At The MOTION PICTURE THEATRES

Cosy Tonight
Frank Borzage, popular young leading man of the screen, appears in the support of Brownie Vernon in the Butterfly picture "Four No's," which comes to the Cosy theatre tonight.

Pastime Today
Charles Ray's Clodhopper will start new dance rage. Charles Ray, star of "The Pinch Hitter" and "The Millionaire Vagrant," will display a new phase of his versatility in "The Clodhopper," the latest Triangle play in which he is presented as star by Thomas H. Ince. In this picture he does a dance, "The Clodhopper," with a chorus of little clodhoppers, known as "the billion dollar beauties." This dance, which Ray declares is truly American in spirit, is said to have started all the studio folk "hopping" to the music of a jazz band, which is used in the roof garden scene of the play.

Pastime Sunday-Monday — The Narrow Trail.

THE CAST
Ice Harding ..... William S. Hart
Betty Wordin ..... Sylvia Bremer
"Admiral" Bates ..... Milton Ross
"Moodie" Holloran ..... Robert Kortman
The King ..... Pony Fritz

THE STORY.
Never on the screen, stage or canvas has there been recorded a western character of such powerful appeal as the portrait of Ice Harding, a typical "bad man" of the plains painted by William S. Hart in his newest photoplay, "The Narrow Trail." Popular "Bill" Hart has presented many stirring portrayals depicting famous types of the great west in its palmy days, but in his latest picture he easily outshines even his own splendid picturizations of the past which have resulted in making him one of the very foremost actors in the hearts of the motion picture public.

Alta Today
Wallace Reid, the ever popular Paramount star who will be seen at the Alta Theatre on Friday and Saturday in "The Hostage," has accomplished nearly everything possible in the line of "stunts," flights, etc., except being tortured by fire; and this is what is done to him in "The Hostage."

These scenes were taken the day after Mr. Reid had been severely sun burned and, according to his own statement, no great call upon his artistic ability to depict the pain was necessary, for every moment was the real sort of "torture."

THIS THOS. EDISON SLEEPS 12 HOURS AND NAPS IN THE AFTERNOON, TOO

Mrs. JOHN EYRE SLOANE and SON.
Thomas Edison Sloane sleeps about 12 hours and naps in the afternoon. If he inherited any of his grandpa's knack of getting along on almost no sleep, he hasn't shown it yet. Thomas is shown in this picture with his mother, Mrs. John Eyre Sloane, daughter of Thomas A. Edison. He's gazing down the street wishing daddy or grandpa would come.
