RECOMPENSE.

(The original of this verse was found on an American soldier who bravely fought and as nobly died. The man is yet unknown.)

Ye who have faith to look with fearless eyes
Beyond the tragedy of a world at strife,
And know that out of death and night shall rise
The dawn of ampler life,
Rejoice, whatever anguish rend the heart,
That God has given you a priceless dowry,
To live in these great times and have your part
In freedom's crowning hour.
That ye may tell your sons who see the light
High in the heavens—their heritage to take—
"I saw the powers of darkness put to flight,
I saw the morning break."

NO RUSSIAN PEACE WANTED

FROM the German treatment of Russia we may easily see what would be in store for the world should a peace be made on any terms other than overwhelming defeat of the enemy.

peace treaty with Russia. But the kaiser has paid no attention to his treaty obligations. Finding the stricken country helpless he has continued his aggressions. Territory has been seized, supplies taken from the starving Russian people, villages have been burned and the populace killed. Now it is demanded that Moscow be occupied by German troops and that Russia give up any semblance of real government of its own.

Believing only in force and casting all moral considerations to the winds Germany is not trustworthy as a world power. Let there be an inconclusive peace and the Hohenzollerns will continue their ruthless sway. They will find ample pretexts to impose on any nation they can bully. No country would be safe unless armed to the teeth and prepared to fight at a moment's notice. We would get the same brand of peace Russia has gotten. We would face continual intrigue and danger, never knowing where German spies might be at work nor when an attack would be launched against us. It would be better for the world to be destroyed with every soul upon it than to have Germanism prevail.

WHERE ALL CAN HELP

OUT of the ever-changing death struggle on the plains of Picardy, with its promise of victory, its spectre of defeat, one thing stands forth unchangeable day by day—the duty of the Red Cross.

Behind the bloodstained battle lines, misery is again on the road. As in nineteen fourteen, the refugees—old men, women and children—carry the helpless on shutters; the bird cage and the improvised cradle make their appearance on the muddy roads; the trains are loaded with the wounded. In Paris, civilians lie crushed beneath the ruins caused by air raids and bombardment, while the railway stations are crowded with the fleeing refugees from northern France. It might be nineteen fourteen over again. Only this time it is a difference.

So far as military relief is concerned the same efficiency is observable. A single illustration, indeed, can demonstrate the difference between nineteen fourteen and nineteen eighteen where the wounded soldier is concerned. In three hours, recently, all the splints, accessories, instruments and surgical dressings required for a hospital of one thousand beds were assembled and dispatched from Paris.

To those of us who are left behind, these facts have become vital. America is in the war at last—a hundred thousand strong.

GERMANY'S ONLY HOPE

IT should be clear to any German living in America that a German defeat offers the only hope for German people to secure the freedom they crave. They are oppressed by the military party and subjected to conditions that would never be tolerated in America. Let the forces of ruthlessness win the war and Germany will be bound by new shackles to the kaiser's chariot. Let the allies win and the German people will come into their own. By industry and ability exerted along just and honorable lines they can have their place in the sun. They can have what they can never get under the kaiser, the right to political freedom and the government of their own country.

The German or man of German descent who is not wholeheartedly for an allied triumph is a poor friend of the German people.

It is to be conceded that a new drive by Hindenburg is coming; he has quite a few soldiers who have not yet been killed.

There is always danger in a primary election; remember the duty of citizenship Friday.

The American people by their liberty loan subscriptions are financing world freedom.

28 YEARS AGO

(From the East Oregonian of May 15, 1890.)

Mrs. Rose Campbell returned yesterday from Hilliard.

Wallace Ashbaugh is down from his hunter's cabin in the mountains, where he has spent the winter. About a week ago he engaged in a combat with a wildcat, and came out victorious. On the eleventh, he ran across a black bear and two shots finished the animal.

C. C. Sharp, leader of the Aetna band, was in Pendleton on a brief visit today.

Members of the Alert hose company are out with a subscription paper to secure funds to assist in purchasing a new hose cart.

Claude Cooper is now breaking on a passenger run between Pendleton and Huntington. He went out for the first time last evening.

SOCIAL PERSONAL

Mrs. L. J. McAtee was very much surprised last Saturday night to find that her daughter, Miss Edna, and a friend, Mrs. D. C. Brown, had invited in about 10 guests to enjoy a surprise supper, the day being Mrs. McAtee's 32nd birthday. When Mr. and Mrs. McAtee arrived home from the store that evening, they found the table set and the guests there, with every thing in readiness for a merry surprise.

Last evening about 6 o'clock a group of the young married folk of the Presbyterian church appeared at the Parlett home on Madison street with their arms laden with goodies for a "hot luck" dinner. The affair was planned in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughart, who are visiting here from Spokane and was most informal and enjoyable. About 15 guests arrived in the party and spent the evening at the Parlett home.

Mrs. W. C. E. Pruitt, Mrs. W. W. Caviness and little Miss Mary Helen Pruitt arrived Monday evening from Portland. Mrs. Pruitt has been there for the past several weeks with her husband who was called there on business. Mrs. Caviness will be her house guest for a time.

Miss Helen Schlickelber was the successful contestant in the W. C. T. U. contest at the Baptist church last evening and was presented with a silver medal for her reading, "The Drum." The entire program was much appreciated, a particularly delightful feature being a group of musical numbers presented by some of the students of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McDonald. The list of readings gained much favorable comment for the contestants.

