Another Aviator Advanced.
Fred Nelson, formerly employed at the Oregon Motor Garage and brother of Otto Nelson, mechanic at same garage, has received rapid advance ment since his enlistment in the aviation section of the army last May. After four months he was made first sergeant of the 21st squadron and since then has been advanced to aviator mechanic and is now a master signal electrician in the 22nd squadron of Belleville, Ill. He writes his brother that he tried for a flying commission so as to be sent to France but was refused as the officers said they could make flyers of anyone but it was hard to get good mechanics. Two other brothers are in the navy on convoy duty on the U. S. S. San Diego and have been across three times and it is thought they are on patrol duty "over there" at present time.

Farm Meetings Well Attended.

Is In Bad Again.
Bill Fuller is in bad again. He is the 19 year old youth who has been arrested here twice previously for petty thievery and now he is again in the county jail while the officers investigate to ascertain where he secured the shoes and other merchandise which he was peddling about Freewater this week. He made the mistake of trying to sell the shoes to Joe West, Freewater shoeman who is also special deputy sheriff. West picked him up for investigation but the young man made a getaway out the backdoor of the shoe and was only recaptured after an exciting chase in which quite a number of townspeople joined. Fuller, when released here recently, agreed to join the navy but declares he was rejected.

Women Bowlers Compete In National Tourney
CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 22.—Women are coming into their own this year in more ways than one. Congress started the ball rolling by passing the women's suffrage measure and now women are to have equal rights with men in the bowling game.

When the American Bowling Congress, the latest bowling body in the world, opened its annual tourney at the Ohio National Club arena here today, women bowlers got their first chance to compete in a national tourney.

The women won't compete for the same prizes as the men but will have a tourney of their own under the auspices of the Women's National Bowling association and they will roll on the same alleys where the A. B. C. championships will be decided.

It is the first time a women's tourney ever has been held in connection with the A. B. C. event. Over 50 teams will bowl in the club event of the women's division in future years the women expect to increase this number until their tourney rivals that of the men in 1920.

This is not an impossibility by any means. When the A. B. C. held its first tourney in 1901 at Chicago only 41 teams competed. The next year 61 teams bowled at Buffalo and the following year 78 rolled at Indianapolis. The A. B. C. tourney then began growing by leaps and bounds until the high water mark was reached at Toledo in 1914 when 756 teams rolled.

Several nifty entertainment features are on the card for the women bowlers. Among them will be a big card party with a monster prize list.

MILITARISTS "GET" DITTMANN.
For a long time F. K. Dittmann, German reichstag deputy, was a "marked man." He's a socialist and he was always saying things the militarists didn't like. But for what he said they couldn't touch him. The militarists "scouted." Now Dittmann's in jail. He was indicted enough, it appears, to leave the reichstag and try to make a radical speech to a crowd of Berlin strikers.

German newspapers fatuously talk about the "psychological effect of the sinking of the Lusitania." Germany has studied psychology more assiduously than any other nation in the world—and has less understanding of it "frightfulness" is the only fruit of German "psychology" and frightfulness has had just the opposite effect to what it was intended to produce.

WEALTHY AMERICAN WIDOW BECOMES RELATIVE OF KINGS
Mrs. William B. Leeds, whose late husband left her about $14,000,000 he made in investments in timber and the Rock Island Railroad with the Moores and Daniel G. Reed, has become, by her marriage to Prince Christopher of Greece, a cousin-in-law to King George of England and to Queen Victoria of Spain, and aunt of the present King Alexander of Greece. She has been sought by half the eligible peers of Europe, and many times rumor had her engaged. Her husband is about thirty years of age. His brother, King Constantine of Greece was deposed and is now living quietly in Switzerland.

OUR NATIONAL MONUMENTS.
The often-asked question as to the difference between a national park and a national monument is now harder than ever to answer. Before the passage of the National Park Service Act, a well-defined distinction was recognized by common consent based upon the idea that the monument was merely conserved with no idea of development, while the national park was created with the purpose of development. In the absence of formal definition, the new act, which several times mentions both kinds of reservations without any distinction whatever, must be held to abolish previous unwritten conceptions and establish the authority for the future.

What is left, then, of the distinction is the fact that the monuments are generally smaller and generally of less importance than the parks.

But, on the other hand, there is one monument larger than all but the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, which is a national monument, is at least equal in importance to any national park and of more importance than many.
