

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Westbrooke Dickson and daughter, Mary Louise, arrived home last evening from an extended visit in Portland.

Mrs. Robert N. Stanfield was registered at the Hotel Portland yesterday in Portland.

United Artisan ladies have arranged a delightful social meeting for this evening in Eagle-Woodman hall at which the guests of honor will be their husbands and families. Dancing and card playing will form the diversions of the affair with a supper later in the evening. The ladies have planned the gathering as a return compliment to the men who entertained them very delightfully several weeks ago.

The Misses Joie and Margaret Roeker, daughters of Sergeant F. Roeker and Lorence Duffie, of Walla Walla, were guests of Mrs. B. L. Cable over Sunday.

Among the out of town folk who witnessed the performance of "The Birth of a Nation" last night were Mrs. Charles Hogard and Mrs. H. Wessel of Stanfield and Mrs. Ralph Stanfield and daughter Maxine of Echo.

The four Parent Teacher Circles of Pendleton met in a union meeting last night in the auditorium of the Library. The different talks brought forth a profitable discussion. The music was fully appreciated. The attendance was less than 100.

The members of the Fredda Seeger Kel club met last evening at the home of the Misses Pauline and Minabelle Jones, 214 Lewis street. Following the business meeting dancing was enjoyed. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Byron Johnson returned from Elensburg today.

R. F. Peters of La Grande is registered at the Pendleton.

C. D. Waugh was in from his home at Pilot Rock yesterday.

W. B. Sergeant, La Grande attorney, spent yesterday in the city.

D. B. Banister, Athena farmer, was at the Golden Rule last night.

Martin Kupers, prominent Cold Springs farmer, is here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Slusher are up today from their Nolia ranch.

W. E. Bloch, Portland traveling man, is at the St. George today.

R. Abrahamson and Earl Gormley of Helix were in from their home last evening.

Mrs. H. H. Wessel and Mrs. Charles Hogard of Stanfield are among the Pendleton visitors.

Mrs. Cliff Overturn and Miss Berice Walker were up last evening from their home at Stanfield.

William T. Welch, traveling representative of the Pierson-Scott dry goods firm, is in the city today.

Supervisor W. W. Cryder and Ranger C. B. Horton have returned from an inspection trip into Starkey Prairie.

G. H. Bishop and F. M. Davis, Free-water attorneys, are in the city on business today.

ness today. Mr. Bishop just recently returned from an extended visit in the east and south.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop of Salem, who will leave with the Pendleton delegation to the St. Paul mid-winter carnival, arrived in the city this morning. Mr. Bishop will represent the Pendleton Woolen Mills.

HALF MILLION WOMEN ARE MAKING MUNITIONS
LONDON, Jan. 23.—Half a million women are engaged in the production of munitions in Great Britain and their number is increasing daily, said Dr. Christopher Addison, minister of munitions, in an address at the Mansion House today.

Liquor Is Confiscated.
MARSHFIELD, Jan. 22.—Sheriff Gage and two deputies confiscated fifty quarts of liquor found hidden under a brush, south of Kay. It is believed it was lowered from a steamer and brought ashore in a motorboat.

FORD BELIEVES "JITNEY" DIVERS MAY END WAR

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 23.—Pigmy submarines, carried by the German south Atlantic commerce raider, may go far toward bringing an early ending to the war, in the opinion of Henry Ford.

Big warships, the Detroit pacifist believes, are doomed to the junkpile if it develops that the Germans have started the manufacture of the pigmy U-boats in large numbers.

More than a year and a half ago Ford outlined plans on which he was working for the building of "Jitney" submarines, which he believed would constitute adequate defense for the United States coast line.

"Manufacture of the pigmy submarines is a step toward general disarmament," Ford declared today, "for there will be no profit in the building of huge warships in the future. It may mean an earlier ending of the war than has been hoped for."

MRS. JOHN TIGARD, 90, IS BURNED TO DEATH IN HOME, TIGARDVILLE

TIGARDVILLE, Ore., Jan. 23.—Mrs. John Tigard, nearly 90 years old, wife of John Tigard, for 40 years or more a resident of this place and the man after whom Tigardville was named, was burned to death shortly after noon Sunday. Her husband came home and found her dead in a chair with her clothing burned completely off. The body was charred beyond recognition.

Mrs. Tigard was in the habit of stirring the fire with a cane and it is presumed that some fire which clung to it was transferred to her clothing after she had resumed her chair. The house was tightly closed and the fire did not spread and damage it, there being no draft to fan the flames.

The funeral will be held under the auspices of the strangers at Crescent Grove cemetery, two and a half miles northwest of Tigardville, at 1:30 this afternoon.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

In assembly this morning the basketball game of Friday were discussed. Everyone was much pleased to find that twenty-five dollars had been cleared on the games.

Only two years ago basketball was considered a losing game in the high school and the students and townspeople should be complimented for putting it in a paying class.

After the games were discussed some rare musical talent was discovered when Miss Anibal suggested that the usual order be reversed and the faculty sing to the students instead of the students singing. This suggestion met with much applause from the students and accordingly the faculty lined up on the rostrum and sang the morning song much to the appreciation of the students.

The advanced classes in English under Miss Graves plan on putting motion picture films dealing with some of the best works of the standard authors and study them in connection with these works. This method of studying the authors is expected to be very interesting.

RAIDER DISAPPEARS, RENEWED OPERATIONS EXPECTED ELSEWHERE

Shippers of South America Entirely Discredit Report That Cruiser Glasgow Sank Commerce Destroyer.
BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 23.—The raider has disappeared. Shippers are momentarily expecting word of renewed operations elsewhere. They entirely discredited the report that the cruiser Glasgow sank the raider. The newspaper Standard published an unconfirmed report that a submarine halted the Spanish steamer Reina Victoria Eugenia at the mouth of the river Plate and examined her papers.

serious charges are made by Captain Reginald Bertram, one of the fifty survivors of the original Princess Patricia's Own Light Infantry who has returned to New York, wounded on his way to Canada to re-organize. Captain Bertram says that the German soldiers are much better fed than the English, and says this has been proven to the troops by the contents of German knapsacks. All that the British soldiers get, he says, is "embalmed" beef, probably furnished by grafting Canadian firms, which most of the troops throw away after taking one disgusted taste.
