

August Clearance Sales

You might think that just now when the prices of everything are steadily advancing, we'd better not sell our goods at anything less than regular prices. There's a lot of sense in that view too. If our clothes and merchandise were wheat, or something that would not be affected by time, we wouldn't sell it at reduced prices on a rising market. We'd keep it to sell later at a larger price. But while our goods are to wear, the styles change from season to season and above all we must make room for new goods that are now arriving. We make it a point to carry over no old goods from season to season. WE ARE CLEANING STOCK NOW. Our way of doing it is to mark prices down, and you know that when the amount you pay for fine quality is less than usual, the value you get is greater than usual. IT'S SO HERE NOW; WE'RE GIVING YOU A CHANCE TO GET A LOT OF EXTRA VALUE FOR YOUR MONEY.
