WILSON OUTLINES WORLD PEACE PROGRAM

PENDLETON WILL HAVE BEST PLACE IN BIG PARADE

Louis Hill Writes That Round-Up City Will be Accorded the Highest Honors of St. Paul Carnival.

PARTY NOW NUMBERS 25

Special Car Leaves Tomorrow for Spokane Where it Will be Joined by Car of Spokane and Montana People.

"Pendleton will have the best place in the parade, will be with the best band and will be expected to make the biggest demonstration," according to Louis Hill, president of the Great Northern who is taking a great personal interest in the delegation of Round-Up boosters which Pendleton will send this week to the annual midwinter carnival at St. Paul, incidentally, Mr. Hill will join the Pendleton party and ride with it in the big parade.

The Pendleton party now numbers 25. Those who have secured tickets for the special car are Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. George Strand, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Sturgis, Mr. and Mrs. George Peninger, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Taylor (Athens), Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. Will Switzer (Umatilla), Dan Clarke (Portland), Mrs. W. P. Temple, Mrs. Roy T. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bishop (Salem) and Will Kearns and Glenn Bushee. Roy T. Bishop, who is now in New York, will join the party in St. Paul.

The special car will leave here tomorrow evening for Spokane from which city a special car is also going. At Havre, Montana, they will be taken up by a special train and they will arrive in St. Paul Saturday. After the carnival some members of the party will go on east to Chicago and New York.

The following letter from Mr. Hill to Sheriff Taylor, president of the Round-Up, explains something of the plans of the Pendleton party:

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 15.

Mr. T. D. Taylor,

President, Pendleton Round-Up, Pendleton, Oregon.

Dear Mr. Taylor:

I just have a letter from Roy Bishop and also have kept in communication with your people by wire, so we are now expecting you to arrive on Saturday morning, the 17th, about eight o'clock. We will have a party meet you in Minneapolis on arrival there and accompany you to St. Paul, and also have people meet you at the station and escort you to the St. Francis Hotel, where Mr. Wild has made reservations for the Pendleton party. As soon as you know definitely how many people there will be in your party and how many wish to ride horses, I wish you would wire me so I can get that number of horses. While horses are going to be hard to get here, I am going to make good on my promise. You will have time to go to the hotel, get dressed and rested and have an early luncheon, and leave the hotel at one o'clock, in time to take your place in the parade. We have arranged for you what we consider the best place in the parade, and you will be with the best band of the forty bands we have. I am very glad you are going to be here for the opening day as that will be the important movie feature. We have arranged for the principal moving picture people to be here, and it will be great publicity for the Round-Up. Let me suggest that the weather being colder here than you have at home, your people should have heavy sweaters and stockings. Of course, those who wear chaps will be all right, but the sweater will be a great help, and they should also have heavy gloves. I think from what Roy Bishop tells me that you will have the most attractive costume in the whole forty thousand. They expected me to go in the reviewing stand, but I am going to ride with the Pendleton, if you do not object. I have kind of a weakness for your people. Very truly yours,

LOUIS H. HILL.

ROAD FROM PORTLAND TO PENDLETON IS PROVIDED FOR IN HIGHWAY BILL

(East Oregonian Special Wire Service.)

SALEM, Jan. 22.—Representative Laugaard introduced a bill creating a state highway department, in accordance with plans of the county judges and commissioners at the recent Portland convention. It provides a highway commission of three members appointed by the governor with jurisdiction over road work. Three roads are designated, from Portland to California, through the Willamette valley, from Portland to The Dalles, Ontario and Pendleton, and from Portland to Seaside via St. Helens and Astoria.

UNDERGROUND METHODS SCORED

Senator Orton asked a delay in the consideration of Garland's resolution directing the senate and house committees on the consolidations of the boards of commissions to cooperate. Garland voiced objections to the decisions, underground methods which permeates the politics of the legislature. He declared the business of consolidating the boards and commissions should be transacted in the open and not made the basis of trades and deals. "The people expect this legislature to heed their demands for economy through the elimination of useless boards and commissions," said Garland. "On that part of the legislature which refuses its duty on the consolidations will the vengeance of the people be spent." "The two houses should work together. If the senate passes this resolution and the house refuses to pass it, the responsibility of refusing rests on the house." Orton replied in the house: "We refused one offer of the senate to cooperate with one of our committees on the resolution. It was ill-timed and should not have been introduced."

It's a business-like resolution and should be adopted," said Eddy. Senator Barrett, a member of the consolidations committee, opposed the resolution. He pointed out that the house turned down one proposal from the senate.

It's a business-like resolution come over and apologize."

LEWIS BILL KILLED

"The senate killed the Lewis bill to annex Oswego and Tualatin districts in Clackamas to Multnomah county. Dimick and Leinenweber submitted a minority report in favor of the bill. On a roll call vote on the adoption of the minority report only three senators voted for it: Lewis, Orton and President Moser.

