ALASKAN DOG TEAMS ARE USED IN WAR

WITH RETURN OF HEAVY SNOWS AUTOS ARE ALMOST PUT OUT OF COMMISSION.

France Has Over 1000 Dogs With All Sleds and Necessary Equipment for Performing Much Transport Service.

(By Henry Wood, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE VOSGES, Jan. 20.—(By Mail.)—With the return of heavy snows in the Vosges, Alaskan dog teams are vying with the automobile drivers of the American ambulance and the members of the Norwegian Red Cross Ski Corps for the honor of bringing in the greatest number of wounded.

The Alaskan sled dogs, gathered in the United States' most northwest territory, constitute the latest "war material" being supplied from America to France. Although the allies, through their supreme mastery of the seas, are able to gather war supplies in any and all parts of the world, the Alaskan dogs are conceded the honor of coming from the most distant point, and over the greatest distance, on which the allies have yet been obliged to draw.

The original number of sled dogs brought to the Vosges from Alaska numbered about 500. These have been bred and multiplied so rapidly that France now has at her disposal over 1000 dogs with all of the sleds and material necessary for performing an incredible amount of transport service in the snow clad altitudes of the Vosges.

It is principally in the Vosges that the members of the American ambulance have been assigned to duty. Their light, speedy cars not only enable them to scale all the peaks on which roads have been built, but even to leave the roads themselves in the direction of the first line trenches for the purpose of picking up the wounded.

In these Alpine regions, however, there are hundreds of places which even the light American cars with their absolutely fearless civilian drivers cannot reach, and it is in these districts that the Alaskan dog teams and the Norwegian Red Cross Ski Corps come in for the bulk of the work. The Norwegian Ski Corps, fully equipped for field ambulance work, volunteered its service to France, the same as the American ambulance, and has already done valiant service.

The Alaskan dog service, however, was thought out and organized by the French army itself, which sent experts to Alaska, Labrador and Canada to purchase the dogs. Owing to the fact that the Alaska dogs are nearly white they are practically invisible against the snow and can therefore approach within a comparatively short distance of the German lines for the purpose of picking up the wounded without being fired on. Seven dogs with one of the long Alaskan sleds and a single driver can pick up a wounded man, lay him at length on the sled, and bring him back to a dressing station with remarkable speed.

Ambulance work, however, is only a small portion of the duties assigned the dogs, and they are a considerable portion of the transport service of the French army in the Vosges. They carry munitions, food and water to all parts of the line with the utmost ease. The usefulness of the dogs does not cease with the snow in the spring. The French engineers are famous for their construction of tiny, narrow gauge railways and all the mountain peaks and ridges of the Vosges, now occupied by the French are lined with these. Over them a car runs with the greatest ease, and eleven dogs hitched to one of the narrow-gauge trucks carrying a ton of material dash along with the same rollicking boisterousness with which they draw sleds.

On the sheltered sides of the Vosges immense kennels have been built for the dogs, each capable of housing 10. Fifty stalls line each side of the kennel and fifty on the other side with a food and water trough running in front of each side and a narrow passage down the center.

Walking down this narrow aisle a visitor can see in the faces of the dog, almost every type of human character. Only a few are sully or cross; the majority are optimistically happy, some are modest and retiring, some a little sad, a few niggardly and miserly with their food; some proud and

ALL CHILDREN LOVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

GIVE IT WHEN FEVERISH, CROSS BILIOUS, FOR BAD BREATH OR SOUR STOMACH.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

What the press agents say about Pendleton's present and coming attractions.

Oregon Theater to Repeat "The Birth of a Nation" January 21-22; Popular Prices.

A great deal of film comedy is horse-play, but David W. Griffith in "The Birth of a Nation" proves that quiet refined comedy is a big laugh maker and pleases better than the old style crude methods.

One of the best laughs in "The Birth of a Nation" is the lovelock scene in the hospital scene gazing at Elsie Stoneman. This particular bit is of the "sure fire" order, for never does an audience miss the rapt devotion of the sentinel and the haughty expression of the young lady rebuking him with a million-miles-away look.

Paul LeBlanc is the name of the young actor who has made the unexpected hit in the part. He is a New Orleans Creole by birth and played comedy roles with Mme. Bernhardt before going out to Los Angeles where Mr. Griffith discovered him. The costuming of the young soldier is wonderfully accurate to the period of 1864. Some of the recent civil war portraits in the magazines and newspapers are almost doublets of this sentry figure, showing what care Griffith has used in reproducing the civil war type.

Miss Lillian Gish wears her costumes of civil war and reconstruction times that are heirlooms in her family. Through Griffith's skill all the actors in the production are made to appear as if to the manner born and not awkwardly moving about in habiliments to which they are unaccustomed.

See the world's greatest film and hear the famous "Birth of a Nation" Symphony Orchestra once again, when it comes to the Oregon for two days with matinee each day, January 21-22.

Matinees at 2:15. Prices, adults, 50¢; children, 25¢; nights at 8:15, prices 25¢, 50¢, 75¢ and $1.00. Seats

C. C. Johnson Riddles German Airplane Forcing Pilot to Come to Earth.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—C. C. Johnson, the American aviator, attacked and forced down a German airplane on Friday after a thrilling sky duel. Although Johnson's machine gun riddled the German aircraft, forcing the pilot to descend, he is not credited with destroying the machine as the French observers only count machines positively known to be destroyed or burned.
