OBJECTORS ARE TO BE PROBED AGAIN

CAMP LEWIS, July 16.—Conscientious objectors here, most of whom are on duty in the base hospital, will be examined in the next few days by a board composed of Judge Julian W. Mack, Dr. H. F. Stone and Major Ralph C. Stoddard. The board, appointed by the president under the provisions of the selective service act, began its sessions yesterday in the various barracks buildings in camp. All the men are examined regarding their religious convictions but one declared this morning he had no religious convictions, but was opposed to killing on general principles. He had previously served four years in the navy, he said, but asserted it as his belief that a man has a right to change his mind in that time. "Suppose that Germany would take a part of this country. What would you do?" he was asked. "I don't know that Germany would do it," he replied. "What about blowing up our ships and the U-boats on our coast?" "Do you read the papers?" "Yes, but you can't believe everything you read." "Well, stay in the army," said the examiner, "and you will find out these things are true."

Late conversions to credits, where the taking of human life is opposed, was quite common, some of the men having changed their religion as late as January, 1917. Others became possessed of their first religious convictions when they found they were to be drafted.

Some of the men said that they would serve in noncombatant units, but that they would refuse to do duty in organizations where killing was one of the duties.

Under the late instructions governing the disposition of the men the board has the authority to have them furloughed to farms without governmental pay, the men agreeing to work for the same wages which they would receive were they to remain on active duty with the army.

Those who are found not to be worthy of consideration as conscientious objects will be assigned to combatant units and a further refusal to fight will result in their court-martial for insubordination.

Butcher Cattle a Shade Weaker at North Portland

PORTLAND, July 16.—It was a big run that greeted the livestock trade at the opening of the week's activities at North Portland. Total run included 107 cars.

Run of cattle was exceptionally heavy, and in this line the only weakness for the day was noted at the start of the trading. Cattle buying started extremely slow with buyers inclined to sit rather than light on the price bid. Opinions differed somewhat regarding the actual worth of offerings. Fancy killers were not really weak, but the depression was noted most in the butcher class of offerings.

General cattle market ranges:

Prime steers	$11.00@12.00
Good to choice steers	11.00@12.00
Medium to good steers	9.00@10.00
Fair to medium steers	8.00@9.00
Common to fair steers	5.00@6.00
Choice cows and heifers	8.00@9.00
Medium to good cows and heifers	6.00@7.50
Fair to medium cows and heifers	4.50@5.50
Canners	3.00@4.50
Bulls	6.00@8.00
Calfes	8.00@11.50
Stockers and feeders	7.00@8.00

Swine Market is Steady.

Steady tone was generally shown for swine at the opening of the week's trade at North Portland. The run was only fair and showed a rather good call right from the start with well maintained prices.

Tone of the hog trade in the east was steady to strong for the day.

General hog range:

Prime mixed	$17.00@17.50
Medium mixed	16.75@17.25
Rough heavies	16.00@16.50
Pigs	15.25@15.75

Sheep Situation Favorable.

Quite a fair run of sheep and lambs was shown in the yards for the day, although there was on general change in sentiment or price at the opening of the week's activities. Run was smaller than last week and this indicated some earlier buying.

General mutton range:

East of mountain lambs	$13.50@14.00
Valley lambs	13.00@13.50
Yearlings	9.00@10.00
Wethers	8.00@9.00
Ewes	11.50@12.50

General Pershing Wants Better Mail Facilities

WASHINGTON, July 15.—General Pershing himself has been appealed to by Secretary of War Baker to obtain better mail services for American soldiers in France.

A letter from Baker to the senate, in reply to a resolution regarding delivery of mail to the expeditionary forces, enclosed a copy of a cable sent Pershing asking for suggestions regarding betterment of the service. No reply has been received.

Baker explained that there has been steady cooperation between the war and postal departments. Transports are being used in addition to the liners in conveying mail, he states. The distribution of mail in France, he adds, is now being handled by the war department. Difficulties of the task have been enormous, Baker stated, many of which are due to the constant shifting of men on the other side.

Oregon Asked for 5000-Ton Ship. PORTLAND, Ore., July 16.—Wooden shipbuilders of the Oregon district are to design a 5000-ton wooden steamer, a distinctive Columbia River type, intended for construction at government yards on the Pacific coast. Authority to go ahead with the plans and specifications was given yesterday by Charles M. Rates Divert Traffic. PORTLAND, Ore., July 16.—The new increased freight rates which became effective June 25, are diverting shipment from freight to express at a rate that has swamped the Portland express companies. Shippers were quick to note the advantages in moving their goods, especially small packages to nearby points, by express instead of freight and the resulting congestion was such that the American Railway Express company, during a portion of last week, was obliged to discontinue many shipments by refusal of telephone orders to call for packages. The overload of congested traffic has been cleared up, however, officials state, and conditions are again normal.

