YOURS AND MINE.
 The flag that is yours,
 The flag that is mine,
 Waves over the oak,
 Waves over the pine;
 Waves over the east,
 And over the west—
 The flag that you love,
 And that I love, best!

The flag that is yours,
 Has that in its fold
 Which seems so divine:
 The symbol for age,
 The symbol for youth—
 That each in his way
 May wrestle for truth!

Long, long may its folds,
 Unfurl to the breeze,
 Wave over the hills,
 And over the trees;
 Wave over the homes
 That worthy do prove,
 Wave o'er the hearts
 Of freedom and love!

A DECISIVE DEFEAT FOR DISLOYALTY

FROM a national standpoint the splendid fight about the Wisconsin election is that our most doubtful state has given a decisive verdict against pro-Germanism and premature peace. Berger made the race as a 100 per cent peace candidate and the champion of withdrawing our troops from abroad. Against a divided field he went down to overwhelming defeat. Wisconsin's answer is clear and unmistakable and it is expressed not only in the Lenroot vote but also in the tremendous vote given Davies.

As to Lenroot and Davies their present views as to the war differ but little. However the election of Davies would have been even more gratifying because in pre-war days Lenroot was not the stalwart American he should have been. He voted for the McLemore resolution which was a cowardly affair and would have placed the United States in an unenviable light as a world power. It was this action that led to the administration's support of Davies. It is not to be assumed though that Lenroot is now halting in his devotion to the winning of the war. In the primaries he was the candidate of the loyal republicans as against Thompson, the La-Follette candidate. Being elected on an issue of loyalty he will not fail the country as needs for patriotism arise in congress.

SAVING TO WIN THE WAR

OUR government is wisely making strenuous efforts to promote economy. Its object is to bend all energy towards the prosecution of the war; to the production of essentials only, and to the curtailment of things unnecessary.

Thus far much has been accomplished by education and persuasion; resort to legislation having been confined as much as possible to public rather than private economy. Saving of food has been largely affected by Mr. Hoover's appeals to reason and patriotism. Enforced rations have not yet been adopted, although such a course is by no means improbable, especially in wheat, if we are to do our full part in feeding our allies. Saving of fuel, raw materials, etc., has, however, come under more or less stringent government rules; and if the war is prolonged these will be made more severe and more general. So far as economy is concerned, up to date it has been practiced chiefly by those who have abundance, and least by those who have less. The explanation is that the educated and wealthier classes were in a position to realize the importance of the great issues at stake sooner than the average man. They first saw and accepted the necessity of sacrifice in men and money. Patriotism was of course a factor, but that virtue is happily not confined to any class and exists from top to bottom. To those situated in the middle of the industrial strata, especially those with fixed incomes, the possibilities of economy were naturally very limited. About the only serious evidences of extravagance are among those whose incomes have suddenly increased beyond all expectations; this applying equally to all classes, except that in cases of the wealthy, supertaxes have usually restrained extravagance.—From the Clews Financial Review.

Pendleton merchants are to be congratulated upon the marked cooperation they have shown in placing thrift stamps on sale in their places of business. They are doing most effective work for the nation and the cause for which civilization is fighting. It is service of the most unselfish sort—being done at an actual sacrifice—and our people should fully appreciate the spirit in which they are being solicited to buy the stamps.

The attitude of the United States with reference to the use of our troops means we are in grim earnest to win the war. We are not seeking glory or fame for our generals. To use a once famous phrase, "There will be glory enough for all."

The kaiser will not draw much comfort from the returns from Wisconsin; even that state wants no more senators of the spiked helmet variety.

Umatilla county may go "over the top" with its liberty loan quota in less than a week.

The defeat of the Thompson forces in Chicago was another victory for Americanism.

The Germans sacrificed hundreds of thousands of men and gained no objectives.

Prepare to make Saturday a notable occasion in Pendleton.

We cannot all build ships, but we can all buy war savings thrift stamps and war savings certificates.

ARRIVAL OF EMPTY RELIEVES SHORTAGE

RIEFH CORRESPONDENT SEES ANSWER TO BLOCKADE PROBLEM OF O-W.

Night Agent at Rieft Expects in Radio Service; George Roberts Receiving From Operation; Other News of Folk at Terminal Town.

(East Oregonian Special)
 RIEFH, April 4.—The railroad blockade of the past winter seems to be a thing of the past and the demand for cars to move the various commodities of the west is hourly being met by long trains of empties moving westward. It would seem that it would soon be the west that is blockaded. But every effort is being put forth by the various departments of the O-W, R. & N to keep things moving, and every available car and engine is being worked to the fullest extent.

The many friends of Geo. H. Roberts who was operated upon a few days ago at the hospital, will be glad to learn of his rapid recovery. He has so far recovered as to leave for his home and in a few days will be able to resume his regular duties.

