WHEATLESS, SUGARLESS CAKE

1/2 Cup Butter, or other shortening; 1 cup corn syrup, 2 eggs; 2 cups BLYDENSTEIN'S RICE PASTRY FLOUR, sifted; 3-4 cup milk, one teaspoon lemon extract.

Cream butter and corn syrup, add well beaten yolk of eggs, add sifted flour and milk alternately, add flavoring. Beat well, stir in stiffly beaten white of eggs, bake in rather hot oven.

You will find this rich enough for any one; eggs and shortening can be reduced if less richness is required.

BLYDENSTEIN'S RICE PASTRY FLOUR, self rising (contains no wheat) for all pastry work.

"SEE ME BEFORE THE FIRE"

AN EXTRA SPAN OF MULES

That is what one of our customers said in regard to the Chain-Case on the DUPLEX 4-WHEEL DRIVE TRUCK.

When you get into a soft spot, in gravel, sand, or mud, when you hit a grade that is a little too steep to pull on your regular low gear, shift the chain-case drive, and you will walk right thru.

It has all that reserve power that you get from hitching on an additional team of mules. A feature found in no other truck.

FOUR GREAT MORAL WAR AIMS STATED

Dr. Batten Discussed Them at Ministerial Meeting Yesterday.

The four great moral aims of the war, as stated by Dr. S. F. Batten of Warthmore college, who was here with Dr. Frank J. Klingens and Dr. George W. Nasmyth for the great patriotic meeting last night, at a ministerial and lay conference at the Church of the Redeemer yesterday afternoon are: 1. to win the war against autocracy; 2. to make the world safe for democracy; 3. to guarantee to all nations, small or great, safety, justice and equal economic opportunity; and 4. to establish a "scene of nations."

The last point is a new thing in human history, and was only made possible when the United States entered the war, the speaker explained. It is in order to help the whole body of American people, which is so strong and independent in opinion, understand and sympathize with the league that he and his colleagues are making talks in 200 American cities, he said.

Because public opinion is so strong and free here it is feared that America may be slower than France or England to act as a unit in this matter when the war is over.

Dr. Batten declared the morale of America, which is kept up by organizations such as the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., is more important than men, money or munitions. The latter three are supplied by government agencies, such as the army, navy, food and fuel administration, but the morale is kept up through the whole citizenry. It is a committee, termed from each of the two agen-

HE EVADED DRAFT; MARRIED IN COURT

DENVER, June 12.—Judge Hosea Wells performed a rather interesting marriage ceremony in his municipal court today and if it had not been for Mr. Hoover and his rules there would have been rice and everything.

As it was, Paul V. Okokodo, 27 years old, and Mrs. Ludwika Janiuka, same age, both Russians, joined hands, said "they would" and went to housekeeping at 1418 South Sangamon street, where Okokodo had been boarding with Mrs. Janiuka for two years.

Okokodo, who cannot speak English, was one of the men who drew the lucky number, 258, the first on the call, in the first draft last year. Then he disappeared when called by his draft board and was discovered only a few days ago by Policeman John Steib, who arrested him.

It was learned that Okokodo had been boarding with Mrs. Janiuka, who was in destitute circumstances when Okokodo found her last year. She had been a widow for several years and had two children. It was also learned that the man is an expert machinist and has saved $1800. A consultation with members of the draft board led to a decision to marry the couple and then take up the question of Okokodo's induction into the army.
