Some people think tobacco an evil that should be barred also, but they are mistaken. Lady Nicotine is the soldier's friend and protector and the practical men in charge of affairs realize this, though of course excessive use of tobacco is frowned upon. All in all it may be set down that the United States is making good use of experience gained in the Spanish war and it is gratifying to know that while the battlefields of this war may reap a heavier toll the camp casualties seem in line to be light.

ONE WAY TO BE HAPPY THOUGH MARRIED

There would be few divorce suits and cases of domestic disagreement if every home observed a rule that a former Pendleton couple claim they have followed throughout many years. Their plan is for each to be ready at all times to meet the wishes and serve the happiness of the other. Under that plan each is always endeavoring to move toward the other and it follows they can never get far apart. Whether this recipe for conjugal bliss will always work the East Oregonian does not know nor will it swear that the people in question always abide by their scheme but that it is a good one to follow is obvious—though requiring team work for its successful operation.

THE PRESS FACES A DUTY

The East Oregonian is glad to note that it is far from being alone in its view that the newspapers of America should not insist on paid advertising in connection with publicity for the second liberty loan. The Boston Post takes its stand on the patriotic side of this issue and points out as did Secretary McAdoo the difficulty the government would face in saying what publications should have the advertising, there being 30,000 publications all told in the country.

In conclusion the Boston paper says: The patriotic press, and most of the American press is patriotic, needs no added incentive in the form of paid advertising to do its level best to back up Secretary McAdoo in financing the war loans. It is for them an opportunity for service, and as such it is not merely a duty but a privilege to be able to help Uncle Sam. The next Liberty Loan will be a rounder success, Mr. Congressman, and the patriotic newspapers of America do not need to be paid for "doing their bit" in helping to make it so.

A further reason why liberty loan publicity should and will be given free of cost may be found in the fact the public will have a genuine interest in the facts pertaining to the loan and they will look to the press to provide the information desired. A publication refusing to carry a reasonable volume of liberty loan news will be neglectful of its own readers as well as a slacker to the country in time of need.

RULES FOR PRINTING NEWS OF U. S. ARMY
Gen. McIntyre, Censor, Tells of Restrictions Upon Reports and Comment.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The War Department censor, Brig. Gen. Frank McIntyre, has drawn up a set of rules for his own guidance in deciding what may be printed regarding the army. They say in part:

"Selection of men, appointment of officers, movement to training camps, daily life and training therein, all may be reported on and may be freely pictured. The only reservation is that actual train schedules and routes should not be published.

"In training camp or cantonment, except experiments in material improvements or formations, the daily life may be discreetly described. Honest and timely comment and criticism can, from a military point of view, do little harm.

"No departure or preparation for departure from training camps should be published. No movements of troops after leaving cantonments should be published. No reports of embarking, sailing, arrival or disembarking should be published, nor should the ports of embarkation or disembarkation be given. To this rule there is no exception.

"When troops have reached the field of operations there is but one rule to govern publication, that is, nothing should be published or pictured except with prior governmental approval. This approval, in so far as it relates to confidential reports of operations and actions, is given by a representative of the commandant general in the field.

"The editorial comment at home should not discuss facts not as reported from the front, but based on such facts comment and criticism are limited only by rules of good faith and intelligence."

With the wheat price guaranteed by the government our farmers need have no worry over market fluctuations this year and may concentrate on efforts to raise big yields next summer.

Why should a shoplifter indulge in petty thievery when with the same energy he might get away with a ham or some other article of extreme value?

The senators need not bother about anonymous death letters; the man who intends to kill someone seldom starts in by talking about it, as Peter Stuyvesant used to say.

Being engaged in teaching a new press how to work the East Oregonian is inclined to sympathize with Parsons Mottic in his harvester hereabouts.

28 YEARS AGO

From the Daily East Oregonian, Sept. 27, 1889.
Mrs. Ellen Livermore, Mrs. F. B. Sharon and several other of our best citizens have received their portraits given by E. N. Patton of Denver, Colo.

C. R. Jackson wishes to buy from $2000 to $10,000 of Umatilla county scrip.

One thousand pounds of beef was shipped today by R. Bond, the contractor, to the troops on the reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Alexander returned on today's train from their eastern trip.

Master Charles Bond is a very sick boy from an attack of fever.

