EAST OREGONIAN SPECIAL NEWS OF UMATILLA CO.

Pilot Rock Will Have Big Chautauqua July 20-23

(East Oregonian Special.)
PILOT ROCK, July 12.—At a meeting of all the Chautauqua committees Tuesday night all arrangements were made for that event which is to take place July 20, 21, 22. The auction which will net quite a sum for the Red Cross is to be held Saturday the 20th at 5 p. m. All country people who have anything to donate are asked to communicate with E. H. Caspell who has charge of the auction. It was suggested that the Chautauqua service Sunday evening be given in honor of the boys who are leaving with the next draft for service in the National Army.

An effort is being made to secure a merry-go-round for the children at that time, and a ball game is being arranged for Sunday afternoon, between a local team and an out of town team. Mr. Hob Linsner of Umatilla who has been very seriously ill is reported to be improving. Mrs. Linsner is a daughter of Mrs. O. T. Carnes.

Rev. J. Bickford was a Pine Grove visitor Tuesday.

Fred Hasall was transacting business here Tuesday.

Echo Harvest Under Way; About One Half Full Crop

THEY ALSO SERVE WHO ONLY STAND AND SALUTE

(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 12.—It may be quite an event in the young life of a private to be assigned to guard duty around the White House.

But it has its disadvantages. There's this saluting thing.

When an officer passes a soldier on guard, the private must stop in his tracks, face his superior, and bring his rifle to "present arms."

Of course that isn't hard work—just now and then.

But when officers from the neighboring war department pass almost in a steady stream, it keeps said pri-

LIQUOR SUSPECT EATS EVIDENCE

DENVER, July 12.—Arrested Monday evening on a charge of violating the prohibition law, Edward A. Ralmars, 45, ate part of the evidence against him, according to Detectives Klein and Schneider of the police bootlegging squad. The evidence in question was a marked $5 bill, which the officers alleged, had been given Ralmars in exchange for a pint of whiskey.

Klein had taken the bill from Ralmars and was examining it when Ralmars snatched it from him and stuffed it into his mouth. He didn't stop to Fletcherize, according to Klein, but swallowed it whole.

PARIS UNIVERSITY TO HONOR WILSON

PARIS, July 12.—President Wilson will be the first person to be honored with the new degree of doctor honoris causa from the University of Paris, says Le Journal. A governmental decree authorizing French universities to bestow the title of doctor honoris causa has been published in the Journal Officiel.

It was hoped, adds the newspaper, that the degree could be conferred on the Fourth of July. It was explained by Lucien Poincaré, director of public instruction, however, that the time was too short to admit of this. A suitable occasion would be found later, he announced.

HE LOSES $2,000, BUT GETS SHIP LAUNCHED

BALTIMORE, July 12.—When the $,800 ton cargo vessel Nalwa left the ways of the Baltimore Dry Docks and Shipbuilding Company on the Fourth of July, Holden A. Evans, president of the company was out of pocket $2,000.

That is the amount of a wager Mr. Evans made with his workmen that they could not have the ship in the water before July 25. He bet them two to one and the men quickly put up $1,000 against it.

The Nalwa was the first ship launched from the new yard. She was built for the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

Director General Schwab had declared that he believed it impossible to get the vessel in the water by July 25.

Weston Man Learns to Swim, When Boat Sinks

Lowell Hyatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hyatt of Weston, was a fireman on board the U. S. E. Lincoln, torpedoed 500 miles off the coast of France. His parents have just heard from him in a letter on Y. M. C. A. stationery from New York, and feel fortunate and happy that their boy is still living as he had an exceedingly narrow escape. For one thing, he found that he could swim when he had to, even though he never swam before. But let us use his own words in narrating the adventure:

"I was about twelve feet below the water line, in the coal bunker, when the torpedo struck. I was knocked down and covered with coal, and some twelve feet of water over me. How I got out is more than I can say—only that one of the boys said he saw me going down the second time and he jumped in and pulled me out.

"When word was passed for all hands to leave the ship, everyone was going over the side and swimming to a lifeboat, a raft, or anything they could find. You know I couldn't swim and I didn't know what to do, but just stood there and looked wise until the boat was about to go out of sight; then I jumped into the water and although I thought I never would come to the top I finally did, and to

Close Haircut Most Popular With Troops

(By Frank J. Taylor, United Press Staff Correspondent.)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, June 17.—(By Mail.)—Short hair-cuts are all the rage with the boys in France now. "Shorter the better," is the rule. Everywhere you see company barbers working the clippers overtime, under trees or in trenches or behind ruins, out of rifle shot.

There are three general styles in vogue. They are:

The "anti-camouflage" haircut. It involves removal of every hair on the head with close cutting clippers. It "sure ruins the cooties," for no "cootie" will stand out in the open and fight the way the doughboys do.

This haircut exposes what a man has in the way of a dome.

Then there's "strong point" haircut. The company barber runs the light and palatable breads.

close cutting clippers over the top of your head. It makes a man look like a Japanese prize, when the hat is off, but the boys say, "There's no girl around to see you, anyway, so why care about looks?"

Last, there is a sort of "rah rah" type of haircut, clipping the hair short around the edges and leaving it long on top. Fellows who sport this haircut are a little looked upon by the rest. "They're not regular soldiers yet," explained one chap with a head as clean as a billiard ball.

BOYS AND GIRLS' BREAD CLUBS SAVE WHEAT

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Quick breads are being featured as war service by leaders of boys' and girls' club work in the North and West. More than 12,000 children registered in the bread clubs under these extension workers are learning how to make wheat and at the same time make out. The company barber runs the light and palatable breads.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment
Healed and Now Her

"Our baby had skin trouble that broke out all over her head, and then on her face and body. It commenced in red spots that developed into white-headed pimples. These itched and burned so that she could not sleep, and I had to sit up at night and rub her. She had scarcely any hair."

"Then I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They were so beneficial that I bought Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and before they were gone, she was healed. She has a thick head of hair now, and her skin is in fine shape." (Signed) Mrs. Bessie Dunnagan, Arlington, Colorado, July 28, 1917.
