MOTION PICTURE NEWS

What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

"GIFT O' GAB"

Tom Bain Jack Gardner
 Peggy Dinmore Helen Ferguson
 "Chub" Dinmore Frank Morris

Tom Bain was born with a tongue so glib that his parents, early in his career, predicted he would be a second Chauncey Depue. In college the gift developed until he was capable of selling gold bricks in a poor house.

But Tom was ambitious to be of other service to the world, so he built a tunnelling machine that would burst at one side of the mountain and propel itself through to the other side without man's assistance.

His gift o' gab sold the rights to the machine to a big manufacturing firm, but they soon found it worthless and instead of building tunnelling machines Tom was placed on the payroll as a salesman—because of his gift o' gab.

Then, after an exciting series of adventures, Tom finally wins the hand of Peggy, whom he had met and courted, despite her parents' objections, in his college days. The wedding occurs in a hospital where the couple have accidentally met as patients.

How a man can talk himself into and out of trouble is the theme of the picture, with hair-raising adventures, dare-devil stunts and a love interest interspersed properly to maintain the interest and suspense—Pastime Sunday and Monday.

FOX HUNT SHOWN IN METRO PICTURES

An English Fox Hunt was staged for picturization scenes in "Red, White and Blue Blood," a Metro-Warholay co-starring Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, which will be the attraction at the Alta theatre Sunday and Monday. The director of the picture, Charles J. Brabin staged all the scenes with accuracy of detail.

The hunt took place near the famous Meadow Hunt Club on Long Island and scores of expert riders, both men and women, rode before the camera. Three foxes were released and chased by a large pack of hounds.

For the first time in motion pictures the director succeeded in photographing the entire hunt in logical continuity. This was accomplished by "laying the drag" at such an angle from the distance to a point back of the camera, that the fox, dogs and hunters rode past the camera in natural order.

Francis X. Bushman brought two of his mounts from Bushmanor, his estate in Maryland, and he rode "Nubian King," while Beverly Bayne rode "Petroleum." A number of great Dane dogs were also brought from Bushmanor for appearance in some of the scenes. The horses used were all thoroughbreds.

ANOTHER SPRING DRIVE!

The Weakly Bulldogger

MONDAY, APRIL 22, 1918.

Some Stimulant.
 As a means of stimulating attendance and bidding at the forthcoming Red Cross auction sale, the Bulldogger wishes to suggest that the sheriff turn over all of the contraband booze which he has seized and allow it to be sold to the highest bidder.

War in the Home.
 Ed Murphy says he has eaten 22 varieties of war bread already and not the same kind twice.

An Explanation.
 Not wishing to compete with the Liberty Loan drive, the Bulldogger suspended operations for two weeks. We wish to deny the insinuations of some of our enemies that Kernel Wood's gas attacks had anything to do with our temporary inactivity.

The Sham-Allen.
 The chameleon is a funny chap whose skin turns any hue. Against the fir tree, it is green. Against the sky it's blue.

The Long and the Short of It.
 C. O. Klinehart and a friend were standing on a street corner when a pretty young fella wearing an extremely short skirt and long stockings passed.

And yet, my friend consider, too.
 That type of regular fellow, whose blood, in peace times boasted blue. In war times turns to yellow.

It's a Wise Mother Who Knows Her Own Kid's Cry.
 Bob Fletcher says there are 29 kids in his block and they all play in his back yard. Every time one cries, he says, six different mothers rush out doors.

NATIONAL ARMY CAMPS WILL LOSE SOFT DRINKS.
 SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Soldiers in camps and cantonments throughout California confront a shortage, if not the extinction, of one of their favorite beverages, "soda pop," and the federal food administration for California has shaken cognizance of the situation.

An Emergency Measure.
 "I see," said the Witless Wisecrack, that Umattilla county's grain crop is saved for democracy.

Soft drink manufacturers assert that food administration rules limiting the amount of sugar to be used in the manufacture of soft drinks classed as non-essentials, make it impossible for them to supply the demand.

Let's Hope He Jumped In.
 Ed Averill, who hires trappers for Uncle Sam, requires said trappers to turn in reports showing where they have been each day and what they have been doing. He has one trapper

That bolshevik experiment with Russia cost thousands, perhaps millions, of lives, but what is human life to a doctrinaire? Humanity to him is a bug impaled on a pin, for study.

AFTER KAISER'S SCALP

"Will we be allowed to scalp the Kaiser if we get him?" is what our warpath and his brass wanted to know when the marriage urged them to enlist. A lot of these red-blooded, Yip! On to Berlin!

MRS. DOOLEY'S ADVICE TO WORKING GIRLS

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I wish all girls who work and suffer from functional disorders would profit by my advice and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before I was married, when I came home from work at night, I would be just worn out with pains which dragged me down. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel like a new woman. I can work from morning until night and it does not bother me, and I wish all girls who suffer as I did would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. H. Dooley, 1135 26th Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Working girls everywhere should profit by Mrs. Dooley's experience, and instead of dragging along from day to day with life a burden, give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It has overcome just such conditions for thousands of others, and why not for you? For special advice, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

An engine that translates gas into a new kind of thrilling power through the "Hot-Spot" and "Ram's-Horn" Manifold—Chalmers devices

Power to take a hill, and power to pass the other fellow are still claimed by many car makers; but here's a car that puts such expressions into the dark ages of automobiling. It is the current Chalmers, equipped with the famous "Hot-Spot" and "Ram's-Horn" Manifold, which wrings from gas more power than was ever taken out of gas before. But not merely brutal power (for that it has), but a newer kind, a softness of power that is as thrilling to bear witness to as the technique of a great musician. Accomplished how? By those two great devices: a "Hot-Spot", which fairly cooks the gas, then "cracks it up fine as a powder", and the "Ram's-Horn" Manifold which "sets it down" in the combustion chambers with celerity and without disturbance. So that when the spark touches it off, it gives nothing but power; soft, harnessed, controlled power that you will never forget once you have had its feel.