Telegraph wires were put into the temporary offices of the O. & W. T. R.R., corner of Webb and Willow streets today.

Lola Culp and Smith Stanton captured 62 fine fish near the agency yesterday.

ARGENTINE STRIKE SPREADS

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 26.—Business houses and stores closed this afternoon in anticipation of the most formidable pro-war demonstration tonight. The strike is spreading. One man was killed and many hurt when the military authorities tried to operate the trains.

RUSSIANS REPUDIATE GERMAN PEACE REPLY

PETROGRAD, Sept. 26.—All classes of Russians repudiated Germany's reply to the pope's peace proposal, according to consensus of newspaper opinion. Even Maxim Gorkys Bolshevik organ attacked the German reply.

The military section of the soldiers' workmen's council issued formal demand for the dissolution of all Russian battalions of death.

"It's wrong an army should contain groups of privileged soldiers, arrogating for themselves the right to die for their country's liberty. This right belongs to all soldiers, the battalions of death diminish the army's capacity, creating heroes on one side and a mass of conscientious objectors on other," the statement declared.

Experience the Best Teacher.
It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own? The experience of a thousand persons to more to be depended upon than that of one individual. Many thousands of persons have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds with the best results, which shows it to be a thoroughly reliable preparation for those diseases. Try it. It is prompt and effectual and pleasant to take.—Adv.

LIVE NEWS OVER THE NORTHWEST

German Headquarters Named.
LONDON, Sept. 11.—(By Mail)—In a letter home a Tommy gratefully mentioned that he had sent "a dozen Germans to Hell."

The censor scoured out the Satanic reference and wrote above it, "It is not permissible to refer to the German headquarters."

Cleaning Up Painted Town.
HOQUIAM, Wash., Sept. 27.—Members of the senior and sophomore classes of the Hoquiam high school today are straightening up Hoquiam after painting the town red.

Thirty boys with buckets of bright red paint put in several hours the other night painting sidewalks, a church, the home of the school principal and other buildings. School authorities made the boys remove every trace of the paint.

Gobs of red on buildings were painted over. Sidewalk planks smeared with the paint were turned over.

Gerard Will Visit Portland.
PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 27.—James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, will arrive in Portland Sunday morning for a two-day visit. He will speak Monday at the public auditorium.

Use Mails For Education.
MISSOULA, Mont., Sept. 27.—The State University of Montana will use the mails to spread education throughout the state.

The extension department, similar to departments maintained in most state universities, is now being reorganized into the public service division. Public lectures, correspondence study, lecture correspondence and lecture courses will be offered the people of the state. The division will direct community singing.

In towns where the interest in the work is manifest, the division will arrange regular lecture courses consisting of lectures, readings and concerts. The work is decidedly new in the west.

LIBERTY BONDS ARE CONVERTIBLE INTO US

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Holders of the 3 1/2 per cent interest bearing Liberty bonds will be entitled to turn them in Dec. 15, the first day for payment of interest, in exchange for 4 per cent bonds, authorized in the new Bond Bill, which was acted on finally today, when the house accepted the conference report.

The measure was sent to the White House for the President's signature.

Treasury officials are expected to form a plan by which any time depositors can come in on the new issue without losing their Jan. 1 bank interest.

TO SHIELD THE WEAK.
O bright flag, O brave flag, O flag to lead the free!
The hand of God thy colors bent,
And heaven to earth thy story lent,
To shield the weak, and guide the strong,
To make an end of human wrong,
And draw a countless human host to follow after thee!
—Henry Van Dyke.

WHOLESUME CAMP LIFE

IN 1898 the army camps produced more funerals than did the battlefields of the Spanish war. The camps were unsanitary and alive with diseases that the medical corps seemed powerless to control. So far in this war we have a situation that is the very reverse. Our youthful soldiers, whether from the officers training camps, the navy or the guard mobilization camps all look healthy and fit. They have all gained in weight and in physical vigor. Part of this is due to the wholesome outdoor life they live, abundant exercise and nourishing food. But no small part of the credit may be placed at the door of the regular army authorities who have worked out sanitary arrangements for camps and otherwise prepared to cope with the very problems now uppermost. In addition John Barleycorn has been driven from the ranks and practical steps are taken to protect the soldier from hideous danger in the form of venereal diseases.
