Virginia Pearson who will be seen at the Alta Theatre, today in William Fox's photoplay, "Thou Shalt Not Steal," is quite an athlete. Miss Pearson believes that in exercise there is health and beauty. Miss Pearson should have many imitators become she has both. The only styles Miss Pearson pays attention to are those which sive comfort. She absolutely refuses to wear furs in summertime. Her suppleness comes in quite. Her suppleness colors in quite bandy in Thou Shall Not Steal." This play is a detective story and nat-urally needs quick and sometimes strong acting.

SOULS TRIUMPHANT WITH WILFRED LUCAS

The fight a man and woman make against the lure of sin forms the dra-matic action of "Souls Triumphant." matic action of "Souls Triumphant."
a Triangle play featuring Wilfren Lucas and Lillian Gish, which will be shown at the Fastime theater today. Lucas appears as a young libertine who has always satisfied his desires in night revelry. Among his associates is a scarlet woman with whom he has been infatuated.

In company with her and other.

In company with her and other celebrants he visits a roadhouse one morning following an all night carousal. He quits the company and soes for a stroll through the woods where he meets Lillian Gish the daughter of a country rector. A new sort of love is aroused in him shid he resolves to win her respect. Eventually they are married, and their happiness seems insured until the husband feels the lure of the past and returns to former pleasures. But the all forgiving nobility of his sirl wife and the part she plays in averling a tragedy that threatened them wins the husband to a finer appreciation of his home life.
