Mr. and Mrs. H. Masterton of La Grande spent a few days in Pendleton last week. —La Grande Observer.

Mrs. Rose Campbell, local milliner, expects to leave during the latter part of the week for San Francisco on a buying trip. While en route she will visit Palo Alto where her son, who is a member of the Idaho National Guard, is soon to be stationed.

A delightful afternoon of needlework and chatting was enjoyed yesterday by members of the college set when Miss Jennie Perry entertained for the pleasure of Mrs. Hawley Bean of Echo, Miss Ruth Beach of Portland and Miss Lillian Brock of Hood River. The pretty tea table was presided over by Mrs. James Johns Jr. and Miss Mildred Berkeley, while Miss Mary Johns and Miss Lillian Boylen assisted in serving.

A group of the younger set enjoyed a picnic supper last evening, motoring out to a pretty spot near Mission.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Terney and family left today for an outing at Hilda-was.

Miss Ella Bradburn left on No. 18 last night in response to a telegram telling of the death of her mother, which occurred at Dodge City, Kansas.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop of Salem is being welcomed by her many Pendleton friends, having arrived this week for an indefinite visit. While here Mrs. Bishop will be domiciled in the C. M. Bishop apartments in the Association block.

Miss Ruth Beach left on No. 17 today for her home in Portland, after having spent several days as the guest of Miss Jennie Perry.

The club room of the Library will be the scene of an interesting affair on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock when a committee of ladies appointed

Found A Watch

It looks as if it belongs to a substantial citizen. It feels that way, too; it's smooth and solid and thin. It slips into your pocket like a silver dollar and lies there snug and fast.

It keeps good time. It's the kind of watch your friends check their time by—that always gets you to your train while it is still in the station.

I've been looking for this watch for years. I know my customers want a small, thin, accurate, 4-jewel watch; but until now the price of such a watch has been more than many of them cared to pay. That's why this new one is such a find. It is the "Waterbury Watch", a new invention, and the price is just about a third what you think it would be. It's $3.50.

In a letter from Major Wm. K. Gilbert, captain of the Third Oregon Infantry to Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, state president of the W. C. T. U., the chaplain expresses grateful thanks for the contribution for baseballs which was recently sent from this county. The letter says:

Clackamas Ore., July 9, 1917. Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, Portland, Ore.

Dear Mrs. Kemp: Through you I wish to thank the people of Umatilla and Union counties and the friends of the Indian Mission for the $18 for baseballs.

I am today sending $5.50, the price to us of 1 dozen balls to Co. I at Medford. That team defeated every team in Southern Oregon.

It is wonderful how the men enjoy the national game. It is the one recreation.

I will call soon for the gun racks. Thank you for your kindness. Thus far not a single known case of drunkenness in our entire regiment after 2 1/2 months with 2954 men.

Very truly, WM. S. GILBERT.

Mrs. Benjamin L. Burroughs and son, Bobby, have arrived from Pendleton, to pass the summer with Mrs. Burroughs' mother, Mrs. Nellie L. Williams, of Willamette boulevard. Mrs. Burroughs will take several motor trips about the city.—Portland Oregonian.

Little 11 year old Lucile Pearson of Umatilla county is the youngest charter member of the Patriotic Relief Division, an organization recently developed by the W. C. T. U. and which is finding a hearty response all over the state. Thousands of members are being enrolled, the object "To help the Oregon woman's Christian Temperance Union to meet the call for a greater patriotic service to our country, in this her hour of need," being especially appealing.

Mrs. Jessie Schultz of Portland, who has been spending the past few days in Pendleton expects to return home tonight.

Luther J. Goldman, predatory animal inspector for Idaho, arrived last evening to hold a conference with S. E. Pifer, general inspector who has been here for several days. They will leave this evening for Pocatello.

M. Jones of Stanfield is a Pendleton visitor.

A SUBMARINE TORPEDO COMING HEAD ON

If you were to stand on the deck of a liner and saw something like this coming toward you, you would know the end had come. This torpedo was launched from a submarine, and it fails to go far below the surface of the water. The waves washed it as it went on to destroy whatever it struck.