BRONZE BUCKAROO GIFT OF PENDLETON TO C. S. JACKSON

"Pendleton to Sam Jackson." is the slogan on a bronze buckaroo presented Saturday to C. S. Jackson by Pendleton friends in appreciation of Mr. Jackson's friendly aid extended to the Round-Up and to Pendleton on various occasions. The presentation was made without any formality and T. C. Taylor was commissioned to deliver the bronze to the Journal publisher.

The Buckaroo is a Pendleton product inasmuch as Mr. Proctor made his statue here, using Bill Ridings as a model, the Round-Up horse Angel being used chiefly in designing the horse.

President Declares Lasting Peace Must be Based Upon "Equality and Common Participation in Common Benefit"; Must be no Difference Between Nations.

SPEAKS FOR ALL FRIENDS OF HUMANITY EVERYWHERE

Is First Time a President Has Addressed the Senate Since George Washington's Speech on August 21, 1789—Kerns Refuses Place on Notification.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—President Wilson addressed the senate this afternoon. He outlined a peace program for the world, designed to safeguard all nations against further aggressions. He said he spoke "for the liberals and friends of humanity in every nation." He declared a lasting peace must be "based upon equality and common participation in a common benefit." He said the guarantees must not "recognize or imply any difference between big and small nations."

He cited the following basis for lasting peace: To add United States authority and power to all other nations' authority; to guarantee peace and justice throughout the world. To found peace on equal rights. To provide a united, independent and autonomous plan. To give all nations freedom for the full development of their resources and a direct outlet to sea highways.

URGES U. S. TO JOIN PEACE LEAGUE

He strongly urged that the United States join a league of nations to enforce peace. Regarding the peace leagues power he said: "It would be absolutely necessary to create a force that no probable combination of nations could withstand. This force would guarantee the settlements permanently. If peace endures, an organized major effort of all mankind must endure it."

DEPLORES DECISIVE VICTORY

Discussing a decisive victory in the present war, the president said: "Such a result would cause humiliation and intolerable sacrifice. It would leave a bitter resentment and a bitter memory. The peace would not be permanent. Only a peace between equals can last. A right state of mind and a right feeling between nations is necessary for a lasting peace as a just settlement of vexed questions of racial and national allegiance."

CANT BE LONG DELAYED

The president said a settlement guaranteeing peace cannot "be long postponed."

It is officially announced the text of the speech has already been handed foreign governments.

The president explained his course saying it was "inevitable" that this government should participate in a "great peace enterprise." He said he felt that America did not intend to withhold its services. He felt the American people should "state the conditions under which they feel free to render help."

NO REFERENDUM FOR LIBRARY ORDINANCES

Committee in Charge Decides to Await Agreement Between Council and Commercial Club Committees.

No referendum election on the recent ordinance, passed by the council to turn over the city library property to the Pendleton Public Library, Inc., will be held. The time for filing petitions to refer the ordinance expired Saturday night.

The decision not to call for a referendum election was reached by the committee in charge last week by reason of the action of the council in appointing a special committee to confer with the Commercial club committee in an effort to reach some amicable settlement of the controversy. "The council has manifested an intention to try to bring about an adjustment of the situation," said J. Roy Hales, attorney who was preparing the referendum petitions, "and we did not wish to take any further action until the joint committee has reached an agreement."

Though the time has passed when a referendum election can be called, an initiative petition to call an election for the repeal of the ordinance may be circulated at any time.

4 DENTISTS OFFICES AND TEMPLE THEATRE ARE VISITED BY THIEVES

Dental office thieves, presumably the same who have operated recently in other parts of eastern Oregon and Washington, robbed the offices of four Pendleton dentists Saturday night and also robbed the office of the Temple theater. Gold used for filling teeth to the value of approximately $100 was stolen from the dentists while the Temple theater lost between $94 and $100 in cash.

The dental offices visited by the burglar or burglars were those of Dr. L. D. Idleman and Dr. F. L. Ingram in the Belts block, Dr. R. E. Farnsworth in the Temple block and Dr. C. F. Wood over the Dean Tatum store. Access in each case was gained by the use of a jimmy and the job was neatly done in each instance.

All of the gold in the work tables of the dentists was taken but no attempt was made to open the safes. Dr. Ingram places his loss at $50 to $100. Dr. Idleman at $25. Dr. Farnsworth at $15 and Dr. Wood at $10. Manager Welch of the Temple theater which is in the same building as Dr. Farnsworth's office, states that he knows of $94 that was in the till in his office. No attempt was made to enter the office of Dr. J. E. Sharp which is also in the Temple building. It has not been long since the office of practically every dentist in Walla Walla was robbed and it is said dental offices in Spokane and Baker have also been robbed recently.
