Our Values and Prices vs. Special Sales

We hold no special sales. Our every day price is far below any sale price quoted by our competitors. Sales are generally excuses for too large a profit. Our profits are smaller than any one in the dry goods field today, still we are making money. Under no circumstances do we put in an inferior quality in order to meet the price. The brands of stately merchandise that we carry are all standard and are shown by every retailer in the United States. Compare these prices with any one's special inducements and prove to yourself that what we say is true.
