mancke Vs. Lorenzen. Charles Haeckle Saturday afternoon through his attorney, S. A. Newberry, filed suit against Henry Lorenzen for $174.66 alleged to be due on a note and for money loaned.

Would Be U. S. Citizen. Manuel Monese, who works for Frank Pedro, Saturday afternoon made application for citizenship papers. He came to America in January, 1914, from Picos, Portugal.

Moss Thompson Improved. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Colworth have returned from Roseburg where they were called by the serious illness of Moss Thompson, a veteran Pendleton man. Mr. Thompson is considerably improved.

A delightful watch party was held last night by Mr. and Mrs. George Robbins, at their home on Garfield street. Those present were A. A. Roberts, Miss Muir, Mrs. A. C. Gilchrist, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Akers, Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. George Hamblen and Professor Diamond.

Rayburn is New La Grande Chief. Lou Rayburn, for the past few months a member of the Pendleton police force, left this morning for La Grande where he has been appointed chief of police, a position that he held before for a period of eight years. Rayburn has been a very efficient officer while on the local force.

Bee Hive is Moving. H. O. Zilliacus, proprietor of the Bee Hive Variety Store, is today moving his stock from his old location into the room in the Belts block formerly occupied by Bond Bros. Bonds expect to be in their new and larger location in the same block by the middle of the month.

Pays $30,000 for Land. By a deal consummated last week, David Horne and son purchased three quarter sections of wheat land from Roach Brothers. The consideration is given at $30,000. The land is located seven miles south of Pendleton adjoining the Umatilla Indian reservation line.

Rogers-Maloney Case Appealed. Attorneys for Frank Rogers, against whom a jury returned a verdict in his legal dispute with J. W. Maloney over a quarter section of leased land on the reservation, Saturday filed a transcript for an appeal to the supreme court. Notice of such appeal had been filed before. The jury recognized Maloney's lease as a valid one and gave him judgment for costs.

Will of Mrs. Walker. The will of the late Mrs. Ida Walker, who died Dec. 4, was admitted to probate Saturday afternoon. She left a farm and on McKay creek valued at $7000 and personal property worth approximately $500. One half interest in the land is bequeathed to her son, Floyd H. Walker, who is also named as executor. He is to receive in addition enough horses and cattle to operate the farm and his father, S. H. Walker, is to be the judge of how many is necessary. The other half interest is left to her husband during his lifetime and, at his death, is to be divided, share and share alike, among Verne Gilliland and Dorothy Walker, her daughters, and Viola Hawk, her niece.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Mrs. J. Anderson is a Helix visitor in the city today. R. C. Julian, Attalia newspaper man is here today.

A very enjoyable surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pogue last evening by a group of friends who gathered at their home for a delightful evening of games and music. Trophy winners in the games were Mrs. H. Gray and Mr. Jack Pogue; Mrs. Hutton and Mr. Jim Hody who received second honors. At a late hour a dainty lunch was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mosser, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hutton and son Everett H., Mr. and Mrs. James Boddy and children, Mary and James Boddy, Mr. and Mrs. R. Gray, Lavelle and Eugene Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wolfe and daughter, Avla Wolfe.

Exceptional artistry combined with real genius and delightful personality made the recital of Reuben Beckwith and Forest La Barre in the Methodist church Saturday evening one of the most delightful musical events Pendleton folk have been privileged to enjoy for some time. Mr. Beckwith plays with true appreciation, excellent technique and firm tone. His numbers were warmly applauded and as encores he gave the "Butterfly Study" (Chopin) and "Radnaga" (Victor Herbert). Mr. La Barre's contributions were excellent examples of the best in violin music and they were presented with a skill that amounted to positive genius. As his encore he gave "Serenata" (Moszkowski). A large audience greeted the young musicians and it was generous in its appreciation.

Harvey Hanavan and Joe Woods returned today to Portland to resume their studies at North Pacific Dental College.

Miss Mildred Allen is spending a week in La Grande as the guest of friends.

Joseph Coleworthy and Wilbur Badley left today for Seattle after having spent the holidays at their homes in this city.

celebrities. Take, for instance, G. M. Rice. Whoever heard the monickers from which those initials G. M. were derived? They might stand for "Good Man" or "Good Manager" with equal veracity, or bearing in mind that he heads a bank where is stored three millions of dollars, we might very appropriately interpret them as "Get Money" or "Gold Magnate."

Take H. D. Gray. That H. D. might mean "Handsome Devil" or it might mean "Harmless Duck." The Weekly Bulldogger

MONDAY, JANUARY 1, 1917.

New Year's Cheer for the Stein-Elfers. Louie Badaux says he is not yet ready to admit defeat, even though the prohibitory law has about succeeded in turning this state into a desert. He says he has started a movement to make Pendleton a part of California and is receiving pledges of support in many quarters.

Try Webster's Unabridged. "Typewriters and adding machines are all very well," says Jim Johns Junior, "but what I need most is a spelling machine."

Bounced. Mistah William Rogers, the colored gentleman who punctured one of his fraternity brothers with a bullet the other night and then jumped from the second story window to the pavement below, has the misfortune of having one cork leg. We use the word misfortune advisedly, for Deputy Sheriff Jim Estes says that he struck the pavement on that elastic leg and bounced so long in one spot that Officer Rayburn had time to come up.

Ragtime's a Little Rough. Carl Gilbert, popular Echo hair-cutter, has fitted up his shop with all modern conveniences. His latest addition is a phonograph which is a no-stop machine. The other day while Carl was shaving a customer, someone asked him if the music didn't disturb him in his work.

"Not at all," said Carl. "I'm getting so I can shave to ragtime."

"If it's just the same to you," murmured his lathered victim in the chair, "put on a little slow music while I'm in the chair."

Strangers. To handle the Christmas rush the Peoples Warehouse put on so many extra clerks that half the time they were trying to sell goods to each other.

A Bowl Room Wall. Mr. Editor of Bulldogger:— I wish very much that your valuable paper would lead a certain much needed reform. I refer to the practice of certain gentry who attend dancing parties and spend the entire evening in the smoking room, leaving the ladies to decorate the sidelines and thus amuse themselves by pretending they are just resting a bit. If you think it is impossible to teach them that there are times when a lady should take precedence in their consideration over a cigarette, you might suggest that hostesses hereafter confine their functions to one room only and hermetically seal that. Then if the men can't assist the ladies to have a good time, I stand ready to furnish for publication a list of the worst offenders, and I will also help to organize a boycott against them.

Humbly yours, A Wall Flower Who is Wiling From Neglect.

They Ought to Raise Louie's Salary for This. Though he has made every effort to keep the news from leaking out, we have it from an unimpeachable authority that Lou Steelhammer, popular and elongated salesman at Bond's was impressed into service as a Sunday school teacher at Pilot Rock a short time ago. Louie had gone out to play in an orchestra and being short on teachers that day, the S. S. superintendent had imposed upon his generous nature. As a Biblical student Louie can't bat 100 but as a salesman who makes the best of opportunities he is a cleanup hitter. Thus we are not surprised that, when one of the small boys in Louie's class got home and was asked by his mother for the golden text of the lesson, he answered promptly, "When in Pendleton see Bond Bros."

Filling 'Em In. Did you ever get the habit of wondering for what the initials of well known men stand and then, for want of some other darnful pastime, converting those initials into appropriate names. It's a most harmless way of entertaining yourself at the other fellow's expense. We'll give you a few samples so you can get the idea and then, if you are as childish as we are, you can amuse yourself as much as you like.

We will draw the victims of our sampling from among the local cele-
