

Washington's Birthday

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

AT THIS TIME EVERY YEAR, YOU ARE REMINDED OF THE OLD STORY OF GEORGE WASHINGTON AND THE CHERRY TREE.

But this year, let us think of George Washington at Valley Forge and at Yorktown, when he was laying the foundation of our United States on the principles of freedom and democracy.

Today we are defending these same principles, and in the heart of every American is the loyal resolve that the life of Washington shall not have been lived in vain. Millions in men and billions in money, we are ready to give to such a cause.

Commemorate him this day, and do your part, whatever it may be.

Do Your Clothes Command Respect?

Clothes show what a man thinks of himself, and tell others what to think of him.

It is said that only a millionaire can wear shabby clothes and get away with it—but Russell Sage tried it and didn't.

The sensible man knows that success depends upon individuality, upon being noticed, instead of simply being one of a crowd.

For the young man in business its worth a great deal to have people ask "Who is that well-dressed young fellow over there?"

Dress as an individual, have clothes that fit perfectly. Use clothes to impress your personality upon the notice and the memory of others.

That means T. P. W. clothes. They are priced from $15.00 to $35.00.

POPULAR BOOKS ABOUT THE WAR.

Holmes—A Yankee in the Trenches.

"This American boy did his bit with a London cockney battalion in the trenches, in No Man's-Land, and with the tanks on the Somme, has written a book to stir the heart. It is a vivid picture of the life our armies now face and the scenes of war have not dulled the author's irrepressible sense of humor."

Peat—Private Peat.

"The book that rivals Empey's 'Over the Top.' It is more serious, yet it reflects the indomitable humor of the 'Tommy' and it is entertainingly written."

"Two years on the western front, through the horrors of Ypres, he is back to tell us there are worse things than war. He was there when the Hun first used poisoned gas. He knows fighting in the trenches, and the hardships, and the triumphs, and the humor of the common soldier, and he knows how to tell about them. Neither fiction nor hearsay but the actual experience of a private in the ranks."

"A book for anxious mothers and fathers of American soldier boys."

Roosevelt—The Foes of Our Own Household.

"A characteristic arraignment of commercial greed, industrial and social injustice, socialism and chiefly unpreparedness."

"Colonel Roosevelt has taken each phase of American life with its problems, and has reviewed it in the light of present-day conditions, to show wherein we are to blame for most of our problems, and how the enemy in our ranks far surpasses in deadly power to ruin us, the enemy who is within our gates."

Patriotism is the keynote of the book. Colonel Roosevelt believes that our ability to win the present war lies in our ability to cope with our internal problems, or at least to a great extent. We have been selfish; we have been foolish in our self-complacency. And now within our own ranks there are those who would serve our enemies by trying to prove us wrong in having entered the world-war; there are those who with subtle reasoning have been able to persuade their fellow-citizen that only the self-seeking of the few made this war necessary for us—Colonel Roosevelt shows how these people are like the serpent in Eden, seeking to destroy."

The following quotations show the force and point with which Colonel Roosevelt speaks:

"It is not well for a nation to import its art and its literature; but it is fatal for a nation to import its babies."

"Pawbroker patriotism is a poor substitute for fighting patriotism."

"The woman who keeps the house has exactly the same right to a say in a disposal of the money as the man who earns the money."

"A man has no right to the things that do not belong to him; and this country does not belong to the man who will not defend her."

The Children's Story Hour which has been resumed at the request of a number of parents, is proving quite popular. For the present the hour will be on Saturdays from 10:30 to 11:30 for children of the first to the fourth grades, inclusive.

Funeral Service Is Stopped By a Shell

(FRED R. FERGUSON.) AMERICAN FRONT, Feb. 22.—In a little cemetery behind the American lines where two dozen American soldiers are buried, a funeral was interrupted by a large German shell exploding within a few yards of the funeral party. The priest was praying when the shell broke on the other side of the stone wall, fragments flattening against this barrier. None of the party were injured but the service was abandoned when the prayer was finished.

"This war," says the eminent diplomatist, Dr. Woodrow Wilson, "had its root in the disregard of the rights of small nations and of nationalities." The concept that the little fellows have rights threatens to upset the whole system of secret diplomacy.

AMERICA WILL TAKE LEADERSHIP IN WAR AFFAIRS IS BELIEF

(ROBERT J. BENDER.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—That America is destined to take over the growing leadership in war affairs, is the interpretation many quarters place on Premier Lloyd George's announcement that the Versailles supreme war council plan was formulated under the stimulus of a letter from America.

America's position as a storehouse and treasury for the allies, as well as a reservoir for reserve manpower gives her a constantly growing direction of the war. While the Versailles plan is for unity of action, the American stamp on the affairs is likely to be more prominent hereafter, especially after there are large American forces in the field.

President Wilson has already assumed diplomatic leadership. His expressions of the nation's war aims

With Fingers! Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freestone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freestone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching, corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freestone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.
