FEW CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

SAVE YOUR HAIR! MAKE IT THICK, WAVY AND BEAUTIFUL—TRY THIS:

Thin, brittle, colorless and scaly scalp is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrivel, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandrine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair. Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Dandrine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

DAKOTA OFFICIAL CLEARED.

Jury Frees Secretary of State in 10 Minutes. BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 26.—Thomas Hall, secretary of state, was presented the most wonderful Christmas gift in all North Dakota at 12:25 yesterday morning when a Burlington county district court jury after deliberating just 10 minutes found him not guilty of embezzling from the state $2400 of its automobile registration funds. The verdict was greeted with a rousing cheer and prolonged hand-clapping from scores of friends of the secretary of state including legislators and members of the administration, who had lingered until the early hour to await the verdict.

At The MOTION PICTURE THEATRES

Alta Today
The artistry in Gladys Brockwell's new William Fox vehicle, "A Branded Soul," stands out as one of the essential virtues of the photoplay. Miss Brockwell has never given us a play so full of excellent acting. The story of "A Branded Soul" concerns the adventures of a little Mexican girl who gradually comes under the domination of a millionaire of her own land. Though she is plety itself, she finds that she must obey his will or bring ruin to those she loves. At the very climax of the action, the millionaire is overcome by the girl's sweetness and purity and he changes his philosophy of life. What is more important he also changes the manner of his living. As the people of his village, enraged against this man, threaten to kill him, the pleas of the girl he sought to harm save him from death. With her as a guide, he finds the way to forgiveness and to happiness, Alta Today.

Cosy Today
The ever popular Cosy Theatre is presenting today a program of special merit easily the feature attraction is the O'Henry picture "The Lonesome Road," and believe us it is some picture. Helen Holmes the daring daughter of the rolls will also be seen in another sensational episode of the Lost Express and Keystone Bennett comedies present the mirthful farce comedy "Whose Baby" don't fail to pay the Cosy a visit today you sure will be starting the New Years right.

"HER EXCELLENCY, THE GOVERNOR" IS NEW TRIANGLE PLAY
"Her Excellency, the Governor," the new Triangle play starring Wilfred Lucas and Elda Millar, will be shown at the Pastime theatre today. It was written by Robert Shirley and directed under the supervision of Allan Dwan. Lucius appears as the governor of the state who is in the toils of a crooked politician. He is in love with Elda Millar as Sylvia Marlowe, an attractive young lawyer who has known him since his college days. She refuses to marry him, as she thinks that his political aspirations are changing his character.

CHRISTMAS DAY AT MARE ISLAND LONG TO BE REMEMBERED

Christmas day at Mare Island was something to be remembered by the sailor boys of Uncle Sam there, judging from the following letter from Rodney Roth, who formerly made his home with Mr. and Mrs. George Meeker of this city. The letter reads in part: Electrical School, Mare Island, Cal. Christmas Day, 1917. Dear Folks: Will endeavor to jot down a few lines, while the rain beats down on the roof and the radiator at my left sings a melody all its own. It hasn't stopped raining all day and it is now after 6 o'clock. At the last moment they decided to send us out on our furlough in batches of 100 a day as they thought that too many at one time would congest the railroad and boat lines to the east, north and south from Frisco. Accordingly I am elated to leave tomorrow morning on mine. I have 16 days which I plan on spending in southern California with the rest of the winter tourists. One of the interesting things I have seen in the last few weeks was the launching of a destroyer here in the yard. It wasn't a large ship (about 1000 tons) as ships go but when she hit the water the spray flew several feet. Our government has been criminally slow in the past but it is significant of better things in the future that as soon as one had been launched the keel of another was laid immediately. In fact, just a minute before the block was hoisted the crane hoisted the keel of the new ship and it was poised in mid-air until the ways were cleared. On the way out I noticed a sign which stated "U. S. S. destroyer "Keel laid Dec. 26, 1917," which was that same day. Since then another destroyer has left for the war zone, and still two others are on the ways in addition. They are certainly a high speed craft built almost like a yacht. I was on this last one a few days before she left. Last night was a gala night on the island for the enlisted men. About 200 of the weaker sex were shipped over to do the "jazz" with us in the recreation hall. This building proved too small to handle the crush and another orchestra was improvised, and the overflow transferred to one of the messhalls where we dipped and pivoted between the stanchions until midnight and then slept the next morning until 3 o'clock, trying to reassure ourselves that our tired and wounded feet would eventually heal. Sleeping in until late hours is something that little Willie-first-time-away-from-home doesn't often record in his diary. This is the first time I've been on the island that the old reveille bugle hasn't blared at 5:30 or 6 o'clock, according to the summer or winter schedule. Before the dance started the Red Cross held forth and handed us each a little package as we trudged by in columns of twos, much after the manner of members in good standing (and some who were not) in the U. S. Sunday school were wont to pass down by the rostrum on Christmas eve and get their mosquito netting basket of indigestible mixed candy and assorted nuts in years gone by. I got a can of Prince Albert in mine which will be the making of many "fags." Over 200 of the men in the electrical school are already gone on furloughs and the place is as lonesome as a graveyard. Today we dined sumptuously with the aid of a printed menu and table cloths. There was everything on the table from soup to charrettes. The entire feed was left on the table during the afternoon and between squalls the sailors scurried into the mess hall and resumed their ribs to abnormal proportions.

Farmers May Now Learn To Grade Their Own Grain
C. A. C. EXPERIMENT STATION, Corvallis, Jan. 1.—With the end of week handling of grains in the northwest comes a demand for a general knowledge of grain standards and grades by the growers, and this will be provided in the four weeks course in grain grading to be given during farmers' short course at the State College, January 7 to Feb. 2. Farmers taking the course will work on samples from their fields and from the markets of the state, learning in what classes and grades their crops belong under the new state and federal grain standardization laws. It is believed that they will be forced to ship their grain in bulk because sacks will not be available at prices they can afford, and accurate grading is the basis of the bulk method. Cereal disease and insect control, weed eradication, bean and potato growing and warehouse accounting will be taught in connection. Ware house and elevator men as well as farmers are planning to take the course. Courses are also offered in general farming, dairying, farm machinery care and use, war-time home-making and farm accounting. Low railway fares are offered on all railway lines.

Bullet Wound Baffles.
WALLA WALLA, Dec. 28.—Bertha Cannon, 17-year-old daughter of Chaplain E. J. Cannon of the state penitentiary, was seriously but not fatally wounded by a bullet from a revolver this afternoon. The young woman claims that a man was the assailant but the officers have been unable to find trace of anyone. Thanksgiving day the police were called to the Cannon home, 915 North Eighth, to investigate an alleged attack on the girl, but no trace could be found then. Miss Cannon was home alone today and claims that the man called and said: "We might as well settle our troubles right away, for I am going away in a few hours." She said she ran in a room, got her mother's pistol and pointed it at the man. In a struggle, which, she said, followed, the gun was turned over and discharged, the bullet entering her left breast.

BREAKS A GOLD IN FEW HOURS—TRY IT!
FIRST DOSE OF PAPER'S COLD COMPOUND RELIEVES ALL GRIPPE MISERY. Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Paper's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. "Paper's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute. Neighbors found the girl lying on a sofa, wounded, the pistol by her side containing only one cartridge that discharged. No man had been seen near. Whether the girl is suffering from a nervous ailment or was attacked of officers have not yet decided. Convalescence after pneumonia, typhoid fever and the grip, is sometimes merely apparent, not real. To make it real and rapid, there is no other tonic so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla. Thousands testify. Take Hood's.
