

Stylish Suits for Stout Women

We have just unpacked a shipment of stylish suits for stout women, for women who formerly were unable to be fitted in ready-to-wear garments, can be fitted here now with the same ease and stylish grace of their most slender sisters.

Scientific designing and adapting of the lines to the measurements of the average woman, who wears a 44, 46, 48 or 50 size is what makes this accuracy of fit possible.

All of the latest styles, materials, and colors to select from at prices most moderate.

Come and let us show you how these suits "slenderize" your figure.

SPRINGTIME MEANS NEW WASH GOODS from which to make those new dresses. Prepare early this year, by making your selection while our stock is complete. Beautiful patterns showing fashionable plaids, stripes, floral and conventional designs in a truly wonderful assortment of fabrics, such as voiles, beach cloths, silk and cotton fabrics, ginghams, etc., are here awaiting your choosing. Prices are 25c to 75c

CREPE DE CHINE Always popular and in demand for blouses, underwear, dresses, etc. A beautiful quality, 40 inches wide, in all the leading spring shades as well as staple colors. Our special price, yard $1.59

IMPORTED PONGEE SILK The best all around silk for service and general utility that it's possible to buy. This quality we are offering is a special value; it will pay you to investigate. The price per yard $1.35

SILK MESSALINES $1.50 YD. While silks are steadily advancing, we are still able to offer you a yard wide, good quality, lustrous messaline, so desirable for dresses, waists and linings, at a price way below what the present cost justifies. Every wanted color as well as black for, per yard $1.50

WHAT IS THE VALUE OF A DOLLAR?

A dollar is worth exactly what it will buy; no more, no less.

A dollar is worth more in buying clothes than it will be next fall.

If you need a new suit or overcoat get it now while your money buys more quality and greatest value.

If you do so you are simply exchanging money which will be worth less for clothes that will be worth more later.

Aside from the remarkable money-saving, there's quality to consider. With the tremendous war demand for woolens the available supply is becoming more limited, and a greater proportion of fabrics will be shoddy or cotton mixed in the future.

Our Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes will not be of either inferior grade, but when inferior grades are already being quoted at greatly advanced prices—there's no getting around the fact that fine, pure wool fabrics will be all the more expensive.

By all means provide yourselves with plenty of good clothes NOW.

They are priced from $17.50 to $35.00.

WHAT IS YOUR EXPLANATION OF IT?

Why is the whole country patronizing this busy shopping place? Why do they seek this out-of-the-way, crowded, jammed store room? Why has the business of this Bargain Basement increased 1, 3 and 6 times as great as the previous year? Is it because of the extremely low prices placed on the goods? Is it because of the honest, reliable merchandise we offer you? Is it because you have determined to save and have settled on this place as the one place and the right place? Your explanation is the explanation of thousands. GOOD, RELIABLE MERCHANDISE AT SENSIBLE LOW PRICES.

These are but a few of the hundreds and hundreds of bargains we offer you.

RIETH COUPLE ARE MARRIED 20 YEARS

MR. AND MRS. D. W. JACKSON CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY BY UMATILLA TRIP.

Improvements Made in Restaurant; Other News and Social Notes of Much Interest to the Community.

(East Oregonian Special.)

RIETH, March 4.—Mr and Mrs. D. W. Jackson celebrated the 20th anniversary of their marriage last Sunday by going to Umatilla where they were met by a number of old friends at the home of Mrs. J. H. Cherry.

Mrs. E. M. Woods has returned from Portland, but Mr. Woods was compelled to remain in the hospital for some time after the operation on his eye.

Miss Olive Simpson was home from Stanfield last week on a visit with her parents.

C. E. Powell, our genial yardmaster, returned Saturday from a two weeks' vacation spent in Portland and other coast cities.

Roy Swart came in from Huntington this week to relieve Mr. Korwick, third trike operator, who has been transferred to Echo.

Mrs. Lamb of La Grande, spent Thursday afternoon in Rieth on her way to Echo where she goes to take a position in the high school.

Harvey Campbell got a piece of steel in his eye last week and had to go to Portland to have it removed.

Mrs. Julia Parrott of Milton, was a Rieth visitor last Wednesday between trains.

W. Von Winkler, second trike operator at Rieth, has been quite sick for several days.

The young people's club held one of their fortnightly socials at the Rieth school house last Friday night.

Quite an improvement is noticeable around the restaurant since Mr. Land took possession. The second story of the building is being fitted up for dining purposes and many other conveniences arranged for. It is becoming a very home-like place and the improvements will no doubt draw patronage to the place.

G. W. Jackson and family were down from Pendleton Sunday on a visit with relatives.

Steve Gunnison is said to know Rieth no more, having secured various sums of money, clothing and other articles from his creek countrymen, he took leg-bail Saturday night and decamped for parts no one knows whither.

D. W. Jackson and family were Umatilla visitors yesterday.

F. C. Caven, who had the misfortune to get a broken foot sometime ago at the round house, is now out on crutches but will not be able to work for sometime yet.

AN EDGE OF STEEL AND A LINE OF FIRE

By J. H. Hanford.

In France the men are wrought to an edge of steel, and the women are a line of fire behind them.

An edge of steel—a line of fire. The image of a nation energized for war. But this is France. And was the men and women of America, are we, too, of steel and fire? Fine as our national temper has become, it falls far short of this. The war is too remote. No ocean thunder at our ports. No hostile airplanes hover in our skies.

In a trench or two along the battle front there he and watch a few to whom America is home. They have already suffered. They have paid their first toll in prisoners and in blood. They are in contact with the foe. Others behind them hear the roar of distant guns. Still more are on the sea, conscious of the vague presence of an enemy beneath. At home busy preparation goes on among half a million to whom the war is still far away—a thing heard of, waited for, not yet seen.

