

PURE FOOD GROCERIES FOR LESS MONEY

THAT'S OUR MOTTO—THE BEST FOR THE LEAST.

Our customers live better for less money than those who buy elsewhere—and all because of the purity and wholesomeness of our groceries and our low Cash Prices.

Not percentage of profit, but gross profit at the year's end is our aim. That result is best attained by making a small profit on each item and thus doing a much larger volume of business.

That means that we buy our goods in larger quantities for cash, sell for cash and thereby get a lower price, making it possible for us to give pure food groceries for less money.

Be frugal, healthy and happy by buying here.

OFFICIAL WAR PICTURES WITH LECTURE BY WAR HERO TO BE SHOWN AT THE ALTA THURSDAY

To fully realize just what this war means, Pendleton will have a chance in a thousand at the Alta theater Thursday, July 5th, in Canada's fighting pictures, formally sanctioned by the authorities at Ottawa. No screen production has reached this city which follows the Canadians all the way through as this does, from the departure of the early battalions from Vancouver, right across the continent and the Atlantic through terring battle for the first time, later giving way to the fascination all have to fight to the finish, to take chances, to run and take the enemy by baronet in preference to long waits in the trenches. His arm came off in a Belgian convent after being riddled with machine gun bullets. To the tender nursing and prayers of the sisters he attributes his recovery, as he was given up for dead by the French doctor. From there he was taken to the detention camp where soup was made of "nothing" and a square of horse flesh formed the chief food of the day. Three days on a stick of chocolate was preferable. It was by assuming idiocy that he was finally exchanged for a German prisoner. "And I found it harder to convince the English doctors I wasn't crazy than I did the German doctors that it was," he adds, laughing.

SERGEANT "DOC" WELLS, the one armed hero of the battle of Ypres and escaped prisoner of war from Germany, who tells his experiences and explains the official Canadian government War Films at the Alta Theater Thursday, July 5th.

Natural humor gives Sergeant Wells' story a natural finish. He keeps his audience from over-emphasis on the serious characteristics of war, but at the same time does not fail to make one realize the unending tribute all Canadians should pay to those who went away in the day and stood the brunt of the battle when odds were many to one.

LABOR IN JAPAN IS GROWING STRONG

TOKIO, July 2.—Another step in the organization of labor in Japan was recently made when the Yunt Kai or Friendly Society, Nippon's nearest approach to a labor union, decided to divide its membership according to the trades of the workers. The present branch system, under which the society is divided by geographical convenience, will also be continued. The society decided to erect a labor hall in Tokio which hereafter will be the headquarters of the union.

Mr. H. Suzuki, the founder of the society and known as the Gompers of Japan, was re-elected president at the recent annual meeting. A significant feature showing the broad and increased interest in the movement was the speeches made by three prominent Japanese university professors.

On August 1 of this year the organization will celebrate the fifth anniversary of its founding. Since its establishment, the society has made steady progress and today has 110 local offices and branches all through the empire. The roll of members totals over 27,000 workers.

KRONSTADT OLD RUSS FORTRESS

In Days of Czar Place Was Considered Absolutely Impregnable.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—In a war geography bulletin the National Geographic society gives the following information about the fortified city of Kronstadt where rebel Russians attempted to set up a separate government.

"The Malta of the Baltic" is the name given to Kronstadt and the small island of Kotlin which it occupies, but a more appropriate name would be "the Gibraltar of Petrograd," for the supposedly impregnable fortress commands the sea avenue to the great Russian capital.

"The island of Kotlin, which is a little more than seven miles long and a mile and a quarter wide, lies at the western extremity of the bay of Neva, in the fresh water discharged by the River Neva. To the west is the Gulf of Finland.

"Kotlin was first fortified in 1701 by Peter the Great, when it was wrested from the Swedes, but it was not until seven years later that the great monarch laid out the town of Kronstadt and began the systematic erection of its defenses. Three hundred thousand men are said to have been employed on this work, but it was not completed until the reign of Peter's daughter, Elizabeth.

"The town, which had a population of 55,000 at the beginning of the world war, is intersected by two waterways—the canal of Peter the Great, begun in 1721 but not completed until 31 years later, and the Catherine canal, constructed in 1782. Between these two canals stands the Italian palace of Prince Menshikoff, one of the most picturesque figures in all Russian history. Born of the most humble parents, Menshikoff at the age of 29 was selling meat pies in the streets of Moscow when he attracted the attention of Lefort, Peter the Great's favorite. On the death of the latter Menshikoff succeeded to the place of honor with his sovereign and served him energetically. It is said of Menshikoff that he could 'drill a regiment, build a frigate, administer a province and decapitate a rebel with equal facility.' Upon the death of Peter he became the virtual ruler of Russia during the brief reign of Peter's widow, Catherine I. A turn of the wheel of fortune finally cast him from his high estate—his great wealth, largely acquired through corruption, was confiscated and he and his family were exiled to Siberia, where he died in 1729.

AMERICAN MEDICAL CORPS STIRS GREAT BRITAIN.

The appearance in Great Britain of the American medical unit, of which Dr. George W. Crile, the great Cleveland surgeon and author, and Captain A. D. Tuttle, were the leaders, has stirred Great Britain's population to turn out for a holiday. Dr. Crile, who had already seen a year of more of service with the French, is known in Great Britain as well as in the United States. At er his return from the front he published, "Man—An Adaptive Mechanism," which has been declared the greatest work on science ever written by an American. Captain Tuttle is a regular army man who will act as adjutant for the corps.

GIRLS! MAKE A BEAUTY LOTION WITH LEMONS

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart jar of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier. Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart jar of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is truly marvelous to smoothen rough red hands.