F. G. Lucas is here from Weston. Bud Rippey of Pilot Rock is at the Bowman. William Weatherford of Dayton is at the Pendleton. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gagen are over from La Grande. Charles Hoskins, young sheepman of Echo, is spending the day in the city.

Darrell Cannon, well known young buckaroo of the John Day country, is registered at the St. George. Miss Bridgett McDevitt arrived home this morning after spending two weeks with her brother near Gardiner.

Mrs. Evan Cameron accompanied her husband in from Pilot Rock this morning. She is one of Troop D's war brides.

Harold T. McKenke, the "wizard of the Remington posting machine," is giving a demonstration in Pendleton this week and is attracting much attention.

C. O. Rinehart, local representative of M. H. Houser, returned yesterday from Seaside where he spent two weeks. His family will remain there for some time longer.

CITIZENS OF ADAMS SAY FAREWELL TO THEIR SOLDIER BOYS

IMPRESSIVE GATHERING HELD AT CITY HALL AS TRIBUTE TO TROOP D MEMBERS.

(East Oregonian Special.)

ADAMS, July 25.—Monday night at 8:30 a large gathering of the citizens of this community assembled at the city hall to say farewell to the members of Troop D, Oregon National Guard, who go from our midst.

Charles Ford was not present, as notice of the meeting failed to reach him. Ben H. Inman, who has been very helpful in all of our preparedness gatherings, and drill master of our local unit, goes with his company Wednesday, the 25th.

The following appropriate program was rendered: J. A. Winn presiding. Song—America. By the Audience Invocation. Rev. J. R. L. Haslem Song—Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue. Hattie Lewis, Martha Stall, Louise Desvoigne and Helen Boyer.

Poem—Somebody's Darling. Ben H. Inman Solo—Esther Ried Song—The Star Spangled Banner. Charles Ford Solo—Canning the Kaiser. Mrs. Haslam Address. G. O. Richardson Presentation of New Testament.

Response. By Rev. Haslam Song—God Be With You Till We Meet Again.

The program was well rendered and the audience was appreciative. The following is a synopsis of the address:

"This is a great occasion for Adams. As a community we have contributed liberally to the Red Cross work, which ministers to the amelioration of the wounded and sick. We filled the apportioned amount asked by the Young Men's Christian Association work which conserves, nourishes and develops the fine qualities of mind and soul that qualify for true bravery. Tonight we make the gift to our country of two brave men, either one of whom are of more value than all the combined gifts of money to the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. In the sight of God one human life outweighs the whole world.

"These are the first men of our community to voluntarily put their lives between us and the powers that would crush our free institutions and extinguish our civil liberty.

"We believe their master motive to be to assure such freedom to mankind that each individual life may be fashioned according to the dictates of our Creator, who speaks to us through divine revelation and the voice of conscience.

"Actuated by a patriotism that comprehends love for native and appreciation of favorable opportunities, the developing the highest qualities of manhood and the highest enjoyment of God's best gifts; replete with a pride of our national history inspired by high ideals of our government, we send you forth to save the free. May the vision of a federated world without a ha'ha cry, without a man of a war-widow or orphan. Nerve you for that quest of selfishness that robs the majority that a select few may monopolize the luxuries and emoluments of the earth."

FRENCH WIN AGAIN AT VERDUN

The many attempts of the German Crown Prince to retake the lost positions northwest of Verdun have culminated in a smashing defeat. German official reports admit that the French have driven through their lines in the Malancourt Wood (1) and the French claim that they defeated every effort of the Germans to hold the Avocourt Woods and Hill 264 (2). The British report asserts that the French suffered a reverse along the Malancourt road (3).

YOUR COUNTRY. "And for your country, boy, and for that Flag, never dream a dream but of serving her as she bids you, even though the sword ice carry you through a thousand hills. No matter what happens to you, no matter who flatters you or who abuses you, never look at another flag; never let a night pass but you pray God to bless that Flag. Remember, boy, that behind of, floors and government, and people, even, there is the Country herself—your country—and that you belong to her as you belong to your own mother. Stand by her, boy, as you would stand by your mother."—Edward Everett Hale, in the Man Without a Country.
