OFFICIAL IS KILLED BY PENSION SEEKER

Tragedy Takes Place in Olympia State House When E. W. Olson Is Shot; By John Vandell.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 2.—With the remark, "Hello, Old Timer," John Vandell, a logger, early yesterday afternoon fired three bullets from a .38-caliber revolver into the head of E. W. Olson, chairman of the state industrial insurance commission, as Olson sat at his desk using the office telephone. The revolver was fired at a range of a few inches and Olson died instantly where he was sitting.

remarking to H. E. Norwood, at the outer door: "I got him, and now the state will have to take care of me, anyhow."

MUCH FRENCH GOLD WAS SENT TO LONDON

$96,000,000 Sold Last Year and Unstated Sums Lent for Period of War.

PARIS, Feb. 1.—A statement of the Bank of France's transactions during the year 1916, submitted at the annual meeting of the shareholders today shows the sale of gold to the Bank of England under agreements between the French and British governments of $1,000,000 francs ($24,000,000) and loans of gold to the Bank of England repayable after the war or sums figuring in the balance under the heading, "Gold Abroad," including also free deposits in Russia and the United States.

"These operations," says the report of the auditors, "have procured for France credits in London for larger than the amount of metal sent. At the last making up, accounts of 5,982,000,000 francs ($1,016,400,000) in gold and 3,489,000,000 ($67,380,000) were in the treasury; and 1,533,000,000 ($312,600,000) abroad."
The bank's temporary advances to the state amount to 7,400,000,000 francs ($1,480,000,000); circulation of bank notes, 16,650,000,000 ($3,235,000,000).

FIRING THE DEADLY TRENCH MORTAR

One of the most deadly small weapons of the war is the trench mortar. It is small, but fires a large projectile, which does terrific damage. Because of the smallness of these weapons they are easily moved about and large numbers of them may be placed in the trenches.

RISKS LIFE TO SAVE A CRIPPLE'S CRUTCH

Policeman First Saves Those in Tenement Fire Then Goes Back.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The daring rescues of a woman and two children by a policeman marked a fire last night in the six-story tenement house, No. 84 Monroe street.

Patrolman Holmacher was passing the building when he saw flames shoot from the second floor. He ran up stairs to a front apartment and smashed in a locked door.

Holmacher found the blaze burning briskly in the room and Mrs. Lillian Shapiro unconscious on the floor. He hurried her to the street and then returned and got her eleven year old son Tony.

He went back again through the smoke and came out with Daniel Gorman, six, a cripple. When Daniel was revived on the pavement he wailed: "I want my crutch."

The policeman endangered his life but went back after it.

The Biggest Value in an Automobile at Any Price The Product of Experience

Look over the field—then visit us and see if it is not an unparalleled fact that no car within several hundred dollars shows these features which mark the Chevrolet as a high quality car at the very bottom of price.

CONSIDER THE MOTOR—No car at the show within $200 of the Chevrolet shows the valve-in-head motor, the most powerful and economical of all types. More than that, the Chevrolet valve-in-head motor has a detachable head, which will cut many dollars from the cost of having valves reground or in the annual overhauling.

THE BRAKES—Few cars have the large brakes that make up but one of the safety features of this car. The mechanic will state that they are much larger than practice says is necessary, which combined with the light weight of the car, makes it positively safe on any grade and on any road.

THE OVERSIZE IDEA—Is just typical of the car from stem to stern. It's the Chevrolet way of building its prize model. All the way through you will find the crank shaft larger than practice says it need be; the propeller shaft is larger than it has to be; the axles are larger than present day standards deem necessary to carry a car of the Chevrolet's weight, over all roads. That is why this little car, that is enjoying such phenomenal popularity in its second year, is being looked to, not as follower of precedents, but as a maker of new standards.

COMFORT—Every salesman at the show will talk of the comfort that has been built into the new model. You will never know how comfortable riding a car of such light weight as the Chevrolet can be made. It is the long cantilever springs in back and a feature of spring construction in front that takes up practically all the shocks. Chevrolet calls it a built in shock absorber. It does for the front end, just what the cantilever does for the back end and looks much the same—but;

We can never tell you all the good things that you will find in Chevrolet. You will have to come and see the new models in our show.

CAN MR. GOMPERS BE SPLIT IN TWO?

If Not, How is He to Decide Where He Stands on This Strike?

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Imagined T. R. stumping the country for Woodrow Wilson.

Imagine the kaiser arrested for leading a peace riot in Berlin. Then try to imagine the American Federation of Labor as an employer of labor fighting a strike of its employees, and President Gompers issuing statements denouncing the unreasonable attitude of the strikers' union!

Just the same, the union of bookkeepers, stenographers and typewriters, employed by the American Federation of Labor has served demands on that organization for a raise it wares all down the line, a seven hour day and a Saturday half-holiday and a few other things. And the American Federation of Labor has refused practically all of them and its compromise proposals have been in turn rejected.

Of course, if the employees go on strike, all good union men are bound, as a matter of principle, to boycott the American Federation of Labor until it settles the strike. And—but figure out the other complications for yourself.

KILLS FATHER OF GIRL WHO REFUSED TO WED HIM

De Paulis Then Wounds Cousin of 15-Year-Old Virginia, Whom He Shot At.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Because fifteen-year-old Virginia Cammaro of No. 1078 St. Mark's Place, Brooklyn, refused to marry him, Joseph De Paulis, twenty-two, of No. 1883 St. Mark's Avenue attempted to kill her last night and then shot and killed her father, Frank.

De Paulis called at the girl's home said he had kept company with her for a year and thought it time they wed. She said "No," whereupon he drew a pistol and fired at her. She ran into the house and her father ran out. As he reached the street De Paulis fired three more shots, one of them piercing Cammaro's heart.

De Paulis ran into Schenectady Avenue pursued by Valerio Cammaro, Virginia's cousin, who overtook him. The men fought in the street and De Paulis's revolver again was discharged. A bullet entered young Cammaro's right knee, but it was said at St. John's Hospital his injury was only slight.

A passing policeman arrested De Paulis.

RUSSIAN PRIEST WOUNDED MINISTERING TO SOLDIERS

PETROGRAD, Feb. 2.—The official statement on war operations issued yesterday records the following incident:

"On January 19, in the region of Labovoy, on the River Shars, southeast of Bernovichi, the chaplain of one of our divisions, with a cross and holy water, made a tour of our front line trenches blessing the troops. Although under artillery and trench mortar fire of the enemy, the brave priest did not hesitate in his ministrations and both he and another private, accompanying him, were mortally wounded, the latter dying an hour later."

HELP FOR BRONCHIAL COUGHS.

The simplest and quickest way to get rid of wearing racking coughs is to take Foley's Honey and Tar. You get the curative influence of the pine balsam and other healing ingredients, together with the mollifying and laxative action of honey. Editor C. T. Miller, Cannelton, Ind. (Inquirer) writes: "I was troubled with bronchial affection and coughed constantly day and night. I took Foley's Honey and Tar and got relief. It is great for bronchial colds and coughs." La grippe and bronchial coughs, croup, hoarseness, tickling throat, yield readily to its healing influence. Tallman & Co.
