SEENA OWEN STARS IN "MADAM BO-PEEP"

"Madame Bo-Peep," the new Triangle play, featuring Seena Owen and adapted from G. Henry's well known story, "Madame Bo-Peep of the Ranches," will be exhibited at the Pastime Theatre, today.

It is a thrilling play in which the east and the west meet; the greater part of the action taking place in the west. Miss Owen appears first as a society debutante and finally as the proprietor of a sheep ranch in the wild and woolly west. Being a splendid horsewoman Miss Owen felt very much at home in the role.

As the ranch boss she is annoyed by the attentions of a designing forger, who thinks he can take advantage of her girlish unsophistication. Finally she is forced to flee from him and seek protection. Her escape on horseback is one of the exciting features of the play.

turns aside many temptations. Years later come's youth and a minister. Both are attracted by the girl who has grown beautiful. One day the youth gets a letter. He must return home. His mother is ill and needs him and money for an operation to save her life. The lad shows the letter to the girl who discovers that the youth is her brother. Waiting aside every thought of self and without telling the lad who she is, she goes to the town dance hall and to get the money for her mother offers herself in marriage to the highest bidder. A vile old miner tries to bid her in but the minister offers more and gets her.

He borrows the money from the dance hall proprietor on condition that if he does not pay it back within a certain time he is to be the willing slave of the proprietor. The minister goes to dig gold. The dance hall proprietor, whose business he has hurt, conspires to put him out of the game but the girl heroically saves the minister. The dance hall man is killed in the fight to get the minister and the minister is free of his debt. Of course he marries the girl.

Miss Carol Holloway, Vitagraph's fearless little star, is put to one of the severest tests in her screen career when she falls into a tempestuous mountain stream to be rescued by William Buntan, while the camera registers another thrilling scene in the fourth episode of "The Fighting Trail." Greater Vitagraph's wonderful serial of adventure and the great outdoors. She is a strong swimmer and Mr. Dunbar a herculean, but both were badly bruised by being dashed against rocks and the sides of the cliff and their strength well gone when he gets her ashore. But the picture is made up of just such scenes where life and limb are not reckoned too seriously, with the result it is unquestionably the most gripping and realistic screen production in the world today.

A young American mining engineer under contract to supply the allies with ore used in the manufacture of ammunition is fought to the death by an agent of the Central Powers, who employs a band of outlaws who seek by fire and food and dynamite to destroy the mine.

Ninety-five per cent of the pictures were taken in the wildest reaches of the Sierras in southern California or on the edge of the great Nevada desert.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TURNS GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the old way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 25 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS YOU, DRINK LOTS OF WATER.

When your kidneys hurt you and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the act of grapes and lemon-juice, combined with bicarbonate and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking and so doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

To Bring 110,000 Laborers From Porto Rico and Virgin Islands to Work in the U. S.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF LABOR POST TELLS OF PLANS TO PROVIDE WORKERS FOR RAILROADS.

The department of labor authorizes the following:

Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of the department of labor, in a statement, criticized the present agitation for the importation of Chinese and Mexican labor for railroad maintenance, agriculture, and other unskilled work as "unnecessary and prejudicial." All requirements for common labor, he declared, can be met by the proper distribution of the domestic supply and by the use of American citizens from Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

For South and Southwest.

Mr. Post disclosed the fact that the department of labor through the United States employment service which has been made the national war labor mobilizing and distributing machine, is now arranging to bring into the country approximately 110,000 common laborers from these two territories. Director General of Railroads McAdoo has asked the federal Employment Service to assist in supplying the roads with labor for maintenance and shop work, and the immediate needs of several roads were turned over to the employment service by Assistant Director A. H. Smith.

The United States employment service is now arranging with the railroads in the south and southwest for the employment of these territorial common laborers in maintenance work and for their release for farm service during the press of the agricultural season in those regions. As soon as tonnage is available Mr. Post announced 50,000 common laborers will be transported from Porto Rico and P. C. Roberts, special agent of the labor department, will leave for the island this week to make the transportation arrangements.

Statement by Mr. Post.

Mr. Post said: "There is absolutely no necessity for the importation of common laborers from Mexico and China. The agitation for such action is prejudicial because it increases the false impression that there is not a sufficient supply of domestic labor. The war problem will be solved just as soon as the country as a whole realizes that there is no general shortage of labor, and devotes all efforts to the distribution of the available supply."