Night Agent Expects.
 F. E. Peters who for the past several months has been night agent at Rieft has resigned his position to take up his duties with Uncle Sam in the Radio service of the navy. He will enter upon his new duties Friday next. The best wishes of Rieft and community go with him in his new duties and hope he will be able to distinguish himself in his new work and return after the war with many medals.

David D. Brichoux and Shelby M. Alloway, two employees of the operating department went down to Portland the first of the week to enlist in Uncle Sam's service but were not accepted on account of physical disabilities which they have hopes of having removed in a short time and they may yet be able to join the hosts that are fighting for democracy.

C. M. Fitzgerald of Pendleton is a new recruit in the operating department of the O-W, R. & N. at Rieft. He is now a full fledged car clerk.

A Shadow Social.
 The shadow social given by the ladies of Rieft last Friday night was a grand success. A most enjoyable program was rendered by the school children and others under supervision of Prof. Roark and the net sum of $32 was realized from the sale of the shadow supper.

Miss Birdie has accepted a position as car clerk at Rieft and has entered upon her duties.

H. E. Nelson is the new general yardmaster in place of C. E. Powell who joined the railroad forces for France. Mr. Nelson is an old hand in the railroad game and will no doubt keep things moving in proper order.

This series of tests was prescribed by Captain Board E. Nelligan, director of athletics and representative of the war department commission on training camp activities at Camp Devens.

Each man in camp was required to perform eight of the nine stunts before obtaining a positive mark for his unit. By these tests Captain Nelligan was able to determine the athletic caliber of the men under his direction.

Constipation and Indigestion.
 These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation. Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that when she first moved to Mattoon she was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has since felt like a different person.

AMERICAN HELLO GIRLS A SURPRISE TO FRENCH

PARIS, April 3.—Thirty-three American telephone girls, who speak English and French equally well, have just arrived to operate the switchboards in the various army headquarters. They have been divided between the principal army centers—Paris, Gen. Pershing's headquarters in the field and the headquarters lines of communication.

American officers have been pleasantly surprised when taking up the telephone receiver to hear the familiar "Number, please," or "Line's busy" instead of the usual French equivalent. Although the French telephone equipment is not as modern as that in America, the girls are fast becoming used to it and officers remark that they already notice an improvement in the telephone service. The French colleagues of these American girls are surprised at the rapidity with which they take down connection, the Americans frequently putting up one connection with the thumb and the forefinger and at the same time taking down another number with the little finger of the same hand.

All the girls are provided with a regulation colored skirt and blouse and a dark blue hat with the orange and white cords of the signal corps, to which they have been attached. If the experiment with girl operators proves successful, it is understood that more will be brought over from America.

HIRE TO FARMERS, THEN REFUSE TO STAY ON JOB

YAKIMA, April 3.—There are many indications that the I. W. W. are early in the season, the tactics pursued late last year. Yakima reservation farmers report little difficulty in hiring men, as there are always men about the towns who accept the offers made them and go to the ranches. But the men do not stay. Some of them quit as soon as they reach the ranch; others work only a day or two, and the number which remains is so small that the farmer is compelled almost immediately to go to town again and get some more men. I. W. W. buttons are to be seen on many of the hangers-on about this city and smaller towns of the valley.

YAKIMA, Wash., April 3.—The Rev. John D. Moede, pastor of the Evangelical church of No. 8 Hill who has been criticized, some say threatened, by pro-German sympathizers, stood in his pulpit yesterday in front of a service flag decked with three stars, with the American flag draped in the rear, and prayed in German for victory for the United States. A SPRING MEDICINE

That Will Make You Feel Better. Look Better. Eat and Sleep Better.

In view of the fact that disease is over the same, a medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has been successful for more than forty years in combating disease and preserving health, is a safe one to rely upon.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is known everywhere as the standard blood purifier, tonic and vitality. Its record is one of remarkable results. It has given entire satisfaction in the treatment of eczema, eruptions, catarrhs, rheumatism, loss of appetite, that tired feeling and general debility, and is taken as effectively at one time of year as another.

There is nothing better as a prompt, general tonic for weak and run-down men, women and children, and for those who have lost their vitality. It is pleasant to take, aids digestion and supplies the vital organs with the rich red blood essential to health.

Frau Von Friedlander Fuld, daughter of the Belgian royal King, is shortly to marry Baron Von Kurhmann, the German foreign minister, who was shortly afterwards dissolved.

Get in your order now for future delivery, if you want to be sure of getting a FORD as the production has been cut 50 per cent at the factory and our allotment for Umatilla county is therefore much smaller.

Helena Ousts German Study
 HELENA, Mont., April 3.—Declaring that by its warfare upon innocent women and children, the German nation has lost the right to be considered a civilized nation, the board of education this morning abolished the study of German in the Helena public schools. The textbooks are to be with drawn immediately and either destroyed or exchanged to the publishers.

When Itching Stops

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and skin irritation almost instantly and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of Zeno and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear. A little Zeno, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed for it banishes most skin eruptions and makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy.
