Molested Little Girls.
Charged with contributing to the delinquency of two minor girls, David Fields is held in the county jail pending the filing of formal information against him. He was arrested last night by the police who had been summoned by the mother of the two children. Fields is said to have come here from Walla Walla. He was partially intoxicated when arrested, having been imbibing freely from a bottle of bitters, it is said. Chief Roberts turned him over to Sheriff Taylor this morning. This is the second such case which has been brought to the attention of the authorities within the past few weeks, George Brown being in jail now awaiting the action of the grand jury.

Local Man in Walla Walla.
J. W. McCormmach, auto dealer and farmer of Pendleton, was in the city yesterday. He is a good roads enthusiast and said that 10 miles of hard surface paving this side of Pendleton, had been finished a year ago which was the first in Oregon under a road program similar to that of Washington. Now road building is not going forward as it should as efficient county, state and national trunk lines would relieve congestion and be strong from a military view point, he said. The Oregon and Idaho highway has not proved successful, according to Mr. McCormmach, is that it has carried about 20 times the traffic it was built to handle.

under former conditions consequently he thinks more permanent material would be eventually cheaper and more satisfactory. He thinks that instead of cutting road improvements on account of war, that such arteries are of utmost importance in repelling an invasion. Walla Walla Union.

Handles Like a Touring Car

Notice how easy the NASH QUAD steers and handles. Practically no more effort is required to drive it than in driving a touring car. It steers with ALL FOUR WHEELS; the rear wheels tracking exactly with the front wheels at all times, thus having but one track to break. It is unsurpassed in soft earth or sand.

But first of all, the NASH QUAD stands up under the severest use which is more than some similarly built trucks do.

You are the only one to lose if you buy any other four wheel drive truck.
