MOTION PICTURE NEWS

What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

FIRST CHINESE MOTION PICTURE ACTRESS

In Chinese drama there are no women actors. As was once the custom in the English-speaking theater, the leading lady is unknown. But when the Imperial Chinese Players decided to put upon the screen a story of the life and customs of the Chinese in San Francisco, they made up their minds to break through the immemorial custom of their native theater. Therefore Miss Lin Neong makes her bow to an American public as the leading lady of the Red Feather photoplay, "The War of the Tongs," which was written, produced and acted entirely by Chinese, under the supervision of the Universal's director-general, and which will come to the Cosy theater on Tuesday and Wednesday. Miss Neong is not in the least "camera shy," and her work will be found to compare very favorably with that of our own leading Occidental actresses.

Petrova's Role as Woman of Honor Suggests Career of Mrs. Boissevain.
The activities of the late Inez Milholland Boissevain in behalf of the working classes are suggested in the role Madame Petrova plays in the Metro production, "Bridges Burned," which will be seen at the Alta theater on Tuesday and Wednesday. The spirit of reform and achievement of Mrs. Boissevain was the same that actuates Mary O'Brien (Madam Petrova) in her work in behalf of the factory girls with whom fate threw her into contact.

During the preparations for the taking of the picture Madame Petrova spent much time in the manufacturing centers of the east studying the conditions and surroundings of the employed young women. She made friends of several of the workers and from them, at first hand, learned the problems with which they are battling.
"I was surprised to find the great good that has been done by the much-abused reformer," said Madame Petrova. "There are model factories in and about eastern cities, descriptions of which would seem like fables. All these changes have been brought about by the reformer. The pling of a role wherein the sisterly spirit of help is shown always pleases, for the reason that it always makes for good."

DOROTHY DALTON IN "BACK OF THE MAN"

"Back of the Man," the Kay Bee drama which will be shown at the Temple theater Tuesday and Wednesday tells one of the strongest stories of business life that Thomas H. Ince has presented on the Triangle program in some time.
Dorothy Dalton is starred at the head of a cast that includes Charles Ray, Margaret Thompson, Jack Livingston and J. Barney Sherry.
"Back of the Man" recounts the history of a youth of brilliant prospects who lets ambition lead his heart astray from the one woman able to guide him to the heights of life. But just when all that he has sought in the way of material prosperity seems within his grasp the young man becomes entangled in a murder mystery. The manner in which he is cleared of this crime and at the same time has his eyes opened to the real worth of the woman he has neglected makes the big thrills in a cleverly constructed plot.

What girl has not dreamed of marriage with some Prince of Finances, with all her worldly worries drowned in a sea of luxury? In "The Price She Paid" such a girl fulfills her dream only to awaken to the bitter knowledge that the price paid for her is as nothing compared with the price she has to pay. Then into her loveless life comes a strange man whose first words to her cause a self-revelation such as she never faced before. Under the influence of this new interest the girl determines to rebuild her life and the accomplishment of this purpose is woven with the cross threads of love that carry a theme enmeshed in interest and suspense up to the final scene.

Unless the Russian republic develops a vodka there it ought to get on nicely.

A CHILD HATES OIL, CALOMEL, PILLS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS" IF CROSS, SICK, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicate "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "57th laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children, of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.
