Amusements

What the press agents say about Pendleton's present and coming attractions.

An announcement of uncommon interest to theatergoers and book readers alike is that one of the greatest of the year's output of extraordinary attractions involving lavish film production, Clive's multiple reel pictorial, translation of Harold Bell Wright's famous story of love and adventure, "The Eyes of the World," has been booked for presentation here at the Arcade Theater Wednesday and Thursday, September 5 and 6. The production is described briefly as a visualization in photodrama on a lavish scale—with which is coordinated a musical score much the same as in opera—of Wright's red blooded and romantic novel of California which has enjoyed a sale of more than 1,000,000 copies. This Clive production is said to be a gorgeous one in every respect. It is the fruitage of six months' exclusive and unremitting work at the big studios at Los Angeles and on the actual scenes described in the book. Those who have seen the virile characters of this delightful and stirring novel moving before the eyes as they clash in the struggle of two opposing ideals declare that it is the finest depiction of a current story ever put upon the screen.

A Play Within a Play

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

STORY OF THE PLAY AT COSY SUNDAY-MONDAY
 A new superintendent arrives at the Alax Mines, on the Mexican border with his wife, Lucy Ferris, James who has enlisted under an assumed name and whose troop is stationed at the mine, discovers his former sweetheart, Lucy. Ferris, an inveterate gambler, plots with a drunken trooper to rob the paymaster of the Ajax. The money is taken to Lucy's home. Transpiring events bring Sargent James face to face with the problem of carrying out orders or allowing the woman he loves to be dishonored. How he prevents the latter and escapes conviction by court martial is a most absorbing episode, in which the play assumes tremendous dramatic interest, thrill following thrill until the final smashing climax is reached.

Alta Today.
 "If ever anyone earned a nickname, I'm sure that person is I—no, I," laughed little Ann Pennington, while rehearsing for her latest Paramount picture, "The Little Boy Scout," produced by the Famous Players company. "You see," she continued, "they all call me 'Penny' for short—and here I have 'turned up' again at the motion picture business after my absence of a whole long winter"—and with that the tiny star slipped away to start another scene, sending back over her shoulder, "You see, if I should stand there and talk to you much longer I'll be not only a 'Penny,' but a bad penny at that!" "The Little Boy Scout" will be the attraction at the Alta Theater today.