And the rest. The hundred-odd millions of men and women in their homes! In the main, we go on the even tenor of our way. We eat—enough as yet; we work—a little harder than last year; we take many of our accustomed pleasures; and, save for occasional bad dreams, we sleep. The thought of war comes to us not above a dozen times a day.

The things that will make us steel and fire draws nearer every hour. In some few months; before the leaves are come and gone upon the trees, that half million will be side by side with Pershing's handful at the front. Long before that time another half million will have left their work and play for the battle of the camps.

More and more the war comes home to us. The battle line, that cutting edge in France is not a remote and alien thing; it is becoming, it has become, our flesh and blood. It is closer to us than breathing and clearer than hands and feet. Vibrant currents of sensation and energy pass from us to it and form it to us. The nerves of our whole being begin to throb in it.

More and more the war comes home. It is no longer "the stranger that is within our gates." It imperatively demands acquaintance to our inmost thoughts.

"These are the times that try men's souls," wrote Thomas Paine in 1776, and the words leap fresh into our hearts today. Where is the man so dull that he can not see it? Departures, sinkings, casualty lists, reverses, disasters, new names, new labors, new sacrifices—we shall know them all. And we shall meet them—as France has met them? It is impossible that we should flinch. To that high call to dedicate to the cause of liberty and right our lives and fortunes, everything that we have and everything that we are, we shall respond.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Favorite for Colds.

J. I. Sheley, Mason, Ill., in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy says: "During the past fifteen years I have been my sister's favorite medicine for colds on the lungs. I myself have taken it a number of times when suffering with a cold and it always relieved me promptly."—Adv.

NEW LIQUOR RULE IS EXPLAINED BY BAKER

Permitting Soldiers to Drink in Homes Must Not Be Abused, He Says.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Secretary of War Baker announced today that the new regulations regarding the sale, gift and serving of liquor to soldiers in uniform were intended primarily to put a stop to bootlegging out of saloons, in hotel rooms and elsewhere, Mr. Baker said.

"The purpose of these regulations is to facilitate the detection and conviction of bootleggers who have been furnishing liquor to soldiers outside the zones surrounding the camps. It will now be possible to convict the vast majority of bootleggers who are found selling liquor to soldiers without having to prove a sale. The exception as to the private homes outside zones does not give any object of action which did not already exist before these regulations were promulgated, and moreover does not allow any waterline which would violate either the letter or the spirit of the law.

"If this exception is abused, I shall not of course hesitate to recommend to the President the further extension of the regulations."

If the average citizen attended to his own business as diligently as he attends to the business of the city on primary and election days the average citizen would be bankrupt habit.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

FLASH YOUR KIDNEYS OCCASIONALLY IF YOU EAT MEAT REGULARLY.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally. Says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular in passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

1. Name the entente allies. Great Britain (including her colonies—Canada, Newfoundland, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa), France, Italy, Japan, China, Siam, Portugal, the United States, Russia and a few minor countries.

2. Name the Teutonic allies. Germany, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria.

3. What are the land areas of the two forces? The entente 19,526,000 square miles and the Teutonic 1,222,000.

4. Population? The entente 473,250,000 and the Teutonic 147,000,000.

5. What percentage of the total land area involved belongs to the entente allies? 94.1 per cent. To the Teutonic allies? 5.9 per cent.

6. What percentage of the population involved? Entente 75.3 per cent. Teutonic 23.7 per cent.

7. What is the strength of the army and navy of each side? The entente allies have 21,400,000 fighting men and their opponents 11,900,000; that is, 65 per cent of the total armies are entente and 34 per cent Teutonic.

8. What is the total man power on each side? Entente, 51,700,000; Teutonic, 25,050,000, or 75.3 per cent against 24.7 per cent.

9. The difference in national wealth? The entente allies, $52,000,000,000; the Teutonic $13,000,000,000.

10. War debt? Total national debts of the entente, $32,950,000,000, or 14.7 per cent of their wealth; of the Teutonic, $38,500,000,000, or 29.3 per cent of their wealth.

11. Total income? Entente, $82,100,000,000; Teutonic, $16,600,000,000.

12. What has the war cost so far? Estimated July, 1917, cost in money to the entente allies, $79,200,000,000; to the Teutonic, $70,500,000,000. Cost in men killed, wounded and missing: To the entente, 5,922,256; to the Teutonic, 6,261,772; total on both sides, 12,184,028. Great losses since this date, but figures not available.

13. Note that the combined debt of the entente allies is 14.7 per cent of their wealth, while that of the Teutonic allies is 28.7 per cent of their wealth.

14. Since the war began the entente allies have lost about 9 per cent of their original man power, and the Teutonic allies have lost 20 per cent. The entente allies have spent 12 per cent of their wealth, the Teutonic 29 per cent.

15. Japan has an army of 1,500,000 men and a man power of 19,500,000, which may be reckoned as a reserve force. Russia has 5,000,000 men in the army and a man power of 2,900,000, but is an uncertain quantity at present.

16. As Russia drops out, however, the United States of America comes in having 22,000,000 men to draw upon, $25,000,000,000 in wealth and a national income of $18,000,000,000.

17. Against all the men and money advantages of the entente, however, Germany had the advantage of being thoroughly prepared, organized and unified. The entente has done most of its preparing since the war broke out. It is safe to say Germany would have triumphed quickly if it had not been for the British fleet, yet alone was ready.

The Pneumonia Season? The drab, cold weather of March seems to be the most favorable for the pneumonia germ. Now is the time to be careful. The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. As to the value of this preparation, ask anyone who has used it.—Adv.
