Actual Service Gives Leadership To Firestone SUPER CORD TIRES

THE leadership of the Firestone Super Cord has been won solely on construction producing unequalled strength, durability and flexible action. The body is built of walls of stout cord. Each cord imbedded in pure gum, no two cords ever touching to cause friction. The cushion (which is under tread to absorb shocks) is a thick layer of pure gum. The tread is tough and thick. The beads which hold the tire to the rim are specially reinforced. The side wall is also reinforced, giving extra strength against rim-cut, and raising bending point safely high. Users of Firestone Cord Tires are getting the highest average mileage enjoyed by car owners.

That motorists find extra values in Firestone Tires is proved by the fact that our sales increased 72 per cent this year up to Sept. 1st. Our total business this year will exceed $60,000,000.

ATTACHES OF THREE NATIONS MEET AGAIN

AMERICAN, FRENCH AND GERMAN LEADERS BROUGHT TOGETHER IN BATTLE. BY HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES Sept. 25.—(By Mail)—When the victorious French pushed swept up the slopes of Morbihan recently, the fortunes of war brought together on the same field of battle three generals, who as lieutenants had served together as military attaches with the Russian army in the Manchurian campaign.

One of these was General Corvisart, commanding the troops who wrested the final possession of Morbihan from the Germans. A second one was General Pershing, commanding the American expeditionary corps in France. The third one will be named later. During the Russo-Japanese war, half a dozen of the military attaches of the great powers, massed together and constituted practically a little family. All of them were lieutenants then.

Old Acquaintances Meet. When Corvisart and Pershing, both of whom have become generals since then, met by accident just before the second battle of Verdun, and renewed their old Manchurian acquaintances and friendship, General Corvisart invited General Pershing to witness the impending battle on the left bank of the Meuse from his own observatory. As the battle progressed the generals exchanged reminiscences and asked after other members of the old time mess.

General Pershing asked what had become of Lieutenant... the British member of their attaché mess, and was surprised that he had died with the rank of colonel early in the present war.

German is General Too. Then a gleam of new interest and delight came into General Pershing's face. "Von Eitel," he asked, "Lieutenant Eitel, the German attaché and member of our mess? What do you suppose has ever become of him?"

"Oh, Von Eitel," replied General Corvisart, with an even greater gleam of pleasure in his face. "Oh, he too is a general now." Then Pershing suddenly towards the battlefield added. "And if you will look quickly Mon General, you will be just in time to see my victorious poilus chasing the tail end of General von Eitel's army over the crest of Morbihan." General von Eitel, our former companion of the Manchurian mess, is the German general commanding in front of me."

Croup. If your children are subject to croup get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and when the attack comes on be careful to follow the plain printed directions. You will be surprised at the quick relief which it affords.—Adv.