The return of the Pendleton women who were in Seattle last week for special instruction in Red Cross work is welcomed by the workers who have been awaiting the new suggestions they will have to offer. Mrs. F. E. King, Mrs. A. H. Cox and Miss Grace Oliver arrived home the early part of the week and Mrs. Sylvan Cohn, Mrs. George Hartman and Mrs. Charles Greulich are expected today or tomorrow.

A shipment of khaki sweater yarn arrived this morning and will be given out at a special meeting of the knitting clubs will be held tomorrow afternoon to hear a talk by Mrs. F. E. King on the new instructions and suggestions gained during her classwork last week in Seattle. The meeting is called for 2 o'clock and in addition there is to be an excellent program. All interested in knitting are cordially invited and it is hoped there will be a good attendance so that the work may continue with the arrival of new yarn.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rose returned this morning from Elgin where they went to assist with a Red Cross benefit Monday night. Mr. Rose sang several numbers and Mrs. Rose read "Madam Butterfly." She was supported by Mrs. Le Roy Stafford of Chicago as Suzuki and little Miss Ruth Lester of this city as Baby Trouble. The entertainment was a decided success and netted the Red Cross a good sum.

R. F. Vancil, well known resident of Milton, has been in the city today. H. V. Linberg went to Portland last night.

JAP IN CHARGE AT VIADIVOSTOK

This is Maj. Gen. Kenich Okohima, Japanese military attaché at Vladivostok, who is in charge of the Japanese operations for the protection of allied property at Vladivostok. That's not a white feather in his cap—that's part of his uniform.

D. W. Hawks left for Cheyenne, Wyoming yesterday.

Zeb Edwards started for Gridley, Cal., this morning. Al Brown of the O.-W. R. & N. railway, was here over night.

Frank Berlin, an Athena resident, is transacting business in Pendleton.

Attorney J. H. Raley left last night for a short business stay in Portland.

Mrs. H. Griffin of Plymouth, Wash., was an overnight visitor in Pendleton.

Ether Lang has taken a position as car clerk at the O.-W. R. & N. Depot at Elgin.

Mrs. Sadie Elder returned home to Elgin this morning after an overnight stay here.

D. L. Olmsted was an outgoing passenger yesterday, leaving for Minidoka, Idaho.

J. H. Burgess, representing the grand trunk, steamship company, spent yesterday in Pendleton.

Mrs. Myer Youdovitch of Walla Walla, was in Pendleton this morning on her way to Portland.

Tom Gurdane, ex-chief of police, is in town today from the Dan Smythe ranch, where he is foreman.

Sues for Value of Automobile.

N. P. McLean filed suit yesterday against B. J. Bridges, et al, for the sum of $375 and costs and disbursements. In his complaint, McLean alleges that the defendants took his Dodge touring car on May 19 and converted it to their own use, therefore he prays for the value of the car and costs. D. W. Bailey is attorney for the plaintiff.

Boosting for Williams.

A delegation of 10 men is down from Milton today in behalf of the candidacy of H. A. Williams for county commissioner. They assert that the only thing the East End is asking in this election is a county commissioner on the republican ticket and the West End can have all the rest. They claim that it is their year to elect a commissioner as an East Ender, H. M. Cockburn, goes out of office, in the party visiting Pendleton today are: H. M. Williams, T. C. Elliott, Grant Steen, Frank Rockburn, G. S. Cockburn, Sam Peterson, George Johnson, Dr. H. E. McQuary, William Anderson and H. M. Cockburn.

Three Men Leave Friday.

Three men who have recently enlisted in the federal service are to leave Pendleton on train No. 18 Friday. They are George Rooker, who goes to Fort Benjamin Harrison at Indianapolis, Indiana, as a railway engineer, and J. A. Chaturus and John Z. Legeros, Greeks, who have enlisted.

Woman Works 15 Hours a Day.

Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice.

Peru, Ind.—"I suffered from a displacement with backache and dragging down pains so badly that at times I could not be on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand it. I tried different medicines without any benefit and several doctors told me nothing but an operation would do me any good. My druggist told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it with the result that I am now well and strong. I got up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to a factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feel good. I don't know how many of my friends I have told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. ANNA METERIANO, 38 West 10th St., Peru, Ind.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

which is published in yesterday's Walla Walla Union. Carl Crews states that the 146th field artillery has recently moved its base in France.

Sturges Making Them Work.

In a letter from Carl Crews of Walla Walla, who is with the 146th field artillery, in France, he writes to his brother, Clarence Crews: "I suppose you know Lieut. Sturges. I believe he is going to be in charge of the radio and telephone details for the Third battalion. He certainly is pounding the new fellows on the back. He is making them study day and night—looks like we are getting up pretty quick." The Lieutenant Sturges mentioned is Lieutenant James Sturges of this city. Mr. Sturges was formerly in business here and his mother, Mrs. Lina Sturges and several other relatives reside here. In the same letter.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

At the solicitations of delegations from all the towns in the west end of the county, I have announced myself as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner on the Republican ticket, subject to the action of the voters at the Primary Election, May 17, 1918.

If nominated and elected I promise my best efforts for the whole county.
