Portland. It was the most sensational individual advance ever made here and the new prices broke, by far, all previous high records for the open market.

One steer sold at $14 per hundred pounds during the morning, but this was exceptional quality. It reflected, however, the finished condition of the trade. Some other good steers sold at $13.25, which was not a measurably price by any means.

There was a small run in the cattl division overnight in North Portland the totals since Saturday reaching but $14 head. Killers pounced upon these supplies and their bids were excited from the initial transaction.

The run of swine at North Portland over Sunday totaled but 985 head, compared with 1,467 head for the same period last week. Buyers were inclined to bid more for supplies, but holders were asking a still further rise. The market started unsettled with advances of fully 10c to 15c.

DANISH FARMER GIVES $50 TO HELP WIN WAR

EUGENE, Ore., April 22.—Hans Peterson, a Danish farmer who lives with his wife on a small place about four miles west of the town, did not feel able to lend money to the government, nor to anyone else, to help the soldier for the third Liberty loan. However, if the United States really needed money he was going to help, so he made out a check for $50 and handed it to the collector, saying it was a gift, and not a loan, and that he didn't desire to be issued a bond for it. Mrs. Peterson, who is suffering from a broken arm, agreed with her husband.
