FIRST WOMAN COOK IN NAVAL RESERVE

Jack Tars seldom complain about their meals—they're pretty good. Just the same, there are delicacies which women fix that well—men just don't. So all the naval men are hoping that this girl, Helen C. Hoerle, the first woman cook enrolled in the naval reserves will teach cooking around where they're eating. She's to be a cooking instructor.

WARNS IDLE WOMEN AWAY FROM FRANCE

Only Those Willing to Do Real War Work Should Go, Declares Mrs. Aldrich.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Mrs. F. S. Aldrich of Bloomington, Ill., who has just returned from France after ten years in that country, in a statement issued today through the Committee on Public Information urges American women who are searching for adventure only to keep out of that country.

"Unless the American woman has a real mission abroad," she said, "she had better stay at home. I know that the French people need every ounce of flour, every bit of meat. It is the greatest priority for American women in search of adventure to take that food out of their mouths.

"Many American women went to France in the early days of the war and went into such work as the Ambulance Service, because it was 'chic,' but they soon fell out of the ranks, and now the French women and the few American women who are specially fitted for the work are sincere, splendid and everything that is courageous and fine.

"In the hospitals for the wounded the nurses show such devotion as they might give their own brothers. Another feature of women's work in France is the care of orphans of the war, who are in the charge of nurses and sisters formerly connected with the Catholic churches. From which thousands of priests have gone into the army."

LIBERTY MEASLES, THEY CALL IT NOW

No More of German Ailment at Camp Dix—Lighter Type Gets Patriotic Name.

CAMP DIX, N. J., Feb. 9.—Camp Dix will no longer recognize the disease known as German measles. It was wiped off the Sanitary Department records today and hereafter those soldiers so unfortunate as to contract the lighter form of the malady that has brought about the quarantine of the cantonment will be listed as "ill with liberty measles."

About 80 per cent of the measles patients have had the German type, and the convalescents have tired of being made the subject of gibes about contracting an unpatriotic illness. Someone suggested calling the disease the "liberty measles," and the idea has been approved by the National Staff. The improvement in the measles record indicates an early lifting of the quarantine.

TELLS OF BIG SPIES ON ARREST IN CAMP

Capture of Dangerous German Agents Expected After Confession of Soldier.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 9.—Agents of the department of justice have taken to Chicago a prisoner whose arrest is deemed most important by the secret service and who is said to have made an important confession. A naturalized American of German birth, he was arrested in a southern military training camp more than three weeks ago and has been in the county jail here.

His confession and information given to the government agents, it is said, will cause the arrest of some of the most dangerous German agents in the northwest. This man was drafted to the national army from a western state and was in soldier uniform until he was taken from jail.

HIS CHILDREN ARE A MYTH.

He Told a Sad Story, but Weep Not for It Was All a Fairy Tale.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—When cited by Judge Joseph Sabath to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court in having fraternized suspiciously with members of a jury trying George Baker for the theft of an automobile, Louis Hochstadter, 5319 South Michigan avenue, an auto dealer, spoke of his four children feeling and said he was interested in Baker because he had signed the latter's bond. But Judge Sabath held him on a 2,000 bond and quietly ordered an investigation.

Hochstadter was called into court again. "What is the name of your oldest child?" asked Judge Sabath. "Rudy," answered Mr. Hochstadter, pointed out by four members of the jury as the man who had spoken to them in favor of Baker during recesses.

"What is the next oldest child's name?" persisted Judge Sabath and Hochstadter hesitated.

"Well, never mind," said the judge as Mrs. Minnie Jacobs Berlin, probation officer for the Jewish Charities, stepped forward.

"Mr. Hochstadter has no children," said the court's investigator.

BISHOP CONSECrated IN HIS U. S. ARMY UNIFORM

BISHOP WILBUR HUNTINGTON

Perhaps the only case in the present war in which an Episcopal rector was consecrated as bishop in his army uniform was in the case of the Rev. William P. Huntington of Minneapolis. He had been rector of St. Paul's church there, and after he joined the army as a chaplain he was consecrated while wearing his uniform. The bishop is now chaplain with a hospital unit at Fort McPherson, Ga.
