Women! Here Is A Dandy Thing

Few drops on corn or callus stop pain, then they lift off.

Your high heels have put corns on your toes and calluses on the bottom of your feet, but why care now?

This tiny bottle holds an almost magic fluid. A doctor in Cincinnati discovered this ether compound and named it Freezone. Small bottles of Freezone can be had at any drug store for a few cents. Don't lisp or twist your face in agony and spoil your beauty, but get a little bottle of Freezone and apply a few drops on your tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you can lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! You get rid of a hard corn, soft corn or a corn between the toes, as well as hardened callosities, without suffering one particle. Millions of women keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let corns ache twice.

HOUSEHOLD

Kidney Bean Stew.

- 1 cupful kidney beans.
- 1 small onion.
- 2 tablespoonful rice.
- 2 cupful tomatoes.
- 2 tablespoonfuls bacon or pork drippings.
- 2 tablespoonfuls flour.
- Pinch of salt and pepper.

Soak the beans overnight. In the morning place them over the fire, adding more water if necessary. Cook slowly, until beans are soft. Add the tomatoes, onion, rice and seasoning and simmer until rice is soft. Mix flour and fat and use to thicken the stew.

Pea Soup.

- 1-2 cupful dry peas or beans, soaked at least 12 hours.
- 4 cupfuls milk.
- 2 tablespoonfuls butter or pork drippings.
- 2 tablespoonfuls flour.
- 1 teaspoonful salt.
- 1-8 teaspoonful pepper.
- 1-2 teaspoonful powdered celery leaves.

A chopped onion or some onion juice.

Put the cooked beans through a sieve. Melt the butter in a saucepan, add the flour and cook a few minutes, then add the milk, peas and seasonings and cook until it boils up well. The flour and butter thickening keep the peas from sinking to the bottom in the unsatisfactory way in which pea soup is so often made.

A Meat Substitute.

How many of us are cheerfully giving up meat two days a week and feel proud of it, and today's bulletins of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission of Washington. There are so many substitutes for meat that when we think the matter over, it is not a hardship at all to give up one-third or even one-half of our usual ration. The most common substitutes for meat are poultry, milk and cheese, and combinations of two or more of these. The lesson today is on the use of beans and peas.

Boston Roast.

- 1 cup dry kidney beans.
- 1/2 cup dried cranberries.
- 1 cup grated cheese.
- 1/2 teaspoonful salt.
- 1 cup milk and water.
- 1/2 teaspoonful chopped onion.

Soak the beans 24 hours. Cook in salted water until soft. Drain, put through a coarse sieve, add the onion, cheese, cranberries and salt and quart of milk, or the same amount of water in which the beans were cooked. Form into a loaf and bake in a moderate oven for 10 minutes. Baste occasionally with hot water and fat. Serve with tomato sauce. This is enough for five or six people.

Peanut Dumplings.

- 2 tablespoonfuls butter.
- 2 tablespoonfuls flour.
- 1-4 cupful peanuts, ground or peanut butter.
- 1-2 teaspoonfuls salt.
- 2 cupfuls water.
- 2 cupfuls milk.
- Pepper.

Melt the butter and cook the flour in it a few minutes. Add water, salt, pepper and cook until it thickens, then add milk and peanuts. When it boils drop dumplings into it and cook, covered, for 20 minutes. Use any good recipe for dumplings. Here is one for plain dumplings:

- 1 cupful flour.
- 2 teaspoonfuls baking powder.
- 1-2 teaspoonful salt.
- 6 tablespoonfuls Milk.

Tomato Rabbit.

- 2 tablespoonfuls butter.
- 2 tablespoonfuls flour.
- 3-4 cupful milk.
- 3-4 cupful tomatoes, strained.
- 1-2 teaspoonful soda.
- 1 pound cheese.
- 2 eggs beaten.
- Salt, mustard and pepper.

Cook the butter and the flour together, add the milk, and as soon as the mixture thickens add the tomatoes and soda. Then add the cheese, eggs and seasoning. Serve hot on toast or crackers.

SPLIT SECOND BASEBALL HAS THE CALL; PLAYERS WHO ADD SPEED IN DEMAND

Iris Speaker

Diagram of ball diamond shows how Speaker stepping back from A to B compels catcher to step from X to Y lengthening throw from pitcher to catcher and from catcher to second base. The distances, of course, are exaggerated, the catcher being forced back no more than three feet.

Close observers have noticed that when Chapman, leading base stealer of the Cleveland Indians, attempts a steal of second, Iris Speaker, who follows him at bat, steps far back of the batter's box. The fact is, that Speaker probably has a great deal to do with Chapman's wonderful base stealing record—Chapman beat out Ty Cobb this year on the paths.

When he steps back of the plate he is pulling one of the smoothest pieces of split second baseball in the game. The step or two he takes throws the catcher back just that much farther. It is legal, but it makes the pitcher throw two or three feet farther to the catcher and the catcher throw as much farther to second. The fraction of a second taken in the extra feet the bat must travel means a great deal on a close decision. It may mean three feet to the baserunner and that three extra feet may mean an extra base and a ball game.

Answer: 486 Howard Sprackles he knows. And so do the editors of the Harvard Illustrated.

When Cambridge, along with the rest of the country, began to regard sugar as so many grains of gold, Richard Roelofs, managing editor of the Illustrated, wrote to young Sprackles, who is an editor out in California, to send along a "carload." Just casually, you know, as when you touch a friend for ten.

"All the other editors of the Illustrated felt their 'sweet tooth' and told their friends of the good luck in a round cheese. And when the Illustrated office was crowded with people declaring themselves in on the deal.

No reply from Sprackles. A humming of wires bearing words full of tears. At last the answer, now freely quoted:

"And to think," said Editor Roelofs, "Howard's minimum at Harvard last year was six."

GEN. PERSHING IS NOT TO BE BROUGHT BACK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Secretary of War Baker authorizes the statement that there is not the slightest foundation for the report that General John J. Pershing, commanding the American expeditionary force in France, is to be brought back here as chief of staff. Mr. Baker went further, declaring there was no thought of bringing Gen. Pershing back to the United States for any purpose.

Villa was doubtless stimulated into renewed activity by the reports of the border raids upon Chicago banks.
