Nazarene Meetings.

Rev. J. E. Williams, the Methodist pastor-evangelist who is preaching each evening at the Nazarene Hall, 1201 West Alta street, is a very interesting speaker. His subject for tonight is "Divine Healing." There are many no doubt who will be anxious to hear this man of God tell in his positive, direct way of what he knows and has seen of God's power to heal the body. Tonight at 7:30, Charles Maxson, pastor.

John Ogle Home from Eastern Trip.

Like a true Pendletonian, John Ogle, who arrived home in Pendleton the first of the week, flew himself more attached than ever to his home town and county. His trip extended through the eastern states, including short stays at Chicago, New York, Boston, Washington City, and many of the other large cities. This was Mr. Ogle's first visit in the eastern part of Uncle Sam's domain and it has been a most enjoyable experience for him.

Assessor Appoints Deputies.

Assessor C. P. Strain is finding it difficult to secure deputies to do the assessing in the different districts of the county. The salary allowed by law for this work, $4 per day, is not the inducement it was once. Mr. Strain, however, feels himself fortunate in securing the assistance of Rev. T. A. Graham to do the assessing in the Hermiton district; Louis Scholl at Echo, while James Laing will look after the work in the country surrounding Echo.

Red Cross Window Attractive.

There are very few passerby who are not stopping to look at the Red Cross window display at C. R. Martin has just completed at the George C. Baer and company hardware store. The principal feature is a miniature brick fort with its guns and flags, while nearby stands a tiny Red Cross ambulance belonging to Field Hospital No. 1, which is in the foreground. An airplane suspended above helps give a war-like character to the whole. The entire feature is a sort of setting for a large number of pamphlets explaining what the Red Cross dollars will do. An electric fan provides the breeze which keeps the flags waving.

Postmaster Takes Enrollments.

Registered and unregistered men between the above-mentioned ages who are desirous of enlisting may do so. Registered men must furnish a statement from their local board that they are not needed to fill the current quota of the draft, and that permission has been granted for their enlistment in the Marine. Married men must have a written consent from the wife that she consents to his enlistment.

Berkeley, Carlton Ludow, Ernie Carter, Ed Thompson, Hazel Koch, Elizabeth Blydenstein, Gwendolyn Hooker, Florida Penland and Edith Lahn. Examinations in the Old Testament were held this afternoon.

Draft Board Busy.

Today may be a holiday for some but for the Umatilla county draft board business grinds along as usual, though in the other departments of the county clerk's office there is practically nothing doing. This morning Deputy E. O. Draper was busy making out the papers for Geo. E. Rooker, of Bluff, and John Z. Legere and John A. Chastore of Meacham, who have been called for army service. The first named will report at Indianapolis, while the other two are ordered to Virginia.

Very Little Wheat.

Business among grain dealers is more than usually quiet even for this time of year. There is little wheat left in the county for shipping. H. W. Collins, one of the leading grain dealers and shippers of the city, says things are quiet with him and he does not anticipate much change until the new crop begins to move. The greatest activity at present is in the barley market, but as there is little of this grain to be had it makes a market with a demand far ahead of the supply. Speaking of the supply of wheat, Mr. Collins said his company, Pacific Grain Co., has not over 25 carloads of wheat left in the county.

WILL TRY TO TAKE BRAY FROM MULES

SALEM, Ore., May 15.—At a joint clinic of Oregon and Washington veterinarians in Portland next month experiments will be performed upon mules in an effort to discover the method known to exist, by which the animals are deprived of their ability to Bray. The operation is said to be performed successfully in the French army, adding greatly to the value of the mule for army use, but the secret has not reached this country.

The braying of mules is said some times to reveal to the enemy the location of an army. Veterinarians from Camp Lewis will attend the clinic. According to Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian of Oregon three theories are held as to the method of performing the operation. One is surgical treatment of the "false nostril," another is the severing of certain muscles in the neck and the third the severing of certain muscles in the tail.

How to Brush Teeth

BEST tooth-brushing is done very thoughtfully. It does not remove food deposits from all the surfaces of the teeth and the mouth. From three to five minutes are required to accomplish anything like a thorough cleaning of the teeth. At least this much time should be spent after meals and at night before retiring. Most decay of the teeth takes place during the night or resting hours. The toothbrush must not be too coarse and stiff, and it should not be drawn straight across the teeth. The proper method is to brush from the gum towards the cutting edge of the teeth with a slight circular motion. Avoid the use of coarse or gritty tooth-powders, and all tooth-pastes containing soap, and all mouth washes purporting to cure or prevent dental trouble. After each brushing, the mouth should be rinsed with lukewarm water. The tooth-brush should be cleaned and kept dry when not in use.
