THESE SPIDERS SEE VICTORY FOR U. S.

Letter It Out in Cobwebs, Too, and Tell Us War Ends Next Month.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 22.—Employees of the Mount Vernon Woodberry Cotton Duck Mill were deeply interested today in two cobwebs found on either side of the entrance gate.

The spider on the right had made his web in a form which spelled in bold letters "War Ends in September," while his neighbor on the left told in letters just as plain, "Victory for America."

The two had built the webs with perfect symmetry, and an expert could not have formed the letters more perfectly.

HOME READING COURSE FOR CITIZEN-SOLDIERS

LESSON NO. 10. RECREATION IN CAMP. While your days in the cantonments will be spent chiefly in drilling and other forms of training, you will have a considerable amount of time left free for your own use. Under some conditions permission may be given at times to leave the cantonment for short periods. However, this is a matter to be regulated in each camp.

If you do go away from the camp on leave, you will keep in mind always that you remain a soldier, subject to certain requirements that are not so definitely imposed on civilians. In meeting officers, whether in the camp or outside, you are expected always to treat them with proper courtesy and respect. You should remember also, even though you are not directly under supervision, to keep up your soldierly neatness and bearing.

Congress has provided that "it shall be unlawful to sell any intoxicating liquor, including beer, ale or wine to any officer or member of the military forces while in uniform," an exception being made in a number of minor required for medical purposes. Under authority of the same act it has also been ruled that alcoholic liquors shall not be sold within 5 miles of any military camp, an exception being made in case there is an incorporated city or town within that limit. It has further been provided that "the keeping or setting up of houses of ill fame, brothels or bawdy houses within 5 miles of any military camp * * * is prohibited." All these provisions and restrictions are in the interest of every right-minded soldier. They go a long way toward insuring clean and healthful living conditions in the camps. They will help to make every soldier more efficient and better able to give a good account of himself.

One of the centers of army life in camp is the post exchange at which articles for personal use, knickknacks, soft drinks, and so on are sold. You will be safe in depending on the good quality and fair price of everything offered in the post exchange.

In general, the matter of providing for recreation and personal comforts in the cantonments has been treated by the secretary of war to a small body of men known as the Commission on Training Camp Activities. The commission includes an army officer and representatives of organizations that had had much experience in meeting the needs of men of the type who will go into the national army. It will have the cooperation of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Knights of Columbus. Other associations may also work with the commission. This task of attending to the social needs of the soldiers has been organized with all most as much care and thoroughness as the larger task of making ready for the firing line.

The Young Men's Christian Association is building a hut for the men in each brigade. In these huts moving picture or vaudeville shows will be given every night. Writing materials can be had for the asking. A piano will be at hand. The Knights of Columbus will have one large building in each camp, in which there will be facilities of the same kind.

Both these organizations will conduct religious services every Sunday. Men of all creeds will be welcome. The secretaries and other officers in charge will be glad at any time to talk over any personal problems and to help you in any way they can. They are picked because of their willingness and skill in rendering service. They will always make you welcome, get in touch with either of these organizations as soon as you have opportunity after you reach camp. The chaplain attached to each regiment also looks after the spiritual and moral welfare of the men.

In every cantonment there will be a complete library building where you will be able to obtain books and magazines of all kinds. This is arranged with the help of the American Library Association.

In each cantonment the Commission on Training Camp Activities is erecting a large auditorium. This is to be used partly as a theater and partly for athletic instruction. Some of the best of the "trick" companies in the country will put on Broadway productions for your benefit. These performances will be free. A place will be provided for everyone.

Those men who like singing will have plenty of chance to enjoy "sing songs" on a big scale. The commission has secured the services of well known chorus leaders to take charge of camp singing.

A great deal of attention has been given to athletics. An expert will give boxing lessons to large groups of men. This instruction is voluntary but it will be well worth your while to attend.

In some of the camps where bathing beaches are not far away, instruction will be given in swimming.

Team athletics, such as baseball, basketball and football, will be developed under the guidance of expert coaches. One of the members of the commission will be in general charge of this line of activity in all the camps.

Of course all these facilities are for use of your spare time only. They are not to interfere with the steady process of training which alone can make you a real soldier. However, you will enjoy your hours of recreation all the more because they have been preceded by hours of hard work. The recreation as well as the work has its place in the general plan for turning out an efficient army of self-reliant citizen soldiers in the quickest possible time.

Summer Complaint. During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. P. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states of first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results.—Adv.

(East Oregonian Special.)

UMAPINE, Ore., Aug. 22.—Lieutenant D. H. Wilson of the Presidio training camp of California, is visiting this week with his sister Mrs. Kyle McDaniel. The lieutenant is enthusiastic over the new army being trained and says that the boys are all anxious to get to the front in France, confident that there will be two million boys backing them up once they have smashed through the German lines. He also states that the training camp life is the best thing in the world for American boys and that Uncle Sam is endeavoring by lectures every day to impress on the soldiers' mind such morals that instead of returning home debauched and moral wrecks they will return men of sterling character and in splendid physical condition. Lieutenant Wilson says that in this end of the country we have no idea of the bustle and preparations being made in San Francisco and coast cities for transporting troops and provisions and that the streets of these cities are lined with trucks and vans loaded high with merchandise and war munitions.

Keep the Children Snug and Warm in "Dorset" and "Subwool" Blankets

Tuck the children between a pair of "Dorset" or "Subwool" Blankets. No danger of them becoming chilled, even on the coldest nights.

"DORSET" WOOL BLANKETS are made of selected wool—long warps with a filling that is free from foreign matter. The special process of napping gives to the blankets that soft "feel"—a feature that assures warmth—and quality, too.

"SUBWOOL" COTTON BLANKETS are made of choice American and Chinese cottons, with a finish that closely resembles wool blankets. They are quality-made throughout, and will give long and lasting service.

These blankets come in a variety of colors that withstand repeated washings with little effect to their brightness and luster, with little effect to their brightness and luster at prices ranging from

- SUBWOOL COTTON BLANKETS $3.50 to $5.00 per pair.

WARRIOR COTTON BLANKETS are moderate in price, yet quality-made. Choice "midding" cotton, fresh from the fields, enters into these blankets—no inferior grades of cotton are used in making the "Warrior." $1.00 to $2.95 per pair.

WINTERING OF SHEEP NOW BEING PLANNED BY WOOLGROWERS

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 22.—Plans for the careful wintering of as many sheep as possible are now being outlined by the woolgrowers of the country.

According to Secretary S. W. McClure of the National Woolgrowers' association and Secretary C. B. Stewart of the Utah Woolgrowers' association, five stock men are taking more care in wintering their sheep, which it is believed will increase the next wool clip all over the country.

The saving of ewe lambs is being largely followed in the western states and as many of the ram lambs are being saved as possible, to increase the wool supply during the coming season.

Plenty of feed is promised on the winter ranges, but meal cake and hay will be stored, so as to have them on hand in case another hard winter should set in.

REDFIELD DENOUNCES PEACE MOVES IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Secretary of Commerce Redfield in the first formal utterance of any member of the President's cabinet since the pope's peace proposal was received scathingly denounced the peace movements launched in the United States. He declared the world has two opposing ideals, the ideals of autocracy and democracy. He called Germany a desperate among nations and declared it was against her militant autocracy that America was fighting. "In this fearful combat when autocracy trembles on the edge of disaster, this is time you countenances your voice in its behalf."
