KITTY GORDON IN 'THE PURPLE LILY' COMING

Famous Star Will Be Seen Here in a Most Striking New World-Picture: Alta Today.
Kitty Gordon, the internationally famous beauty, will soon be seen here in her striking and startling new World-Picture, "The Purple Lily." Many of the scenes in this great picture were filmed in the Adirondack mountains in the dead of winter and they are of such beauty as to linger long in the memory of everyone who sees them. The story itself is a fascinating, unusual tale which carries the enthralled spectators from the mountains to the city and back to the mountains again. Miss Gordon's role in this production is one of the very best that she has ever had. Naturally she plays it with entrancing skill and ability. "The Purple Lily" will be the big attraction today at the Alta theater.

Arcade Today.

Lawrence Percival Van Huyler was a mollycoddle. He thought he had to be. His training had been along the lines of least resistance, and highest polish. He was a Van Huyler of the Van Huylers. His father had taught him that any conduct was unbecoming in one descended from Peter Van Huyler, one of the oldest and proudest Dutch families on Manhattan Island. Then, all of a sudden he discovered that he was not a Van Huyler at all, but that he was the descendant of one Patrick John O'Malley, born in Knockamure, near Ballinabunio, County Kerry, Ireland, who had made his money through practical activities on the Spanish Main. "Furray!" cried the mollycoddle. "A pirate! An Irishman! Oh, joy! I'm Irish!" And without further ado he cleaned up three workmen, a policeman who had answered the riot call and landed himself joyously in jail. That is the motif of "Fast Company," the Bluebird Photoplay in which Franklin Farnum makes his next appearance at the Arcade theater today.

Pastime Today.

When the boy and girl grew up they married—sweethearts since childhood, their dreams were realized. A little son came to bless them and brighten their home through six happy years. The boy's grand-uncle was an old grouch—nothing less than a modern replica of Old Scrooge. He opposed his nephew's marriage and, like old Scrooge, withheld all appeals to visit the happy home. But he finally did agree, on Christmas, to come and "see the boy." What happened as a result of the old grouch's visit has been turned to gripping entertainment advantage by Bluebird Photoplays in Ella Hall's latest starring vehicle, "My Little Boy," to be presented at the Pastime theater today, with an all-star cast, including Miss Hall, Emory Johnson, Little Zoe Rae and Gretchen Lederer.

STARS WILL SHINE AS AT MIDNIGHT SATURDAY

Darkness Will Be Stygian

Those who intend to observe the eclipse should reach their points of observation well before 4 o'clock, for the darkness at its height will be Stygian with the stars burning as at night.

While the eclipse is of primary interest to astronomers, it is also of interest to meteorologists, because of the fact that all weather changes depend upon the heat received from the sun. When this heat is suddenly obstructed for a short time certain atmospheric changes take place, which, although they are slight in themselves, are sufficiently important to be carefully studied.

Professor H. H. Kimball, of the central office of the Weather Bureau at Washington, is now at Goldendale, Wash., making preparations to take observations of the amount of outgoing radiation during the brief period of the total eclipse.

Observations of Great Value. Professor Kimball has charge of the solar radiation investigations of the Weather Bureau and believes the observations made during the eclipse will be of great value in connection with the general work of radiation investigations. He will be assisted at Goldendale by George N. Salsburg, meteorologist in charge of the Weather Bureau office in Seattle.

At the Portland office of the Weather Bureau special observations are being made every half hour in the Chronic Constipation.

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.

To Prevent Belching.

Make a regular habit of eating slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, and you may have no further trouble. If you should take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

Cured of Indigestion and Constipation.

"I first took Chamberlain's Tablets about six years ago. At that time I was greatly troubled with my stomach and suffered from indigestion and constipation. Chamberlain's Tablets were the first medicine that helped me in the least. They not only afforded me quick relief, but by continuing their use for a short time I was cured of indigestion and my bowels were restored to regular action." writes Mrs. G. W. Jackson, Litchfield, Ill.

FAVOR PLAN TO PREVENT GRAIN FIELDS BURNING

Control and prevention of fires in grain fields was the matter most seriously discussed at the meeting of the Commercial Association last evening. While the matter was referred to the county affairs committee, it was the general opinion that some system for spreading fire alarms through the farming districts should be devised, and that means for fighting fires should be placed at convenient places so, in case of an alarm, volunteers could get them readily to be taken where most needed. Another recommendation is that farmers leave plows with doubletrees attached, in their field where they can be readily hitched to, so furrows to stop the spread of fire can be started.

A vote of thanks was extended to Prof. C. O. Breach, leader of the Alta orchestra for the splendid entertainment afforded at the time of the reception given the drafted boys last week. Mr. Breach would have been highly complimented could he have heard the words in his praise.

Bills to the amount of $215.41 were audited and ordered paid. The treasurer's report showed a balance in the treasury of $576.29.
