MOTHERS.

My mother and the mother that was hers,
And all the mothers who have given me
The life I love—women from over-seas
By English river-meadows, smooth and green,
And misty Scottish hills, and from the low
Sea-weary dykes of Holland, back and back
Down centuries that narrow as they go—
Tell me, oh women by whose blood I live,
Did each one love as I love?
Were the hours
As hungry as my hours when he is gone?
Oh, was it so with you, such precious pain
To have a man's hand touch you?
It must be
That I love more than you, I bear the weight
Of all the love that all my mothers bore
Whose lives converge in me, I take your joy,
And if I bear your joy, I bear your pain—
The scream of travail in the night, the weeping
When children die—I claim the things you know:
Let it not be that I stand back from sorrow,
Seeing that it walks soberly with love.

Mothers of mine, who gave, each one, her girlhood
With frightened joy to be the price of life,
Let me love much before I go like you
Into everlasting quietness.
—By Sara Wendale in Good Housekeeping.

THE TIME FOR FOOLISHNESS IS OVER

BECAUSE he talked in a disloyal strain a transman in a state highway crew has been discharged. Why shouldn't he be? Why should there be any patience with those in this country who support the kaiser even in indirect or half way measure? The Germans have done enough to rouse our fighting blood. They gouged out the eyes of 12 American soldiers they had taken prisoner. They tried to murder 2100 of our men on board the Tuscania.

Stop Corn Agony In Four Seconds

Use "Geta-It"—See Corns Peel Off!

The relief that "Geta-It" gives from corn pains—the way it makes corns and calluses peel off painlessly in one piece—is one of the wonders of the world.

The woman in the home, the shopper, the dancer, the foot traveler, the man in the office, the clerk in the store, the worker in the shop, have today, in this great discovery, "Geta-It" the one sure, quick relief from all corn and callus pains—the one sure, painless, restorer that makes corns come off as easily as you would peel a banana. It takes 2 seconds to apply "Geta-It"; it dries at once. Then walk with painless joy, even with tight shoes. You know your corn will loosen from your toe—peel it off with your fingers. Try it, corn sufferers, and you'll smile!

"Geta-It" is sold at all druggists (you need pay no more than 25 cents a bottle), or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Pendleton and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Tolman & Co.

Their actions towards helpless women and children in Belgium and France have been of a nature that would shame the beasts of the jungle. The outrages have been intentional and deliberate. It is part of the kaiser's diabolical plan of conquest.

The world is rocked by a death battle between the forces of beastiality and of humanity. It is time to check up and see who's who. The safety of the republic demands it. While the boys are offering up their lives at the front let us keep the homeland in order. Let there be no tolerance for treason or near treason.

There should be no job anywhere in this country for a disloyalist, unless it be in jail.

IN THE SCHOOL OF SERVICE

IN the last year Earl Friedly has travelled more than most men do in a life time. He has been across the Atlantic and back five times. He has been in various parts of the western hemisphere. His experience is but typical of the experience that falls to other boys in the navy. It is the same experience, in a modified form, that will be gained by those in the army.

Such experience cannot fail to be broadening and educational. No boy can go through such a period of service without obtaining a better hold on himself and a bigger view of world affairs.

When this war is over we will have with us thousands of young men who have been trained in a school that cannot be duplicated. They will be the stronger men and better citizens for having followed the flag, be it on sea or land. The war has its compensations.

OUT WITH SENTIMENTAL STRATEGISTS

SOME newspapers are complaining at General Pershing's censorship on the casualty lists. They appear to think they know more than does General Pershing about how the censorship should be handled at the front. It is the wrong attitude to take. The way to win this war is to give our field commanders the forces and supplies they need, then give them a free rein and tell them to whip the Hun. It should matter not that the commander's methods be arbitrary and at times may seem cruel. War is cruel business and it cannot be helped. If we wage war on a sofa cushion basis we will get no where. After the battle of Shiloh some eminent men of the north wanted Grant removed from command because he sacrificed his men to win his objectives. But Lincoln wisely refused to heed their wishes and sustained General Grant. This civil war incident will show the futility of trying to conduct military campaigns on a basis of sentimentality. It cannot be done. If we are to win we must expect to fight it out and take the gaff. We must expect at times mistakes and needless exercise of arbitrary power. We must expect to have our sensibilities shocked. We must prepare for suffering and anguish. The more resolute our people become, the more they back up the government irrespective of personal interests, the more they cheer and the less they complain the quicker will victory come.

This is a war; not a parlor social.

The Dutch ships will help much in making up for the damage inflicted by the U-boat's of Holland's close neighbor.

The Castle Rock flag saluting plan is alright but you cannot always tell an enemy by that procedure; watch him when he is not looking.

Minnie Jones, a small pupil at the public school, fell off the banister at the school house yesterday and suffered a broken nose and other painful injuries.

Owing to the increase in passenger traffic a new coach will be placed in operation on the Hunt line in a few days.

Few people are aware perhaps that Pendleton contains a small but flourishing club devoted to the conscientous study of Shakespeare's writings.

About 30 names have been secured for an Epworth League and a meeting to formally organize the society will be held at the residence of Mrs. W. D. Fletcher on Lewis Street, Wednesday evening.

The church social held at the residence of Miss Clara Parks, Tuesday evening was one of the most enjoyable of the series of these socials.

EDUCATORS WANT A SEAT IN PRESIDENT'S CABINET

Six Thousand Delegates to Convention in Atlantic City Will Petition for One.

ATLANTIC CITY, March 9.—Declaring that this is the only great nation in the world that does not rank education with its other governmental departments, leaders of the National Educational Association's department of superintendents, who arrived today for the war convention, to open tomorrow, announced that the 6000 delegates will petition the government to add to the president's cabinet a secretary of education.

"At present education is represented by a bureau in the department of interior. While this bureau is doing work of untold value, education deserves its own department, and if we are to help the cause of democracy we must pay more attention to this very important subject," said Dr. J. K. Crabtree of Washington, secretary of the association.

Dr. George D. Stoyer and Prof. W. C. Bagley of Columbia University are members of a special commission which has the matter in charge.

American soldiers in the front line trenches are fighting the stock of democracy above par. We at home can afford to invest our money in this good thing.