Figures Asked to Fix Tax Rate. SALEM, Ore., July 16.—The State Tax Commission today ordered Secretary Goodin, of the Board of Control, and Tax Commissioner Galloway to secure estimates from all state institutions and departments as to the probable cost of operation for the next biennium to determine how much of an increased levy should be placed before the people at the general election in November. The commission will meet again on August 15 to consider the estimates, most of which will be in by then. It is also the plan of the commission to hold hearings from time to time for organizations that may have suggestions to make relative to the necessities of state expenditures.

One Brother Must Go. YAKIMA, Wash., July 16.—Frank Stockton's query, "The Lady or the Tiger?" is recalled by the case of two brothers, Walter and George Johnson, before the draft board in Benth county. They own, jointly, 50 acres. George has a wife and Walter is single, but minus a finger. The Benton county draft board thinks one of them should be a smelter, but wants the other to work the farm.

Two New Fires Break Out. ALBANY, Ore., July 16.—Two new forest fires started in the Santiam National forest today, both of them being south and east of Cascade. One is in Township 11 South, Range 2.

Rains Check Idaho Fires. SPOKANE, July 16.—Heavy rains have checked all but one big forest fire in Northern Idaho, according to reports today to the branch office here of the United States Forest Service.

McAdoo in San Francisco. SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—Proposed concentration of freight traffic on railroad lines having the easiest grades is one of the principal items of discussion between William G. McAdoo, Federal Director of Railroads, and railroad chiefs here today. Other conferences are to follow.

Divisions Are Desired. CHEHALIS, Wash., July 16.—The Citizens' Club of Chehalis, has filed with the Washington Public Service Commission a complaint intended to secure an order allowing division on the Cowitz, Chehalis & Cascade Railway, which operates out of this city to Eacamas, 18 miles southeast of here.

NEW OFFICERS CAMP WILL BE CONTINUOUS

WASHINGTON, July 15.—A limited number of civilians will again be given a chance for commissions as officers' training camps in the infantry, field artillery and machine gun services. The camps will be five in number and will run continuously, new classes being admitted each month.

The infantry officers' reserve camp will be conducted at Camp Lee, near Petersburg, Va.; Camp Gordon, near Atlanta, Ga.; and Camp Pike, near Little Rock, Ark. Camp Taylor, near Louisville, Ky., has been chosen for the field artillery training and Camp Hancock, near Augusta, Ga., for the machine gun men.

Most of the candidates will be drawn from the enlisted men of the army, excluding only the coast artillery, signal corps and labor units. Eligibles, whether civilians or soldiers, must be between the ages of 20 years and 40 months and 40 years, must be citizens of the United States and not natives of Germany or its allies.

Civilians must have a high school or equivalent education and possess the required physical and moral standards, with extra educational requirements for the field artillery. Applications should not be made to the war department, but to the nearest army officer of duty as professor of military science at an educational institution. This officer will supply the blanks and information as to how to proceed.

After the candidate has qualified under examination prescribed his name will go forward to the commanding officer at the training school who will notify qualified candidates to appear from time to time as they are needed. As preference will constantly be given to enlisted men, it selected will be small, but those appointed will be apportioned to different parts of the country.

PACIFIC AND HOME WIRE COMPANIES MAY BE MERGED

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Oswald West, receiver for the Home Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Portland, Ore., today presented to the department of justice an application for power to merge the Home company with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

In view of the fact that congress has empowered the president to operate the telephone and telegraph lines and since it is the policy of the administration to do so, with extensive duplication in telephone systems, it is believed the application will be granted, unless the systems are taken over by the government before the merger can be effected.

Automatic System Patented.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 15.—Be-

brother of Walla Walla Man is Taken Captive

WALLA WALLA, July 15.—A. B. A. Hughes, reservation ward, that his brother, Major N. A. A. Hughes, of the Royal Army Medical corps of the British army was taken prisoner on the 27th of May, during the big German offensive. Major Hughes was in charge of a front line emergency hospital which was caught in the German advance. The entire hospital corps to which he was attached was captured with the exception of the colonel.

Major Hughes has been with the British army for three years. His term of enlistment had just expired and he had re-enlisted about three days before he was taken prisoner. It is not believed by his brother that he will suffer greatly as a prisoner. Being a medical man, he will probably be attached to some hospital, where he will receive better treatment than most prisoners in German hands. Mr. Hughes stated that every one of his nine living relatives is in some form of active service.
