What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

Valeska Suratt, Woman of Many Beautiful Gowns, Stars in "The Victim."

At the Pastime today for the last time will be shown the William Fox photoplay with Valeska Suratt, Herbert Hayes and all star cast. The play throughout is very interesting, dealing with the misfortune that overtakes an innocent girl whose father is a criminal and the police link her with his crimes although she knows nothing about them. Her hardships after serving a term in prison are graphically told but she wins finally in the end. Mrs. Suratt wears many beautiful gowns in "The Victim."

In addition is a George Ovey comedy, "Jerry's Winning Ways."

Alta Friday and Saturday. In the midst of unorthodox farces and "thrillers" it is sometimes well to pause and consider the more serious sides of life. In "The Martyrdom of Philip Stronk," the Paramount Picture at the Alta theater, there is, in addition to an intensely absorbing drama, food for much thought on the more serious things of this life. Never for a moment is it thrust upon one that there is a great moral lesson in the photoplay, which can be enjoyed as a drama of the highest type, but when the last shadow flickers upon the screen one realizes that a tremendous thought and a great inspiration have been embodied in the story. Robert Conness and Mabel Trunnelle are featured members of the cast of this great photodrama which is an adaptation of the celebrated works of the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon.

"The Truam Soul" Presenting Henry B. Walthall.

Dr. John Lancaster, famous surgeon, is beset by a hidden menace. It drags him to the depths of depravity. A brave little nurse, recognizing the genius shoulders the burden of his battle. She has nursed him back to health when a man seeking the surgeon's ruin sets fire to the hospital in which he sleeps. As the huge building burns, the fiend is shot to death by a maniac. The surgeon escapes. That life which the brave little nurse had brought back to him, he gives in to her keeping.

House Peters at the Temple Today and Saturday in "The Velvet Paw."

House Peters was originally cast for a wild and woolly westerner, but he came east and became an actor. Since that time he has traveled extensively all over the face of the globe, playing in some of the biggest stage productions which toured Europe. He has also had a varied motion picture career, but he scored the most of his success with the World Film Corporation in such masterpieces of the celluloid as "The Hand of Peril," "The Closed Road" and "The Rail Rider." His next film production will be "The Velvet Paw," in which he is starred with Gail Kane. This is a political play dealing with the child labor problem which occupied the attention of congress recently, and is chock full of emotion and nerve-racking situations. It was directed by Maurice Tourneur at the Paragon Studio and will be shown on the screen of the Temple theater today and Saturday.

ELECTION OF SCHOOL DIRECTORS EXTENDED TO ALL THE VOTERS

Lower House Passes Bill Removing Property Qualification.

If a bill passed yesterday in the lower house becomes a law, hereafter all Pendleton voters can take part in the election of school directors regardless of whether or not they are property owners. The bill, introduced by Sheridan of Jackson, removes the property qualification, giving to all citizens in districts of the first and second class the right to say who shall administer their schools. However, it does not extend the KARL JORN.

Karl Edward Heinrich John, a noted tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, of New York, has applied for his "second papers" for naturalization as an American citizen. It is reported that John, who is still a German citizen, was recently ordered by wireless to return to Germany, ostensibly to sing at the Royal Opera, but other reports have it that he was to be sent to join his regiment at the front.

WILLIAM A. BRADY PRESENTS

House Peters AND Gale Kane

IN THE VELVET PAW

This is an interesting story of life in Washington as led by the members of Congress and the Senate. How a woman's influence nearly sets the house upside down and the effect of lobbyists on legislation is the theme of this extraordinary World, Brady-Made picture. Written by Paul West, directed by Maurice Tourneur at the Paragon studio with House Peters and Gale Kane in the leading roles, it is by far one of the most absorbing and timely subjects to be released in many months.

ALSO PLENTY OF COMEDY.