Some Practical Uses Of Wheat Substitutes

Dean Milam of O. A. C. Tells Housewives May Meet the Requirement of the Food Administration.

CONVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 30.—"Easier said than done," is the way many perplexed housewives felt Monday morning last after reading that they would be required to use as much wheat substitutes as wheat products under the new food administration order. To help them out of their difficulty the O. A. C. news editor appealed to Dean Milam, of the Home Economics department, for a practical method of meeting the requirement.

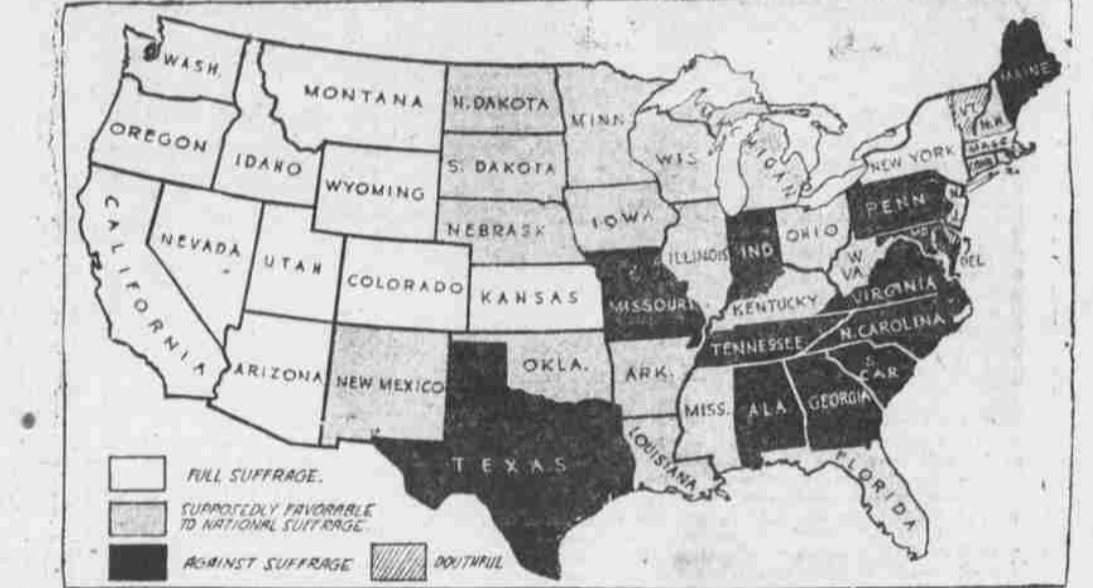

"The new order stipulates that the housewives must purchase with every order of flour an equal amount of substitutes," said Milam, "and of course they will want to use these to the best advantage. But they are not called on to use them all in bread-making and so may use part as cereals in puddings."

"Corn meal, rolled oats and oat meal, barley flour and rice and potato flour, may be used in yeast bread as substitutes for 1-4 to 1-2 of the wheat flour. The rolled oats especially make an excellent bread. Bread with any of these substitutes is made precisely as bread without them."

"The use of substitutes as cereals and breakfast foods makes a pleasant change in the menu. By mixing dried prunes, slightly cooked and seeded, with the cooking barley breakfast food or other cereals a delightful breakfast dish is obtained. Corn starch may be used to thicken gravies and soups. A good cheese pudding is made by using layers of sliced corn meal mush instead of slices of bread."

Attention was also called to the fact that even though measure for measure corn meal may cost about twice as much as wheat flour, pound for pound it has the same number of calories and gives same food value.

SUFFRAGISTS CLAIM AMENDMENT WILL PASS IN THESE STATES

Women suffragists who won a victory in the House of Representatives when that body passed the constitutional amendment believe they will be able to convince twenty-four more states the amendment should be adopted by them, that is, if it goes through the United States senate, which has yet to act. There are now twelve full suffrage states and five more which permit women to vote in presidential contests. Others have various limited forms of suffrage. Five presidential and the twelve full suffrage states are, of course, expected to vote for the amendment. Nineteen others, some of which have various forms of suffrage, must vote for the amendment to fill the constitutional requirement of thirty-six states. Conservative suffragists think Delaware and Vermont are doubtful.

Hence the use of substitutes is not so expensive as it seems. At any rate American soldiers and their allies need the flour thus saved, and all patriotic housewives will see that they get it as far as possible.
