UMATILLA COUNTY FARMS PLAY BIG PART IN FEEDING
THE SOLDIERS WHO FIGHT FOR CAUSE OF FREEDOM

Umatilla county normally produces between 5 and 6 million bu. of wheat and this year every effort was made to increase the yield. It is safe to say that the Umatilla county farmers raised a bushel of wheat for every soldier in the British army. In addition the Blewett Manufacturing Co. of Pendleton turned out 50 up-to-date combine harvesters to aid in garnering the crop of the inland empire. The top view shown above is of a Blewett harvester working on an Eastern Washington ranch. The other views show harvesters of various makes at work on Umatilla county farms. No. 1 is the Bruno Webber combine; 2, George La Fountain; 3, N. A. Humphrey; 4, Thomas Thompson; 5, Ira Perkins; 6, W. S. Campbell; 7, George Peringer and 8, Frank Snyder. Practically all the harvesting in the county is done by combines.
